Lower Edison Light Rates Become Effective For Newton Users Benefit

President Comerford Issues Statement Explaining Changes In Various Rate Schedules

Boston Edison Company filed at the State House on September 13, to go into effect October 1, a new set of rate schedules which will mean lower costs of electricity for about 130,000 customers. It is estimated that the reductions will amount to approximately $750,000 a year.

These new schedules were developed as a result of a series of conferences between Edison officials and representatives of the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities, which began some months ago. During this time technical experts representing the Company and the Commission held many meetings, and new schedules were devised on the basis of benefiting the largest number of customers.

The various changes in existing schedules were explained by President Frank D. Comerford in a letter to the Department of Public Utilities, which we quote below:

"Department of Public Utilities, State House, Boston, Mass.

Dear Sirs: "In accordance with the statement made to you in July, and after conferences with members of your commission and staff, Boston Edison Company is today filing with your Department a revised Schedule of Rates (M. D. P. U. No. 45) to become effective October 1, 1940. We estimate that the revisions will result in savings of approximately $750,000 a year to about 130,000 customers.

"The principal changes may be summarized as follows:

"1. In Residence Rate B we are making two revisions which will benefit 123,000 of the 340,000 customers served under this rate. The second block in this rate is reduced from 70 to 60 kilowatt hours. The area provision, which now applies in residences where floor space exceeds 1000 square feet, will hereafter apply only where the area exceeds 1500 square feet. We regard this as a step toward the eventual elimination of the area provision.

"2. In the retail commercial General Rate A, we are making a change which will benefit approximately 5,700 of the 55,000 commercial customers served under this rate. For the present 5-block rate there is substituted a 3-block rate which simplifies the form and will be of particular advantage to customers making long-hour use of their lighting and power equipment.

"3. In the General wholesale Rate D-1, a combination of price changes with a revision in the method of determining the billing demand will result in lower annual bills, encourage seasonal loads and simplify the rate schedules. Approximately 300 customers, one-third of all of our wholesale customers, are served under this rate.

"Minor changes have been made in some of the rates in the direction of simplicity and uniformity. In the rates not now affected by changes in the cost of coal, there is introduced a new Coal Charge which will be effective only in the event of substantial increases in fuel costs.

Very truly yours,

(Signed)
FRANK D. COMERFORD, President."

In making Mr. Comerford's letter public, the Department of Public Utilities added these comments:

"The reductions embodied in the company's new schedules were effected as the result of conferences between the Department and representatives of the Edison Company over a period of about five months. During this time the rate engineers and accounting divisions of the Department conducted a study, including an analysis of some 400,000 customers' bills.

"Certain revisions in estimates were also required by the fluctuating costs of labor and material due to the influence of the European war.

"In accepting this reduction of $750,000 per annum, based upon the sales to Edison customers for 1939, the Department is aware that the actual savings to consumers will undoubtedly be somewhat larger due to the increased output of the company, so that they may approach a total of $800,000 for 1941.

"The Department is satisfied that under the present circumstances and economic conditions such a reduction arrived at without the expenditure of an additional dollar of its appropriation for purposes of investigation and without the necessity for a long involved rate case, the large expense of which would eventually fall upon the customer, will effectively benefit both the community and the company."

Stores To Open October 12, P. M.

Because the State Law compels retail stores to close until 1 p.m. on Columbus Day and Armistice Day, and because Columbus Day this year falls on a Saturday, retail stores in the Newtons will open at 1 o'clock on October 12. As Armistice Day this year falls on a Monday, retail stores in Newton will close all day on November 11.

The Newton Chamber of Commerce urges all Newton residents to buy New England products on New England Days between Oct. 17 and 28. By so doing they will help New England prosperity, which includes Newton. Buy New England products and help stabilize employment and payrolls in this area.

Election Officers Serve At Draft

Three hundred election officers of Newton will serve at polling places in this city on October 16 to register all male residents of Newton between the ages of 21 and 35, in connection with the selective draft for military purposes. On the estimate that 15 per cent of the population come within the number liable to draft, there are over 10,000 young men in Newton who must register. The polling places will be open for registration from 7 a. m. until 7 p. m. on October 16.

Mayor Urges Voters To Register Early

It so happens that Registration Day for National Selective Service and the last day for registration of voters for the November elections fall on the same date, Wednesday, October 16th. Although it will be possible to register as a voter on October 16th, I strongly urge every citizen who plans to so register to do so previous to that date in order that the burden upon our officials may be lightened on October 16th. It is a patriotic duty to register and exercise the privilege of voting. Citizens are respectfully urged to register before October 16th if it is possible for them to do so.

Paul M. Goddard, Mayor.

Newton Red Cross Announces Class In First Aid

A Class in First Aid is announced by the Newton Chapter of Red Cross, to include ten lessons of two hours each, with Miss H. Margaret Norcross, authorized Chapter Instructor, in charge. Tentative plans are under way for the class to begin Friday, Oct. 11, and to meet at 9:30 a. m. at the Newtonville Branch Library. Those who have applied already to enter such a Class will be notified when details are complete, and others may apply and will receive further information as to final arrangements, at Chapter Headquarters, 12 Austin st., Newtonville, telephone Newton North 2717.

This opportunity should be welcomed by many residents of Newton and vicinity as it offers vital information of priceless value. The standard technique which is taught in all First Aid Classes by certified Red Cross Instructors has been sought eagerly by more and more people during the past year. Certificates are issued by the National Organization upon completion of the course, if standard requirements are fulfilled. Instruction is designed for many groups, for adults in the home, for public officers, such as police and firemen, and for employees in mills, factories and stores. Since the general use of the automobile, knowledge of first aid has become more and more a vital factor in the saving of life, and in the averting of tragedy and sorrow to many homes. Accidents in the home, too, are by no means the least to be considered and guarded against. Knowledge of First Aid does more than teach how to repair damage; also, it teaches how to prevent accident, which is even more worthwhile.

Stop All Hunting In the Newtons

No more can pheasants and other game be hunted within the confines of Newton. Last Saturday Chief of Police Hughes issued an order instructing Newton policemen to stop any person evidently hunting in this city. The chief stated that even though an owner of property in Newton had permitted hunting on his land, there are now no estates in this city so large that a bullet fired on them will not be liable to travel onto some adjoining property. So, unless a hunter had obtained permission from owners of various adjoining properties, he would be liable to prosecution.

The reason for Chief Hughes' action is—that the last area of this city where hunting has been conducted in recent years to any extent, Oak Hill, has been so developed for residential purposes, that shooting became dangerous to human life there, and last year residents of Oak Hill petitioned the Board of Aldermen that an ordinance be passed prohibiting all hunting in Newton.

New Transmitter For Police Radio

An auxiliary transmitter for the Newton police radio system has been installed at police headquarters at West Newton by Walter Hartford, radio operator of the Newton police department at a cost of $495. The need for such an emergency transmitter was evidenced after the hurricane in September 1938, when the regular transmitter at police headquarters was out of commission for several hours when the Edison current was not available. The new machine is of 500 watt power.

The object of a widespread search, since her disappearance on Tuesday afternoon, her body was found Thursday morning in the family car in a remote section of Weston. As she had not been in the best of health for some months fear had been expressed for her safety when her husband reported her failure to return from a shopping tour Tuesday evening.

Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Beverly, aged 12, and Dorothy aged 4, her mother, Mrs. Jessie Kyle of Waterville, Me., a sister, Mrs. Gordon Swan of Milton, and two brothers, Fred of Bangor, Maine, and Harry Kyle of Manchester, N. H.

Dalton Wins With Perfect Score

Patrolman Dave Dalton of the Newton police added more laurels to the many he has won at the annual tournament of the North Atlantic States Police League at Hartford last week. In the timed-fire contest he had a perfect score of 200, winning first prize, which was a .22 calibre automatic pistol. In this contest 141 men participated. Dalton also won second prize in the contest where pistols of .38 and larger calibre were used. In this match he scored 282. In the team contest, Newton placed fourth; New York No. 1 team was 1st; New York No. 2 team, 2nd; Mass. State Police, 3rd. The scores of the Newton team were—Dalton, 282; Smith, 258; McGrath, 256; Gagnon, 255; Lovely, 214.

Many Pay Overdue Taxes To City

The last day for the payment of delinquent 1939 taxes to the City of Newton was Tuesday, October 1. Of 927 parcels of property advertised on September 13 for non-payment of 1939 taxes, owners of 352 paid the overdue taxes in the interim. This leaves 542 parcels to which titles will be taken by the city as compared with 742 last year. As the city will not record titles to these properties with the Registry of Deeds until 60 days have passed, owners will have that time to pay the taxes owed. If the taxes are not paid, the city will take title. Then the owners will have two years to recover their properties by paying interest and fixed charges.

160 Added To Newton WPA List

Last Friday 29 men were added to the number employed on WPA projects in this city. They were assigned to curbing and sidewalk projects at West Newton and Auburndale. On Monday 21 more men were restored to the lists, and on Wednesday 110. Before these increases, the total on WPA projects in Newton was 276. The increases bring the total to 486. Most of those put to work on Monday and Wednesday were assigned to projects on Metropolitan District reservations in this city and vicinity. It is expected that work on the parking space at West Newton will be started within a couple of weeks.

Freelan O. Stanley, Inventor Of Steam Automobile, Dies

Well Known Newton Citizen Was 91—Had Long and Active Career With Numerous Inventions

Freelan O. Stanley, world-renowned inventor and one of Newton's oldest and best known citizens, died Wednesday evening at his home, 337 Waverley ave. He was 91 years of age.

Mr. Stanley had spent the summer in Colorado and had returned home just ten days before his death. He was the last survivor of a family of six brothers and sisters and he leaves four nephews and four nieces. Mrs. Stanley died about a year ago.

Mr. Stanley, with his twin brother, Francis, gained international fame when he invented the Stanley steamer, a forerunner of the modern automobile. The famous steam car was undertaken by the brothers in 1896 after they had seen an electric and steam creation at the Brockton Fair. At that time, they intended only to make one for themselves, but when they found they were selling the cars as fast as they could be built, they decided to enter mass production.

In 1898 they sold their interests to a New York group for $250,000, and proved their business ability by buying the rights back the next year for only $20,000. Until they sold out again in 1917, they made more than 10,000 steamers.

The steamer was not the only product of the creative twins. In 1883, they invented the Stanley dry plate, considered revolutionary in photography at that time. Their plant was moved in 1890 from Lewiston, Maine, to Watertown, where they conducted the business until January, 1904, when they sold out to the Eastman Kodak Company.

Mr. Stanley was born in Kingfield, Maine, June 1, 1849, and was graduated from Hebron Academy and Farmington Normal School. Later he attended Bowdoin College, but when his class was suspended for refusing to buy drill uniforms, he failed to return and taught school in Maine and Pennsylvania.

He first entered business as a young man when he began mass production of school mechanical drawing kits with a factory at Mechanic Falls, Me. His factory burned down a year later, however, and, having no insurance, he joined his brother at Lewiston, Me., where they invented the dry plate and formed the Stanley Dry Plate Company.

A year before they sold out their interests in the Stanley steamer, they invented a railway car with a steam engine slung underneath and formed the Unit Railway Car Company. It was while motoring from Maine to New Hampshire in connection with the sale of one of these cars in 1918, that Francis was killed.

Mr. Stanley maintained an active interest in Hebron Academy, which he ad presented with a gymnasium, hockey rink and dormitory. At the time of his death, he was a member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Tuesday Evening Club, a Newton literary organization, and the Hunnewell Club of Newton.

Mr. Stanley gave a great deal toward the development of Estes Park, Colorado, where he went for his health in 1903. He built the Stanley Hotel there and also was one of a group who promoted the installation of a water supply and electric light plant.

Funeral services and interment will be at Kingfield, Maine, on Saturday.

Eugene Fanning Dies in 99th Year

Eugene Fanning, of 71 High st., Newton Upper Falls, died on Thursday, October 3rd. Mr. Fanning, who was in his 99th year, was born in Connecticut, March 17, 1842. He came to Newton when about ten years of age and had since resided in Newton Upper Falls.

Mr. Fanning had been actively engaged in the printing business at Newton Upper Falls until about June 1st of this year. He was superintendent for many years of the Sunday School of the Newton Upper Falls Baptist Church and was one of the vice-presidents of the Newton Savings Bank.

He is survived a brother, Frank Fanning, of 6 Summer st., Newton Upper Falls and a niece, Miss Emily Fanning, of High st., Newton Upper Falls.

Funeral services will be held at the Newton Cemetery Chapel, Saturday, October 5th, at 2 p. m., Rev. H. A. Schlink of the Newton Upper Falls Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Newton Cemetery.

AN OUTSTANDING CITIZEN

In the passing of Freelan O. Stanley, Newton has lost an outstanding citizen. Called to the Great Beyond at the age of 91 the venerable inventor lived a most useful life. With his twin brother he gained international fame as the inventor of the Stanley Steamer, forerunner of the modern automobile. The steamer was not the only product of the creative minds of the brothers, both of whom were Newton citizens, as they broadened their sphere of influence in this world.

Freelan O. Stanley was a humanitarian in the full sense of the word. He often sensed the needs of individuals and the community. A graduate of Hebron Academy he always maintained an interest in the education and development of youth, presenting the school with several buildings. He spent much of his time in Colorado and was responsible for the development of Estes Park, famed health resort.

His sympathetic smile, his kindly voice, and his stately bearing, familiar to all who knew his character, will be missed.

Newton H. S.

The "Orange Book", Newton High's handbook, has had an unusually high sales record. More than 700 copies were sold in September. Donald Van-Rosen, editor-in-chief, and Donald Holmes, business manager, have done excellent work under the supervision of Miss Caroline M. Doonan, adviser. The first senior assembly of the year was held on Wednesday. Plans were made for the Senior Play, an annual fall production coached by Miss Irene Haworth. President Robert Beatty conducted the class meeting.

Registration of this autumn reveals that new pupils have come to Newton High from Texas, Oregon and California, and from England, China, Japan, Syria and the Philippine Islands.

The Reverend Dr. John Nicoll Mark, of Arlington, gave an inspiring address at the first assembly of the sophomore class. His subject was "Make Life a Masterpiece."

Cheer leaders for this year are Robert Nevins, Glenwood MacDonald, Robert MacPherson, Edward Ebel and Herbert Rosenberg. Class X has its first party in the gymnasium last Friday afternoon. It was considered a great success. Coach McDowell, Captain Bob Beatty, Mr. Green and the sophomore class adviser, Miss Riley, spoke briefly to the gathering. Following the speakers Mr. Clark introduced the performers who were acclaimed unusually good by all spectators. The performers were Joseph DiDuca, playing the accordion; Ruth Stern, playing an electric Hawaiian guitar; George Wein and William DeStefano playing a duet on the piano and cornet; Shirley Greenwood, singing, and Paul VonLoesch, playing the trombone. Refreshments and dancing completed a delightful afternoon. The music was furnished by Norman Hale who played the latest popular recordings on his amplifier.

"The Newtonite", weekly newspaper of the high school, made its initial appearance for this year on Wednesday. William Thompson is acting editor-in-chief.

The sales campaign for the Students Activity Ticket is making good progress under the direction of Mr. Carl Swan and the home room managers. These have room managers, who have done such an excellent job on their first and most important assignment are as follows: Sophomore managers, Harvey Allerton, Leo Barthold, Barbara Brickett, Janice Capon, Mary Colligan, Edward Concanon, Joan DeCamp, Carol Durkee, Glenna Eldridge, Richard Guild, Roberta Green, William Hosley, Janet Hockridge, Portia Jackson, Marcia Jones, Barbara Ladoo, Dorothy Lovell, Robert Penny, Jean Oliver, Louise Pelton, Robert Stackhouse, Douglas Teschner, Robert White, and Janet Zeigler; Junior managers, James Barrie, Ted Boulter, Alice Birmingham, Jeanne Caswell, Dorothy Chase, Robert Davidson, Cooper Eastman, Barbara Fluker, Constance Gager, David Hastie, Veronica Hannon, David Hunting, Marjorie Lilligard, Anne Mayer, Betty McKeene, Martha Miller, Robert Monroe, Natalie Needham, Robinson Elliot, Helene Shannon, Robert Shaw, Thomas Sylvester, Giles

Bigelow Junior H. S.

At the beginning of the fall term, Bigelow Junior High School enrolled 418 students—220 boys and 198 girls. New pupils have come from Wintrop, Waltham, Brighton, Brookline, Arlington, Brookfield, Connecticut and New Jersey. One pupil entered from the public schools of Aberdeen, Scotland.

Miss Mildred A. Bourdon has been transferred from the Mason School, Newton Centre, to the Bigelow, where she will teach 7th grade English and have charge of Guidance for 7th grade girls. She is taking the place of Miss Ida Scheib, who was transferred from Bigelow to Warren Junior High.

At Bigelow's first assembly of the year, Joseph Schneider introduced the Newton WPA orchestra with Murray Hochberg conducting. The concert was a presentation of the Massachusetts WPA Music Project, sponsored by the Department of Education.

At the second assembly, Gladys Rand introduced Rev. Samuel Lindsey of the Brookline Baptist Church, who gave an interesting talk to the pupils on International Affairs. Dorothy Altieri and Rhoda Dorsey played for marching.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Newton Graphic

Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir:

May I pay a brief, but none the less sincere, tribute to one of the finest citizens I have ever known, Mr. Charles Gordon of Newton Centre, whose untimely passing has shocked a wide circle of friends here and elsewhere. It was my privilege to know him in a number of different ways, but chiefly as a staunch friend and wise counselor. He was a rare man, combining strength of character, high ideals and an unusual warmth and mellowness which endeared him to all who knew him. Over a period of more than thirty years, I have never left his presence without feeling stronger and uplifted. His tremendous loyalty was a striking characteristic, covering as it did his family, his countless friends, his business and the community in which he lived such a rich and useful life. Newton can ill afford to spare Charles B. Gordon.

Sincerely yours,
P. W. C.

Powers' Paragraphs

Elliott Roosevelt has got himself a commission in the air corps. General Hugh Johnson has razed Elliott for this alleged procurement of a safe military assignment, stating that he understands Elliott's air service will be on the ground. Possibly the reason young Mr. Roosevelt selected the air corps in which to obtain a commission is—because he has had considerable experience the past couple of years in broadcasting hot air over the radio.

Several years ago a movement was started in Newton to have a minimum size restriction placed on house lots in this city. The reason for this was—that more and more of the old estates in the Newtons were being sold and divided into lots so small that nearby properties were depreciated in value, and the future of this city seemed to be dubious from the standpoint of an outstanding residential community. Although numerous requests were made to the Board of Aldermen to take some measure to establish a minimum lot size that body did not do so, referring the question to a committee of citizens which had been appointed to revise the building code of Newton.

Early this year recommendations for the division of Newton into zones of various residential sections, with house lots of specified minimum sizes and set-backs were received and accepted by the Planning Board after serious consideration. Public hearings were held by the Board of Aldermen. Months have passed, but the Aldermen have taken no action. Some folks believe they haven't gathered sufficient moral courage to do so. In the meantime, real estate promoters, many of whom are not residents of Newton, are building more and more cheap houses on small lots in this city. And many of these houses are of inferior construction. Some have no cellars under them. Others have cellars of cement blocks, a type of construction forbidden in some nearby cities and towns, and formerly forbidden in Newton until a former Building Commissioner had the local code changed to permit it. We recently have seen a number of small houses erected on filled-in land in various parts of the city, and we can't help but wonder why these houses. They will have to settle later—both the houses and their owners. Possibly the present Board of Aldermen will take action this year to prevent further undesirable exploitation of Newton by persons who care little or nothing for the city's future, and who build inferior houses on undersized lots. But, if the Aldermen intend doing anything this year, they have not much time left.

Our old friend Irving Comey of Oak Hill, Newton, passed from this life on September 28. He had been a resident of Newton for 62 years, coming here with his family when a boy. In his youth he was an excellent baseball player and in the 80's played for several years on the famous Newton Baseball Team. About a half century ago, Mr. Comey started breeding St. Bernard dogs and for many years his big canine pets won many prizes at dog shows in Boston, New York and elsewhere. He was one of the most skillful photographers in Boston, and was responsible for training many youths in this occupation.

Another old and widely known resident of Newton who passed on this week was Freelan O. Stanley of Waverley ave., who died on October 2 at the age of 91 after a long and useful life. Born in 1849 in a then remote section of Maine, he and his twin brother, Francis Stanley won fame and wealth by inventions in widely separated fields. These came to boys, alike as identical twins, could be, and inseparable until the tragic death of F. E. Stanley parted them, first came into prominence nearly 70 years ago when they invented photographic dry-plate. A half century ago they moved their dry-plate business from Maine to a factory in Watertown, near the Newton line, and thus gave employment to a number of Newton residents. Several years later the Stanley twins invented a steam carriage which was the most efficient "horseless carriage" for a decade or more, and was much superior to the crude gasoline motor-cars of the late 90s and early years of this century. The Stanley Steam Carriage industry gave employment to hundreds of Newton men and youths for a score of years. So, the genius of Mr. Stanley and his brother was of great benefit to the city of their adoption, Newton.

Street Department trucks collected the rubbish and ashes in our section of the city on schedule yesterday. Several times in recent months rubbish barrels in much of Ward 1, north of the railroad tracks, and in a smaller part of Ward 7, were not collected until Friday, when they should have been collected on Thursday. Barrels and boxes placed on sidewalks on a Wednesday night would remain on the sidewalks two nights, in violation of city ordinances, and most of two days. This was a new experience for Newton residents. As a resident of Newton who can remember how this city has been conducted the past half century, it was new to us. We had inquired into this matter a few months ago, supposing at that time that the innovation of collecting rubbish only once in two weeks during July and August might have been responsible. But, when the same thing happened last month in Labor Day week, we protested to the Street Commissioner and the Mayor. The Street Commissioner was candid. He said that he realized the collections of rubbish in the area affected had not been according to schedule, and that if the delay continued during September, steps would be taken to correct it. Apparently such steps were taken, as the rubbish was collected on time (in our neighborhood, anyway) yesterday.

Several factors contributed to the delay in the collection of the ashes and rubbish in Ward 1, and a small portion of Ward 7. The first reason was—that in July, 1939, a change was made whereby instead of collecting ashes and rubbish in Ward 7 on Thursdays and in Ward 1 on Saturdays, both wards were collected on Thursdays. This change, to be sure, effected an economy, but it caused rubbish in parts of Ward 1 to be collected afternoons instead of mornings as before, and several times the past year the rubbish and ashes were not collected in sections of Ward 1 until Fridays. When rubbish barrels are on sidewalks for two nights and most of two days, it is not uncommon for boys to scatter the contents of the barrels in addition, the sight of the waste barrels on sidewalks for two days or nights is not pleasant.

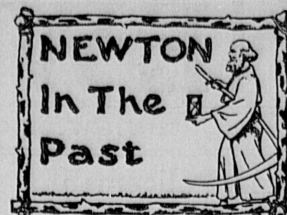

Another factor which seriously affects the collection of ashes and rubbish in Newton is—that for the past 10 years or so, many employees of the Street Department have been retired on pensions and have not been replaced by other men. This has resulted in the average age of employees of this department increasing, and older men having been assigned to the arduous work of lifting heavy barrels of ashes and rubbish from the ground over the high sides of the trucks which are used to collect the waste. And a number of these men received back injuries and ruptures because some inconsiderate residents of the Newtons used too large barrels for ashes or rubbish, and these heavily loaded containers put undue strains on the men employed on the rubbish trucks. So, if Newton wants to continue the kind of service it has always been accustomed to insofar as collection of ashes and rubbish is concerned, if two Wards are to be serviced on the same day, a sufficient number of trucks and men must be used to accomplish this task, or they must be worked overtime. And some young men must be given employment in the Street Department. Newton citizens want economy, but they don't want it at the sacrifice of that kind of public service to which Newton has always been accustomed since it became a city nearly 70 years ago.

A couple of days ago we read in Boston newspapers that the Civil Aeronautics Administration had announced that it will spend $10,591,048 for 36 airports in New England as part of the national defense system, and that $268,000 had been allocated for an airport in Newton. This was interesting news to us, because we wondered where in Newton there is a level area large enough for an airport, and far enough from residences so that such airport would not raise havoc with the peace and comfort of people residing in that part of our city. So, we made some inquiries, calling up the State House, East Boston airport and other places. We were informed that a certain Oak Hill resident has been active in the proposal to locate an airport in the confines of this city, and that the Sahara region in Oak Hill, a large area denuded of loam and gravel in recent years by the operator of a sand and gravel industry, has been mentioned as the site of the Newton airport. We also were informed that Oak Hill residents have learned of this plan, and are not enthused over it.

A year or more ago an attempt was made to have the Newton Board of Aldermen grant a permit for the use of part of the gravel pit area at Oak Hill, near the West Roxbury line, as an addition to St. Joseph's Cemetery. Strong protests were made by Oak Hill residents, the Newton Board of Health decided adversely against the use of this land for cemetery purposes, and the Aldermen turned the petition down. There was one good argument offered in favor of granting the petition. Catholic residents of Newton have never had the privilege (or right) of having a burial place within the limits of this city. For generations they have been interred mostly in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham; Holyhood Cemetery, Brookline; Saint Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury; or St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham. It would seem that those of them who were born and lived most of their lives in Newton, ought to have the right to be interred in their native city when they die. We have the belief that residents of Oak Hill would prefer the quiet and peacefulness of a cemetery to the noise and danger which an airport brings. We doubt if there would be any "banshees" frequenting the cemetery, and even though they would be a few, their walls would be far less disturbing than the terrific noise from the motors of airplanes. The Oak Hill gravel pits certainly have been a constant source of disturbance to residents of that section.

The Boston Ideal "Uncle Tom's Cabin Company" will perform Saturday afternoon and evening, September 19 at Eliot Hall. We have the best of reasons for assuring our readers that this is a very superior company. Seldom is the opportunity offered nowadays to witness this ever popular play well performed. Miss Daisy Markoe as "Topsy," and the Alabama students have no superiors in their special lines.

Doubtless the School Committee were animated by a genuine desire to conserve the highest good to the high school scholars when they selected the principal of that school to the censorship of the High School Review. While giving the committee all credit for a conscientious desire to do their duty as they see it, we still believe that they committed a serious error in placing this humiliating restriction on the scholars' journal. This restriction, we fear, will tend to crush out the manliness and vigor of the publication; to reduce it to meaningless platitudes, destitute of point or pith.

On Monday Jennison's express team horses ran away at Newtonville and collided with Dr. Crockett's buggy on Washington st., injuring the arm of the doctor's wife.

Mr. Hicks is or was, until the church expelled him, one of the deacons of the West Newton Colored Baptist Church. The society owed him a bill of about $40. Failing to get paid, he attacked the church, took possession last Saturday night, and locked himself in, nailing up all means of ingress. A new pastor was to be installed the following day and many of the brethren had been invited from far and near. As the congregation assembled the deacon held the fort and the outlook for the ordination that day looked very slim. Angry words waxed hot and heavy, and as is usually the case, the sisters outdid the brothers in the war of words.

Finally, through the kind intervention of Mr. E. B. Haskell, a compromise was effected, and shortly before 12 o'clock the work of installation was commenced, and completed without interruption. In the course of the argument, Deacon Hicks received several slaps in the face from some of the colored sisters, and on Thursday three of them were arraigned before Judge Parks on charges of assault. He fined two of them, Lydia Scott and Addie Falcon, one cent each, and half the costs of the trial. The fun is not yet over as there is to be a civil suit.

Policemen Mitchell and Taffe on Sunday evening arrested two young girls and two young men for blocking the sidewalk on Washington st. The party of young folks presented a sorry appearance when they arrived at the police station in West Newton. The girls were crying bitterly and the young men looked sheepish. The young men, aged 18 and 19 were from Waltham. The girls, aged 18 and 23 were from Watertown. The purpose of the arrests was to break up the practice of flirting along that section of Washington st. between Newton Corner and Adams st. The confinement of the girls at police headquarters, even for a short time, caused much comment, as there are no suitable quarters for such prisoners. The few cells there are usually occupied by drunken men and tramps. In court on Monday one of the youths was fined $10 and the other $5. The girls were fined $3 each.

Kiwani's Club

At the Tuesday meeting of the local Kiwanis Club held at the Charles River Country Club, Thomas Dowd, D. M. D. of Newton Centre spoke on various highlights of the American Legion Convention at Boston, particularly the part the Newton Chapter played in entertaining the American Legion members from the Dearborn Post in Michigan. Dentist Dowd has been the Manager of the Newton Post Band; he has served on the Executive Committee, and is also a past Treasurer of the Newton Post of the American Legion.

A general discussion took place regarding plans for future help to underprivileged children; in fact, several doctors were appointed to aid in this excellent cause. Chairman is Francis Martin, D. M. D.

President John Janse appointed a Committee for the election of Officers of Kiwanis for the year 1941, as follows: George White, Chairman; Wilfred Chagnon, James Dalley, Herman Norton, M. D., Ed Welsh.

Man Saved From Suicide Attempt

Observance and prompt action by Harold Leventhal of 20 Gralyn rd., Newton Centre probably saved the life of Samuel White, 44, of 243 Harvard st., Dorchester on Tuesday night. Leventhal noticed White, who was standing in front of his house, swallow the contents of a small box. Leventhal notified police headquarters and a cruising car and the police ambulance rushed to the scene. Told by White that he had swallowed poison, the police gave him first aid and he was also treated by Dr. William Basch of 463 Waverley ave. White was then taken to Newton Hospital where he was given further treatment and then released.

Girl and Money Go At Same Time

Mrs. Agnes Grimes of 294 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, reported to Newton police last Saturday that Irene La Plante, 18, a state ward who had been employed at her home, had disappeared the preceding day, and also a metal box which had contained $152 in cash. Mrs. Grimes left her home about 10:30 last Friday morning and returned at 4 in the afternoon. She found the girl, the box and the money all missing.

Congregational Young People Have Retreat Service

The seventh annual Pilgrim Fellowship Retreat of the Congregational youth of Greater Boston was held on Sunday afternoon and evening at Newton Centre. The retreat was arranged by Miss Bessie M. Stratton, director of religious education at Eliot Church, Newton and Mrs. Fred Bennett of Boston was chairman of the committee in charge. Over 600 young men and women gathered Sunday afternoon on the grounds of the Andover-Newton Theological School and listened to an address by Rev. Vaughan Dabney, dean of the school.

An outdoor supper was then served, following which the participants marched to the First Baptist Church where Rev. Everett Herrick, president of Andover-Newton School administered communion and the candle-light service was dramatized by members of the Eliot church group, headed by Alene Crissey, leader of the group. An impressive procession then marched from the church to the theological school grounds. It was headed by Miss Crissey bearing the Christ candle, and each marcher carried a small, lighted candle.

Thomas F. Wall Will Manage Circle Theatre

Mr. F. W. McMannis, District Manager for the M & P Theatres of suburban Boston, announces the appointment of Thomas F. Wall as manager of the new Circle Theatre, situated at Cleveland Circle, at the junction of Chestnut Hill ave. and Beacon sts. near the Brookline-Brighton line in Boston.

Mr. Wall has been with the M & P Circuit for the past twelve years, having served as manager of the Modern and Metropolitan theatres in Boston, the Aviston theatre in Allston, Paramount in Newton, Paramount in Needham and for the past four years has been managing the Capitol Theatre in Allston. He is a past commander of the Woburn American Legion Post, past president of the Allston-Brighton Kiwanis Club and an active member of the Woburn Lodge of Elks.

The Circle will be one of Greater Boston's finest suburban theatres. No expense has been spared to provide the best in equipment, decorations, and convenience for patrons. The highly-developed acoustics and fine lighting, the spacious and comfortable new-style sliding plush seats, the modern and beautiful foyer, luxurious ladies' rooms, and elaborate lounge, have all been installed with one purpose—to make for the greater comfort and enjoyment of the patrons.

There will be ample parking space around the theatre supervised by trained parking attendants.

The outstanding feature of the theatre is the installation of new and wide sliding plush seats, which enables patron to walk through an aisle without a seated patron rising to allow them to pass, as formerly.

The theatre will open officially on Columbus Day, October 12th, with continuous performances on that day and Sunday; weekdays there will be matinee at 2:00 P. M. and evenings at 8:00 P. M.

Day Jr. High School

The assembly of Friday, September 27, was planned by Miss Lougee and Room 22 and coached by Mrs. Granman. The initial part of the period was spent in a presentation of the various school activities. Marcia Marks, the student chairman, first presented Anna and Joseph Parina who spoke about sports and games at the F. A. Day. Ann Mahoney, the president of last year's eighth grade, explained class and home room organization, and Raymond Curran, the president of last year's Public Relations Staff, outlined the work of the various student staffs on which over 150 pupils served during the year. A program of talent followed, in which Edward DeSantis of Grade 7 sang "Beautiful Heaven" as the opening number. Patricia Washer presented a monologue. Carmen Perna gave an accordion solo and then joined the Westerners, Francis Hapenny, Harold Thomas, George McIntosh, Philip Berquist, Salvatore Gringelin, Kenneth Senior, and Bobby Scallion, in a group of songs. Priscilla Cook, a new pupil in Grade 8, gave an exhibition of fancy twirling. Patricia Horn presented an excellent burlesque of a ballet dancer, and Margaret Welmon sang "The Song We Sang." The period ended with the singing of the school song by the whole school.

In September of 1939 Mrs. Holmes, the school librarian, invited the Sketch Club to submit drawings of the front entrance which might be appropriate for a new bookplate. After the whole club had spent three periods in front of the building making their pencil sketches, six pupils were asked to copy theirs in pen and ink. From these three were presented for a final selection. Nanette Wright's sketch and Florence Maloney's printing were combined to make the new F. A. Day bookplate which will appear in the library books this year. This contest closed last year and Nanette Wright will be notified of her success.

Gainsboro Fined On Legion Charge

Howard Gainsboro, 42, of Woodchester Drive, Chestnut Hill, a wholesale jeweler in Boston, was fined $50 by Judge Sweeney in the Federal court on Monday for selling American Legion emblem rings without authority. On similar charges Solomon Myers of Brookline was fined $75 and Carl Alch of Boston, $25. Each was also placed on probation for one year.

Newton Eleven Opens Grid Season With 13-0 Victory Over Woburn

Stubborn Foe Yields To Air Attack Featured By Beatty Brothers—Newton Team Play Spotty With Many Offsides

The first invasion of the 1940 high school football season was successfully repulsed last Saturday at the Dickinson Stadium in Newtonville. A promising, though spotty, Newton eleven turned back a stubborn Woburn crew by the two touchdown margin of 13 to 0. The Macdowell aggregation held the upper hand throughout the game with the visitors never penetrating deep into Newton territory although the occasional threat of a get-away run was ever present. Grudgingly the Woburn defense yielded to the Newton attack which cashed in on the only two real opportunities to score. Captain Bob Beatty, with his brother Joe, were Newton standouts although ably supported by the timely efforts of their mates with John Fahey, Gus Avantaggio, and "Windy" Booth in the backfield and Phil Teschner, Bill Kalousian, Art Healey and Dick Lowry in the line showing up well in the inauguration battle.

The Newton offense was frequently handicapped and stalled by repeated offside play which had to be offset by a passing attack which clicked when vital. Throughout the game the orange and black failed to show what could be called "power" but did show possibilities of becoming a smart, aggressive team with greater experience. Undoubtedly the delaying of the season's start for three weeks after opening practice instead of the usual two weeks has been beneficial. For an opening game the local team looked the best in several years.

First Period

the visiting quarterback took to the air. The Newton line rushed the passer as he faded back, causing him to fumble with Bob Beatty recovering on the Woburn 28 yard line. Three tackle slants and line rushes made it a first down on the 17. On second down, Joe Beatty faded back and tossed a pass which nestled into Gus Avantaggio's arms as he leaped in to the air on the goal-line, falling across for Newton's initial score of the season. Avantaggio then booted a perfect placement between the uprights.

Hooper stopped the Woburn runback of the kickoff at the Woburn 30 and Bob Beatty spilled the ball carrier on the next play for an eight yard loss and Woburn kicked, with Joe Beatty returning the ball to midfield. Two plays and an offside stalled Newton until a Beatty to Beatty pass clicked for 12 yards but it was shy of a first down and Woburn took possession. The period ended with Newton taking a punt on their own 20-yard stripe.

Second Period

Another Beatty to Beatty pass for 12 yards opened the second period, and a few plays later Brother Joe kicked to the Woburn 16 and Woburn punted to midfield. Here Newton started to roll. Avantaggio slid off tackle for 5 yards. Joe Beatty made 11 more in two attempts for a first down. He picked up two more on the next play and Avantaggio three. Attempting to pass and finding his receivers all covered Joe Beatty raced around end for a 14 yard gain and a first down on the Woburn 19. Booth and Fessenden replaced Avantaggio and Fahey. Booth slashed his way for 7 yards and Fessenden bucked for eight for a first down on the Woburn 5 yard mark. Three line plays netted but two yards and then Booth tossed an over-the-line pass right into Bob Beatty's arms on the goal-line for the second touchdown. Savignano's try for the extra point was low and the score read 13 to 0.

Three plays after the kickoff the half ended with Woburn having chalked up its initial first down of the game just beyond the midfield stripe.

Third Period

Shortly after the kickoff Woburn booted to the Newton 30. Slight gains were offset by a penalty for offside play before a Beatty to Beatty pass for 13 yards made it first down. A 30-yard jaunt by Brother Joe was nullified by offside play and Newton kicked to the Woburn 24 when the attack became stalled. Woburn netted a first down but in the next series an offside halted the advance. Captain O'Doherty got off a beautiful quick-kick on second down which rolled over the Newton goal-line. Putting the ball in play from their own 20 the Newton crew with Fahey totting on one run of 18 yards crossed midfield in two first downs but another offside halted the advance and Joe Beatty's quick kick rolled out on the Woburn 12 yard line. Joe Brogna, Woburn quarterback got away on an end run of 44 yards but was hauled down by Beatty an instant before he was entirely free. The long run went for naught when Woburn fumbled and George Pattison, Newton substitute guard, came through with the recovery.

Fourth Period

The fourth period play was confined within the 25 yard lines with both teams failing to gain consistently and numerous exchanges of punts giving the ball first to one team and then the other. Newton reached the Woburn 27 on one drive midway of the period but relinquished the ball on downs. Windy Booth's interception of a Woburn forward and a 30-yard runback to the Woburn 24 before he was forced outside was a highlight. The game ended a few plays after the interception with an offside penalty having been made up on third down by a Booth to Fessenden pass.

Highest Gymnasium

Western State college officials at Gunnison, Colo., claim their basketball court is the highest collegiate playing floor in America. The gym is just 7,500 feet above sea level.

Last Week's Predictions

The sports editor's predictions on last Saturday's games were not too far wrong. In eight guesses he came out with six correct and on the two others his choices were tied but not beaten. The record six hits, two assists, no errors.

Several prophecies were on the "nose," such as Newton-Woburn, "the home team by two touchdowns"—result 13-0; Medford-Melrose—"a second defeat for Medford—a one touchdown or one-point margin a real feather for Melrose"—result Melrose 7-6; Lynn Classical-Gloucester—"the fishermen sunk under the Classical surge by two or more touchdowns"—result Lynn 19-6; Hyde Park-Fitchburg, "at least a two-touchdown margin for the upstarts," result 19-0.

The other two right guesses but not accurate as to score were Quincy-Brockton, "two touchdowns should be the margin for the Wealthy Towners"—result 7-0; Brockton-Mt. Pleasant, "the Shoe City by three touchdowns or more," result Brock 12-0.

The two "assists" were in the Everett-Leominster and Waltham-Providence Central games. Leominster held off the red wave to eke out a 6 to 6 tie. The prediction was "the red tide victor over a stubborn foe—a one-touchdown margin anticipated." The sports editor came much nearer mufing on the Waltham-Central affair. Greatly outplayed, the Watch City eleven scored first but in the last quarter saw its lead go glimmering with the tying score—7-7. The prediction had been "Waltham by three touchdowns if the Watch City gets rolling."

Tomorrow's Forecasts

Newton at Quincy—The Granite City eleven has lost to Brockton and Brookline, both future Newton opponents. We are picking Newton by one touchdown, though the point by goal may be the deciding factor.

Salem at Everett—When these two old rivals get together anything can happen. A small score. We'll have to give this one a scoreless tie.

Medford at Brockton—a third defeat for the Blue and White and a third straight win for the Shoe City. Although not as powerful as last year's State champion this 1940 Brockton outfit may come along fast soon. Brockton 13-0.

Revere at Lynn Classical—this game will be played under lights tonight. The Lynites found the victory path in their second game while Revere ended with a 13-0 deadlock. Tonight it looks like Lynn by one touchdown.

Fitchburg at Arlington—Building slowly around Art Blanchard the Arlington team should turn back the invasion by a clear margin of two or more scores.

Somerville at Waltham—Though Waltham surprised us last week by failing to get better than a tie with Providence Central we string along with them again tomorrow. Somerville was none too strong in its first two games playing a scoreless tie with Chelsea and edging Cambridge Latin by the small margin of 7 to 0. The Watch City by two touchdowns.

Watertown at Brookline—Another win for Brookline, Class B favorites—their third straight although Watertown will be no setup. The Wealthy Towners by one touchdown.

Winthrop at Woburn—A stubborn Woburn crew may click against Winthrop although again the margin may only be one touchdown.

Perfect Weather For Archers Special Tourney

Saturday was a day that poets write about and archers use by gathering to shoot in a tournament. The Newton Archers took advantage of the day as the last Saturday before the time changed. Archers came from Worcester, Melrose, and Waltham. This tournament was one for different handicap cups. Six of them were awarded. This special tournament was made necessary when the Mass. State Archery Association was invited to share the Newton Archers Championship since the rounds used by the Mass. State Archery Association do not allow for the use of Newton handicap cups.

The cups awarded were: Visitor's Handicap Cup, Flora Bryant, 83-493-292-785; Cummings Handicap Cup, Bedford J. Seaman, 88-504-256-760; Mariner Handicap, juniors, Ernest Bradley, 64-360-350-710; Dr. Obrey Handicap (women), Anita Howarth, 83-473-335-808; Monthly Handicap, seniors, Reginald C. Garner, 89-533-301-834; Monthly Handicap, juniors, Ernest Bradley, 64-360-470-830.

Anita Howarth was awarded the copper plate for women with 83-473. Letitia Doten won the copper bowl for juniors a third time, with 84-520 and retired it. The British miniature medals were awarded for the first three places for the American scores. The scores for the men were:

Novelty prizes were won by Dorothy Matthews, Chester Shedd and Ernest Bradley.

SPORT NOTES

Although supposedly devoid of any passing attack this year, Brown scored its first touchdown of the season on a 15-yard aerial from Ernie Savignano to John Marsolini, Saturday against Wesleyan. In addition to passing well, the versatile Savignano was by far the best kicker on the field. A 60-minute heavy-duty back, Savignano is a quadruple-threat as a ball-carrier, blocker, kicker and passer.

Off the field he is just as busy and is known to his teammates as "Enterprising Ernie," for his numerous campus business ventures, which include a co-partnership in a campus laundry, publication of a weekly pamphlet advertising college activities, and the sale of flowers. The rugged Newton junior has always been a busy man at Brown and as a freshman he won numerals in football, basketball, baseball and hockey.

Rotary Club

George Campbell of Lawton, Oklahoma, blind from birth until eighteen years of age, took the members through the various stages of his blind and visual life in an impressive address on Monday noon. He described his early education and training, his handicap and advantages and proved from the maturity of adult judgment that there are more people with perfect vision who are blind than people who lack the sense of sight.

It has been found that children with perfect vision are unable to read text books or blackboard work because they lacked the ability to concentrate on type or fixed writing only sixteen inches away from the eye. The pain or fatigue caused by this strain creates disinterest in school work and juvenile minds take other channels of distraction.

Mr. Campbell quoted the astounding figures from a survey which disclosed that 87% of truancy pupils and 43% of reform school youngsters had poor reading vision. Their eyesight was good except for their ability to read without eye fatigue.

This problem should receive more attention because as Mr. Campbell states, "They knew I was blind so somebody always read to me but other boys did not receive this attention and they needed it just as much as I did." The results of such a situation is a stop in mental development and the ability to succeed in life is minimized.

The unique experience of listening to a man who received sight through ophthalmic surgery made a profound impression among the club members. Mr. Campbell's description of his sensation and the formation of visual concepts through the perception of light and color education demonstrated the importance of good vision and the necessity of keeping it that way by means of periodic examination.

Hit Car, Didn't Stop; Nurse Found Not Guilty

Sadie McDonald, 173 Hammond st., Waltham, was found not guilty by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Wednesday on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident without revealing her identity. Alvan Burlingame, 26, of Washington ave., Waltham testified that on the night of September 5 as his car was parked on Washington st., Newtonville, he opened the car door and a car driven by Miss McDonald hit the side of his car a glancing blow, and injured his ankle. Burlingame testified that the woman continued along, but came to his house the next day to inquire about his ankle. Patrolman Cunningham testified that the defendant told him she had proceeded because she did not see anyone around. Inspector Hammell read a report of the interview he had with Miss McDonald after the accident. She told Hammell that as she was driving along Walnut st., she heard a click and thought her car had hit the bumper of some other car, but that she did not stop. Asked at the time by Hammell why she did not stop, Miss McDonald had replied that she thought afterward she should have stopped.

The defendant, a nurse employed as supervisor at the Glover Hospital, Needham testified that she heard a click, believed there had been no serious damage, and then continued on. Some distance further on she did stop, according to her testimony, and saw someone reflected in the mirror in her car, apparently signalling it was all right for her to continue. A couple of minutes after arriving at her home, two Waltham policemen came there and questioned her about the accident. She then went to Newton police headquarters and made a report.

Judge Donald Mayberry found the woman not guilty, agreeing with Miss McDonald's attorney that her failure to stop was "not the kind of act intended to fall within the scope of the statute."

Autoists Are Fined for Speeding

Harry Johnson of 211 Broadway, Arlington, was fined $15 for speeding by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Friday. Patrolman Charlton testified that he had pursued Johnson for nearly 3 miles along the turnpike and the speed reached 68 miles. Donald Webber of 66 Noyes st., Needham, was fined $10 for speeding. Patrolman McMullen testified that Webber was travelling at a rate of 52 miles, and when stopped told the policeman—"You have no right to stop me. I can drive any way I please."

Because it was his second conviction within a year, Antonio Santucci of 418 Langley rd., Newton Centre, was fined $25 for speeding. Benjamin Fogwill of 42 Davis ave., West Newton, was fined $5.

Proper Way to Display Flag Shown by Officials

Most Americans, while eager to show their respect for their flag, do not know the code of flag usage. Here are the authoritative answers to questions on display of the Stars and Stripes.

Q.—When is a flag not a flag?
A.—When it is carried by any unmounted unit it is called a color; with any mounted unit, a standard.
Q.—How is the flag displayed in a procession?
A.—With other flags, the United States flag should be either on its own marching right or in front of the center of the line of flags.

Q.—When may the U. S. flag be raised above other flags?
A.—With flags of states, cities or societies, the U. S. flag should be at center or highest point of group. When displayed with flags of other nations, all should be flown from staffs of the same height, in time of peace.

Q.—May the flag be used for drapery?
A.—No, bunting is accepted for drapery, but not the flag itself.
Q.—How should the flag be suspended over a street?
A.—Vertically, with the union (constellation of stars) to the north in an east-west street, to the east in a north-south street.

Q.—How is the flag hoisted to half-staff?
A.—It must first be hoisted to the peak, then lowered to half-staff. This procedure applies to final lowering, at sunset, too. On Memorial day the flag remains at half-staff until noon, then is hoisted to the peak.

Q.—Does the flag ever dip to any persons or things?
A.—No, and it is never displayed union-down, except as a distress signal.
Q.—How is the flag displayed on a vehicle?
A.—It must be affixed to a staff not draped on the vehicle itself.

Q.—Can the flag itself be used as a portion of a uniform?
A.—No, and it cannot be used on cushions, paper napkins, etc., is never used for advertising, and is never lettered upon.

Q.—Can school children be legally required to salute the flag?
A.—Yes, according to an 8 to 1 decision of the Supreme court.
Q.—May persons simply stand at attention when the flag passes?
A.—Yes, except when they are in uniform, when they must give the correct salute.

Q.—How is the U. S. flag correctly displayed with one other flag?
A.—The U. S. flag should be on its own right, and if staffs are crossed the flags staff should be in front of other staff.

Sour-Pickle Jar on Bet

Some people try to eat more eggs than anyone else at one sitting. Others want to drink the most cups of coffee. Those with a sweet tooth go out to win pie eating contests. There aren't many known cases of anyone trying to become a human sour-pickle jar. But recently Franjo Briker, a popular Yugoslavian barber, did just that.

The other day, when his shop was full of customers and the kidding waxed fast and furious someone began twitting Franjo about his fondness for the pickled cucumbers.

Franjo admitted that he does have an abnormal fondness for pickles. "I'll bet you a hundred dinars," said one of the customers, "that you can't eat a gallon at one sitting."

Franjo's razor stopped in mid-air. He began to take off his apron. "You're not kidding? You'll really bet?" Franjo asked.

The customer said he surely did mean it.

"Done," cried Franjo, "bring on your pickles," and he sat down in the most comfortable chair, a happy look on his face.

So a gallon jar was bought at a nearby shop and Franjo went to work. Someone got a tally sheet and began checking them off as Franjo downed each one with great relish. When 100 had vanished, eyes began to pop. And when the second hundred had slid down Franjo's voracious gullet, there was a worried silence, but he still hadn't reached the bottom of the jar.

Everyone was leaning forward, fascinated at such prowess. Word Franjo made it? Once or twice he seemed to stop. Finally the barber captured the last one in the jar. It went the way of the rest. The score-keeper whistled in amazement. Franjo had won.

Harden Lenses Protect Workers
Harden lenses are finding wider use in safety goggles to protect the eyes of workers engaged in occupations with unusual visual hazards, reports the Better Vision institute. The hardened glass in such lenses has remarkable resistance to breaking and shattering. In a recent demonstration a steel ball weighing 16 grams was dropped on the center of such a lens 50,000 times from a distance of 14 inches, without causing a breakage of the lens. The impacts on the glass represent a total of 2,205 foot-pounds of energy.

With the new hardened glass it is possible to drive a nail into a pine plank, using the spectacles as a hammer.

Woman Has Contract With Government for Chrome
But 28 years old, and she has a contract with the U. S. government to supply it with $843,600 worth of chrome. She is Mrs. William Moroney of Alaska.

Mrs. Moroney has title to a huge chrome mine on the Kenai peninsula, Alaska, near Seldovia. She has chrome mines in northern California. She had another chrome mine in California.

Eight years ago Mrs. Moroney, then Dorothea Reddy, was a $135 a month stenographer with the now defunct National Recovery administration. She was interested in chrome, because her late father, Dr. John F. Reddy of Medford, Ore., had supplied the government with some amount of chrome during the closing days of the World war. The government hadn't paid him.

Miss Reddy started a one-woman fight against the federal government for the unpaid bill for chrome mined in southern Oregon in 1918. She won, and an appropriation bill adopted by the present congress carries an item of $3,200 in payment of that claim.

Somewhere Mrs. Moroney got an idea that there might be another war, and it was logical to assume that if there was America would need chrome as it did in the past war. All industrial chrome, necessary in the manufacture of stainless steel and many military alloys, had been coming from Russia, New Caledonia and Turkey.

Dr. Reddy had acquired title to much chrome land, but the documentary evidence could not be located at the time of his death. His daughter, thrown on her own resources, began a search through records, both in the national capital and in Washington and Oregon. She found the necessary papers, but demand for domestic chrome was nil.

Then came international turmoil. Russia stopped shipments of chrome. France drafted manpower in New Caledonia and production there halted. Italy had stopped a chrome shipment of 5,000 tons from Turkey.

Result: Mrs. Moroney has most of the available high-grade chrome on the North American continent, and the federal government readily gave her the huge contract, calling for the delivery of a vast amount of the ore. The contract, broken down, calls for payment at $33 a ton.

Self-Milking Cow
The first self-milking cow has been produced by a research scientist of the American Husbandry council. Dr. Jaffon Barottome devised the technique, which is based on the fundamental discoveries of the Russian physiologist Pavlov, on the formation of conditioned reflexes.

In training a cow to be a self-milker, Dr. Barottome places the milk pail in the appropriate position and simultaneously injects under the skin of the animal's back a potent substance which has the effect of relaxing the sphincter muscles, thus causing the milk to flow from all four teats at once, says the Rocky Mountain Herald. This procedure is repeated three times daily, the dosage being slowly diminished to zero.

Eventually a new habit, or conditioned reflex, is established, so that the mere placing of the milk pail causes an immediate evacuation of the udder. The nature of the substance injected has not been divulged, as further research is being done in the attempt to find a selective relaxant which will act on the udder sphincters alone and not on the other sphincters.

New Drug Gives Rest
In Malaria Therapy Case

A new drug to give a one-or-two-day rest period for patients suffering from malaria induced artificially as a treatment for syphilis of the central nervous system was described recently at a meeting of the convention section of dermatology and syphilology of the American Medical association in New York. Previously an unfavorable malarial condition required the administration of quinine, ending the opportunity to continue the malaria therapy, but the new drug merely arrests the fever temporarily and permits the patient, after the rest period, to continue the fever treatment.

Experiments with the drug, thio-bismol, or bismuth sodium thioglycollate, have been carried on in Cleveland hospitals for several years by Dr. Harold N. Cole, Dr. Gerard A. DeOreo, Dr. James R. Driver and Dr. Herbert H. Johnson Jr. of Cleveland, and Dr. Walter F. Schwartz, now of Pasadena, Calif.

According to the paper, a 2-gram injection of the drug, given intravenously just before a malaria chill, will nearly always bring within 6 to 12 hours a rest period from the fever, lasting from 24 to 48 hours.

"After the interruption the chills and rise of fever return at the same intervals in which they were occurring before the injections," according to the report of the experiments. "Usually the interval is sufficient to allow the patient to resume the cycle and continue until he has had the number of chills considered necessary for treatment of syphilis."

Thio-bismol can be used in ordinary malaria cases, Dr. DeOreo said, but as an adjunct rather than a substitute for quinine.

"Many times a patient will have one or even two additional chills after quinine therapy has been instituted to end the course of malaria," he said. "Most of the time this is not undesirable, but occasionally this added chill may be more than the patient can tolerate. To prevent this, thio-bismol is given and quinine started at the same time. The thio-bismol will eliminate the next chill and by that time the quinine has become effective."

Is the World's Largest

Ages ago, the legend runs, an Indian brave was trapped in a narrow canyon by onrushing flood waters and when death appeared certain sent up a desperate prayer to the gods. Their answer was a rainbow bow, up which the supplicant climbed to safety. To perpetuate the miracle the gods transformed the rainbow into stone.

That's the way the Indians explain the Rainbow Natural bridge, which arches its pink sandstone perfection across Bridger canyon in southern Utah, a mile or two north of the Arizona border. Scientists, more prosaically, attribute it to erosion.

In any case, it is the largest natural bridge in the world, 309 feet high and 278 feet from pier to pier. The great white father has it in charge as a national monument, to preserve its natural beauty for all time. To date, that hasn't been much of a task, as only about 3,000 persons have been there since the span was discovered 30 years ago. The records show that an Indian led Dr. Byron Cummings, University of Arizona scientist, to the spot on August 14, 1909.

So remote is this natural wonder that until recently it was a major feat of exploration to reach it.

Woman Teaches Navigation
Shades of Bowditch and the immortal Mercator, mates! Future shipmasters and bucko mates are being taught navigation by a woman.

And that isn't all. One of them is a girl, and she can handle the sextant and shoot the sun as handily as the next one. Wouldn't that shiver your timbers—or would it?

The "skipper" of the class is Miss Florence Miles, and she didn't learn all of her seamanship out of books, either.

She became interested four years ago when she and Miss Virginia Roe, an art teacher at Roosevelt high school in Seattle, left Seattle on the Dutch freighter Mapio on a world tour.

The captain and other officers initiated them into the mysteries of dead reckoning, compass deviations and determining latitude and longitude from the sun and stars.

Miss Miles reached home with a rule-of-thumb knowledge of navigation and with a desire to learn all of its fine points. She took a course taught by Prof. Raymond F. Farwell at the University of Washington.

Monks Buy Here

Monks of Mount Athos, Greece, are now using American flour exclusively in their celebrated monastery, exercising one of the privileges which have made them a law unto themselves for centuries. Being exempt from import duties, they find it cheaper to buy from the United States the 300 tons of flour they consume annually rather than purchase their supply in the home market. The flour is imported by means of special permits, while the necessary foreign exchange is provided by the Bank of Greece in Athens.

Succeeds in Turning
Refuse Into Gold Mine

Four years ago an American named Berry Pink took the afternoon off from his work and strolled disconsolately through the city. He was fed up with his work, and was trying desperately to think of something new to do.

As he walked he noticed refuse, and idly stood and watched while they tipped the rubbish into a cart. He was surprised to see how many dirty old milk bottles and fragments of broken glass tumbled into the cart, and although he soon resumed his walk, the germ of an idea had entered his head.

There must be some use to which all the wasted broken and used glass in America could be put. And then he remembered a game he had played in his youth, and, in a flash the idea came to him—marbles—that was the solution.

Now, Berry Pink was what the Americans call a go-getter. Once started on an idea he saw it through—and with a vengeance! In a short while he had established a factory and was busy buying up all the old bottles, cold-cream jars and bits of glass he could lay his hands on, and converting them all into marbles.

He also instituted a campaign to make America thoroughly "marble-conscious"—and he succeeded beyond his wildest dreams.

Today Berry Pink is known all over America as "The Marbles King," and, thanks to his efforts, more than 5,000,000 people in the U. S. play the game.

Cat Teaches Her Kittens
Like Any Human Mother

A cat will play with her kittens like any human mother with her babies. She will teach them how to catch mice. She will teach them to take care of themselves when sick; to dip a feverish foot in cold water; to lie before a warm fire if they have a cold. And just as American Indians learned from the wolves that a sulphur spring cures rheumatism; from the bear that a red-clay bath will heal wounds; from deer that fresh ferns will cure fever; from dogs that "dog-grass" will make well a sick stomach; so Europeans first learned the virtues of catnip, or mint, from watching sick cats.

An old Fifteenth century herb-doctor wrote: "Cat-mint is of a sharp smell and pierces into the head. It hath a hot taste, with a certain bitterness. Nevertheless this pungent mint is a present help for them that are bursten inwardly by means of some fall received from a very high place, and that are very much bruised, if the iuyce is given with wine or meade."

Boycott

Curiously enough, the word "boycott" comes from the name of a man. The individual who contributed this much-employed word to the English language was an unpopular Irish landlord named Charles Cunningham Boycott.

He was exceedingly harsh in his methods of collecting rents. In the autumn of 1880 his tenants clubbed together and demanded lower rents, but Boycott refused to heed them. They thereupon began to annoy Boycott in every manner possible. They would not work for him, nor would they permit any outsiders to do so. They ruined his fences, went so far as to insult him to his face, and even burned him in effigy.

Boycott was obliged to appeal to the government for protection. The government gave him the protection he so much needed, but the methods employed by Boycott's tenants were later used by the Irish Land league to force its enemies to comply with its demands. Thus the word "boycott" came into use as meaning a commercial taboo.

Paid With Sugar

Several months ago, a middle-aged woman of ample means who makes her home in a mid-town hotel in New York began having her breakfast served in her room. As she is on a diet, the menu is unvaried and the cost low. The other morning instead of paying the waiter as usual, she handed him a big bag of sugar. "This is for my breakfast," she declared. "Five full pounds. I had the drugstore downstairs weigh it." After some protest, the waiter took the bag and the check to the cashier. Opening it, the cashier found each lump in an intact wrapper which was stamped with the name of the hotel. It was finally decided to let the matter pass. The next morning, however, there was no sugar on the woman's tray. Rising in wrath, she demanded her just due. "Don't think," she stormed, "just because my fool doctor won't let me have sugar you can cheat me." As the guest is always right each morning now she has sugar.

Good Old Days?

Police Chief J. A. Grady, Pueblo, Colo., says that present-day bar flies aren't nearly as clever as some of the old timers. "For instance," he says, "the old time saloon keepers didn't like to have drunks dozing in their places. Unless a man showed signs of being awake he was hustled away. Many of those fellows developed the habit of crossing their legs and swinging one foot in gentle, rhythmic motions. That foot kept swinging, like a clock pendulum, even if the chair sitter was sound asleep."

Arrested on Bad
Check Charge

Sergeant Patrick King read in a Boston newspaper last Sunday that a man and woman, accompanied by a small child, had been arrested by Boston police for passing worthless checks. Although the names of the pair arrested were not given, King suspected that the man was George Patten, formerly of Athelstene rd., Newton Centre, as Boston and Salem police had previously telephoned Newton police headquarters in an effort to locate a worthless check passer who had given the name of Hall, and a Newton address, and King knew that Patten had used such an alias.

So, King went into Station 16, Boston on Sunday evening, accompanied by Inspector Lyons, and found that his suspicion was correct. The woman arrested, with Patten was Mrs. Josephine Capstick, 46, also formerly of Newton Centre. King had a warrant for Patten's arrest on a charge of concealing leased property. Patten had purchased a coat from a Boston firm, made a small payment down on it, and then failed to make any more payments. Newton police had been looking for him. The pair were arraigned in the Roxbury court on Monday. Patten was held in $1000 bail, and Mrs. Capstick in $500 bail for trial on October 4.

Neighbors Want Property Improved

A petition has been received by the Board of Aldermen asking that the property at 247 Park st., Newton, either be put in a safe condition or the buildings there razed. The property years ago was an excellent estate, owned by C. W. Loring, and consisting of a large residence, stable and 53,000 square feet of land. Later it was owned by Mrs. Veronica Tashjian and now is owned by the Union Savings Bank of Boston. It has been vacant for some time.

The petition reads: "We, the undersigned, residents of Ward 7, whose premises are adjacent to the property located at 247 Park st., respectfully call attention to the unsafe condition of the buildings located at that place, both from the standpoint of creating a fire menace and also because we have been obliged to call the police upon several occasions when strangers were seen to enter the buildings in the evening."

"We urgently plead that the owners of the property in question shall be required to either raze the buildings or put them in such condition as to render them safe, rather than a continual source of danger to surrounding property."

The signers of the petition are William F. Cotting, M.D., 243 Park st.; Sinclair Williams, 237 Park st.; Prof. Richard H. Smith, 281 Park st.; Mrs. Helen L. O'Brien, 256 Park st.; John W. Gilson, 48 Ruthven rd.; Ka

S. Patterson, 274 Park st.; Henry T. Moody, 269 Park st.; Louis M. Spear, 277 Park st.; James R. Howes, 248 Park st.; Charles H. Kimball, 242 Park st.; J. Herbert Young, 223 Park st.; Ralph N. Hall, 226 Park st.

Little Monkey Draws Big Crowd

A small monkey, the pet of Mrs. Helen Seavey of Kennebunkport, Me., escaped from the residence of her father, Newton Turner at 4 Eldredge st., Newton, last Friday afternoon, and for several minutes stopped traffic on Centre st. at Newton Corner. The monkey, which is 7 years old, retains all the agility of youth. He first visited the Underwood School after escaping from the Turner residence, and when attempts were made to catch him, he streaked up Elmwood st., doing 220 yards in about 15 seconds.

Patrolman Henry McDonough was on duty at the corner of Centre and Hall sts., when he was startled to observe some object hurtle around Elmwood st. and onto the bridge at high speed. The "bomb" whirled up onto the superstructure of the Centre st. bridge and stopped, and the surprised policeman then saw it was a small and quite active monkey. A crowd quickly gathered, automobiles stopped, and the owner of the simian arrived, but could not lure her pet down. A call was sent to Ladder 3, the idea being that if the firemen raised a ladder, someone might climb it, and entice the monkey to surrender. But, before the firemen arrived, a train passed under the bridge, and the monkey, frightened by the noise of the locomotive, scampered down into the arms of his owner.

Fraternity Tree Planted in Havana in 1923 at the time of the seventh Pan-American conference, the famous Fraternity tree is nourished by the soil of all the American republics. It symbolizes the strength of the Western world being poured into its roots, strengthening the bonds of cordial relations.

Brighton Boys Get Lyman Suspension

Another group of Brighton boys appeared in the Newton court last Friday at the juvenile session to answer charges of burglarizing several Newton homes. Three of the defendants were 14 years of age and the fourth was 12. The homes they ransacked and damaged included those of William Ellison, 15 Vernon st., Charlotte Simon, 82 Arlington st., George Sampson, Pembroke st. They had also burglarized houses in Brighton, and were captured by Brighton police after a Newton resident had given information that one of the boys wore eyeglasses with a broken frame held by adhesive tape.

The boys were placed on probation in the Brighton court and were given suspended sentences to Lyman Reform School by Judge Mayberry. So frequently have Brighton and Oak Square boys appeared in the Newton court that nearly two years ago Judge Mayberry asserted he would impose sentences on them to break up their depredations in Newton.

Reception To Mr.-Mrs. C. G. Hess

Nearly two hundred friends and former associates gathered at the Newton Y. M. C. A. last Friday evening to honor Mr. and Mrs. Clyde G. Hess. Mr. Hess recently resigned as director of Boys' Work and of the Newton "Y" Camp, Frank A. Day after twenty years of service. A few weeks ago he accepted the position of general secretary at the Burlington, Vt., "Y."

The presentation of a check for $300 from the association and friends was made by Charles D. Kepner, chairman of the camp committee. On behalf of the staff of the "Y" Richard B. Simmons, physical director, presented the guests of honor with a set of books.

The faculty trio of the All Newton Music School comprising Miss Irene Forte, violinist; Miss Ruth Masters, cellist; and Miss Agnes Olson, pianist, played several selections. Arrangements for the reception were made by the social committee under the chairmanship of F. Sayford Bacon. Refreshments were served by members of the Women's Auxiliary under the direction of Mrs. Clarence A. Wentworth, assisted by Mrs. G. Robert Strandberg and Mrs. John Andrew, Jr. Pourers at the tea table were Mrs. H. W. Bascom, Mrs. V. A. Anderson and Mrs. Edmund Miller.

Accidental burns, exclusive of conflagrations, are the only type of home accidents in which more women than men are injured fatally. Fatal burns in the home occur about twice as frequently among women as men.

Trying Out New Type Signal Light

A new type traffic signal light has been installed by the State Department of Public Works at the intersection of the Worcester turnpike and Dudley rd., Newton Centre. Instead of having red, green and yellow lenses, the lenses of the new signal are all white, and the various colors are produced by red, green and yellow neon bulbs. If the new type light proves dependable it will replace the older type. Many complaints have been made in the past that the rays of the sun on bright days have confused motorists as to just which color was showing on traffic lights. The new type light should eliminate this fault.

M & B Want Detour At Newtonville

The Middlesex & Boston Street Railway has applied to the Board of Aldermen for a permit to run its bus line that goes between Newton Centre and Newtonville over Foster st., Lowell avenue and Washington street at Newtonville. The reason is to eliminate the inconvenience caused by the turning of the busses at the busy intersection of Washington and Walnut streets in Newtonville square. The traffic light and the heavy traffic make the turning of the busses at this place difficult and hazardous. So the company prefers to make the detour of over a half mile to get the busses headed toward Newton Centre.

State Prison for Newton Burglary

John C. Mulligan, 22, formerly of 28 Charles st., Auburndale was sentenced by Judge Fosdick in the Superior court at Cambridge on Monday to serve 3 to 5 years in State prison for breaking into the restaurant at Norumbega Park on August 29 and attempting to loot a safe there. Mulligan, who had been employed at the restaurant, had a previous record. His excuse for the attempted safe burglary was—that he was trying to get money to aid his wife who was studying beauty culture.

Elks Committee On 5th Column

Ernest Bleiler, exalted ruler of Newton Lodge of Elks, has announced the appointment of the following committee in conjunction with the national movement of the Elks to appoint local committees to combat Fifth Column activities in their communities — William E. Earle, chairman; Edwin O. Childs, Oswald McCourt, Dana Foley, John Haffey, Edward Dalton and John Keefe.

Salary for Wives?
The demand for adequate remuneration for wives has been made often, and has always met with contempt—especially from husbands. Perhaps at first glance it does seem illogical to ask for more money for women who already have too much. But, apart from the vague idea of "personal freedom," it is the idea of self-earned money which fascinates women.

Why not? This country has made money its yardstick of personal worth, and why should wives be the only people excluded from trying to measure their value by it? A woman should be paid by her husband in proportion to her competence, and to the amount of work and responsibility she assumes. In most cases 25 per cent of her husband's income would be fair.

This arrangement would offer a fair chance to all those misunderstood women who feel that early marriage and lack of self-expression have denied them business careers. It would also give them a chance to decide how much they wanted to pay for their own laziness, or their desire for excessive entertainment. They would certainly not be forced to do work for which they genuinely had no talent.

Petition For 4 Large Billboards

A public hearing will be held at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen at 7:45 next Monday night on petitions received from John Donnelly & Sons for permits to erect four large billboards on top of buildings in this city. Each billboard would be 12 feet high and 50 feet long. One would be erected on the roof of the building at 88 Needham st., Newton Highlands; another would be placed on the roof of the building at Chestnut st., Upper Falls, where the postoffice is located; and two of the large billboards would be placed on the roof of the building at 823-833 Washington st., Newtonville, corner of Walnut st. It is expected that objections to these proposed new billboards will be received from improvement organizations.

Squanders More Than

His Fortune in Minutes

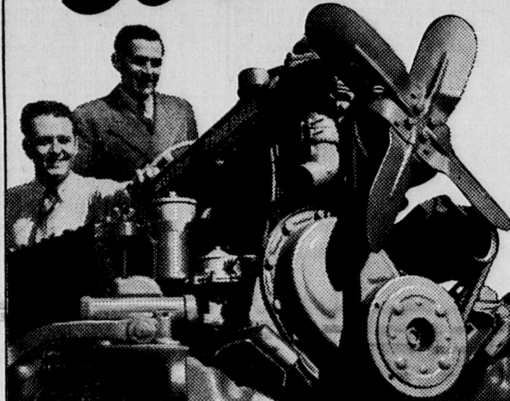

"A fool and his money are soon parted," runs an old proverb, and Lazzio Manzak, 21, a clerk in a Budapest hardware store, earning only 25 pengoes, ($4.25) a week, is convinced that truer words were never spoken. Manzak inherited 14,000 pengoes from a long lost uncle. This was an immense fortune for the poor clerk, who couldn't hope to see that much money if he lived to be a hundred.

So he started to celebrate. Among some of the things he did was to drive off in a car standing on the road. He had never driven a car, but was a car fiend. His escapade proved expensive when he was later arrested and the court sentenced him to pay 15,240 pengoes damages. This was exactly 1,240 more than he had inherited. And now he scripps and saves thinking of the sensible use he might have made of the legacy.

George Washington

Before his election to the American presidency, George Washington was president of a canal company.

So we hitched our wagon to a FIREBALL

— and gave these smarter, roomier cars even more sensational PERFORMANCE than before

THIS formidable example of precision machinery you see looming here is the new 1941 Buick FIREBALL engine.

It takes its name from what happens inside it.

Like all engines that hold major speed records on land, sea and in the air—like the famed General Motors new Allison aviation engine—it is valve-in-head type.

It represents 39 years of the development concentrated on valve-in-head design—and it stands today as the one engine in the land that really capitalizes on the new and better modern fuels.

The pistons in this Buick FIREBALL Eight are found in no other automobile engine.

Cupped in new contours to complement the dome of the cylinders, they roll the intruding fuel charge into a flattened and turbulent ball, packed fat with potential power.

Concentrated about the racing-car type spark plugs, that explosive ball is fired from its very heart.

So great is its extra thrust that the same-size engine which last year developed 107 horsepower now pours out a super-efficient 115.

And so successfully does this engine make the most of modern fuels that you can use regular-priced fuels and still get more miles per gallon throughout the whole performance range.

This is the Buick FIREBALL principle, latest development of Buick's exclusive Dynafash design.

But there's still more to the story in the wonders worked by Compound Carburetion.

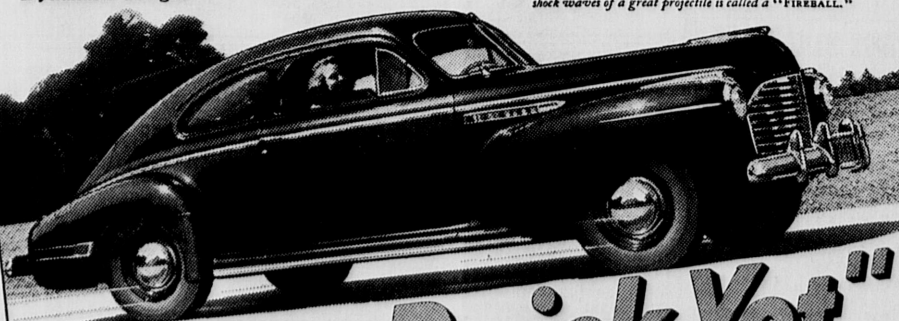

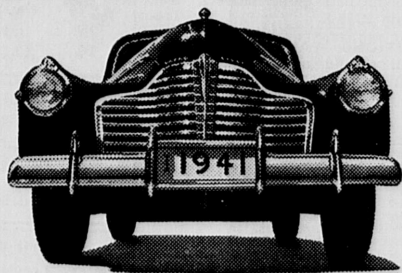

A standard part of Buick SUPER, CENTURY, ROADMASTER and LIMITED engines, this fuel-supply system lets you travel at fifty on the same meager fuel ration you ordinarily expend to get thirty, and delivers up to 10% or 15% more miles per gallon of gasoline.

You can have it in your Buick SPECIAL for a small extra charge—and step up your 115-horsepower engine to a wallowing 125.

But in big engine or bigger, you get plus-power from less gas—even the 165-hp. 1941 engines giving more

Bowker Takes Up Democratic Candidate's Challenge to Congressman Luce

A political practice of past generations, but one which has been of rare occurrence for many years, will be renewed on next Tuesday evening, October 15 at 8 o'clock at the Hyde School, Newton Highlands when Thomas H. Eliot, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 9th District will debate on "National Issues" with Philip G. Bowker of Brookline. The debate is the result of a challenge issued to Congressman Luce by Mr. Eliot to discuss such issues.

This challenge brought the following statement from Robert Kempton, secretary to Congressman Luce:

"Although no formal invitation has been received, a publicity release from Mr. Eliot proposes a series of debates with Congressman Luce on questions of national policy. Of course, it is well known that Congressman Luce intends to remain in Washington as long as Congress remains in session for action in the present emergency. Presumably Mr. Eliot has in mind 'rigged up' meetings such as were held two years ago to afford him a sounding board for appeal to Republicans by stressing his youth, family and social connections and criticism of unimportant details of the record of a long and faithful service. If there should be opportunity for Congressman Luce to campaign the time will be devoted to helping the cause of Republican candidates. Representative Philip G. Bowker of Brookline will be available to debate with Mr. Eliot at any time and place if Mr. Eliot should be interested in debating national issues and explaining to the voters of the 9th District his connection with the New Deal brain trust."

In reply to this statement of Mr. Kempton's, the following statement was received from Mr. Eliot's headquarters:

"Thomas H. Eliot, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 9th District, declared that a statement issued by the office of Congressman Luce was a 'direct reflection on many public-spirited citizens of the District.'"

"Eliot pointed out that Robert H. Kempton, Mr. Luce's secretary and spokesman, has just issued a public statement referring to the debates in which Mr. Eliot and Mr. Luce joined in 1938 as 'rigged-up' meetings for the purpose of allowing Eliot to emphasize his youth and energy."

"Mr. Luce and I had a joint debate at the Community Playhouse in Wellesley two years ago on the issues of the campaign. That debate was sponsored jointly by the chairman of the Republican and Democratic Town Committees, Garrett S. Hoag, president."

"We had another debate in Cambridge, sponsored by the League of Women Voters, a non-partisan organization, and the topic was Social Security."

"At Lincoln in 1938, we spoke consecutively at a meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Waltham, Lincoln and Weston. We did the same at a similar meeting held by the Wellesley League of Women Voters."

"Everyone who heard those debates knows that we discussed important issues, and did not indulge in personalities. Yet Mr. Kempton deliberately insinuated that these discussions were not fairly arranged and honestly presented."

"It is really too bad that Congressman Luce does not care to discuss the issues this year."

Answering Mr. Eliot's reply, a second statement was received from Mr. Luce's headquarters. It reads as follows:

"The allegation of Mr. Eliot concerning reflection of many public-spirited citizens and his attempt to connect my statement with meetings held by the League of Women Voters and a joint Wellesley meeting in 1938 disregards the facts as no mention was made of these meetings. What I did have in mind were two meetings held in 1938, more especially a West Newton meeting held by a pacifist organization under the direction of Robert Brainerd. I have no objection to arranging for a representative of Congressman Luce to appear at properly conducted meetings under the direction of responsible persons but I shall decline to have any part in meetings of intellectual 'pinks' such as the two that were held two years ago and conducted in an unfair and partisan manner. If Mr. Eliot wants the votes of these 'long haired pinks' he is welcome to their support."

From the tenor of these statements the debate promises to be real spirited and a large attendance is expected.

Hoffman Asks For Action on Budget For School Dept.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, Alderman Hoffman of Ward 6 called attention to the fact that no budget for the coming school year has yet been received from the School Committee, in conformity with a resolution presented by Hoffman some months ago and adopted by the Board of Aldermen. This resolution asked that the school budget be received early enough so that the Aldermen could deal with the whole school year, and not with the last few months of it. Hoffman commented that Newton schools are by far the most costly in this State, and among the highest in the country. He said that there is a lack of democratic organization in the running of Newton schools, and criticized the employment in Newton schools of persons for exclusive library work. He suggested that the School Committee and the Aldermen meet the first week in November to discuss matters. Aldermen Inches and Hughes agreed with Hoffman. Alderman McKay of the Finance Committee said he is sure the matter will be agreeably worked out, and that the members of the School Committee are interested in solving the problem.

No Billboards on Newtonville Roof Petition Recalled

The appearance of a score of Newtonville residents at City Hall on Monday night apparently influenced John Donnelly & Sons to withdraw applications for permits for two large billboards on the roof of the building at 823-833 Washington st., Newtonville, corner of Walnut st. The Newtonville Improvement Association had taken action a few nights before to register opposition to the proposed billboards, and also present was a group which had come to register opposition to buses on Foster st., and these Newtonvillians would likewise have protested again the billboards. So when the hearing on the Donnelly petitions was announced, Joseph A. Mitchell, representing that company, arose and stated that he would withdraw the two petitions for the Newtonville billboards.

Mr. Mitchell said that while he had withdrawn these two petitions, the two other petitions made by the Donnelly & Sons Company for billboards at 88 Needham st., Newton Highlands, and at 1223-1227 Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls should be granted. He said the former would be on top of a garage in an industrial section, and that at Upper Falls was in a business section. He commented that it is the policy of the Donnelly Company not to erect billboards where a community objects, and that the company has taken down 12 or 15 large billboards in Newton in recent years. He said that some persons, of course, object to all billboards, just as some object to all gasoline stations. Alderman Templeton said that he had no objection.

Rules To Prevent Fires In Homes

The Newton Safety Council requests the publishing of the following precautions to prevent fires. Prevent fires in the homes by following these eight simple rules:

In the Basement—Use metal barrels for ashes and only metal barrels. Keep all waste paper and rubbish in metal cans. Keep stairs and passageways clear.

Upstairs—Always have a supply of extra light fuses on hand, don't use dangerous makeshifts.

Keep all lamps and extension cords free from fraying or worn spots.

Have a set rule in the family never to use inflammable cleaning fluids indoors.

Keep matches stored in fireproof containers out of reach of children.

See that kitchen curtains are fastened so that they cannot blow across the stove.

Abandon Plan For Bus Detour On Foster Street

A plan to route the Newton Centre-Newtonville line buses of the Middlesex & Boston Company over Foster st. and Lowell ave., Newtonville, to eliminate the turning around of these buses at Newtonville sq., met a sudden death on Monday night at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen. A score of Newtonville residents, including members of the Central Congregational Church, and the Newtonville Improvement Association, journeyed to City Hall to register opposition to the plan, and it was abandoned, for the present, and in all probability for the future.

When the hearing on this matter was announced, Harry Hanson, president of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, stated that he had petitioned for the permit to detour the buses at the request of Chief of Police Hughes, who had informed him that the turn-

County Treasurer Tells Kiwanians Of Trend To Centralized Government

Gives Interesting Talk at Newton Service Club

Middlesex County Treasurer Charles P. Howard was the guest speaker at the regular Tuesday meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club at the Charles River Country Club. Mr. Howard gave an interesting talk upon the trend towards the centralization of government.

He said in part:

"We have been increasing the functions of the federal government tremendously for years, and especially in recent years, upon the theory that whatever the federal government does, it does well. However, surely you must agree that these incidents show that at least some federal officials have thrown away the taxpayers' money by failure to use ordinary common sense. However, I have not recited them as typical of federal administration, nor as indicating that all federal administration is poor. The federal government does many excellent things, and many of them very well indeed. The point which I wish to make is that when government is as far away from the people as the federal government necessarily is, it inevitably makes many wasteful and foolish blunders which could not possibly be made by a local official who is on the spot and who necessarily understands all the facts of the local situation. These blunders are the natural and inevitable result of attempting to control a local situation from a point many hundreds of miles away, at Washington. They are due to the insistence that things be done from Washington and that all discretion in administration be exercised at Washington and not in the locality where the work is actually done. This is the normal and usual vice of centralized government. 'Some years ago, it was the belief of business men and investors that the most economical method of handling production and distribution was through a single colossal corporation (Continued on page 4)

Former Roosevelt Appointee To Speak For Willkie At Rally

A huge rally for Presidential candidate Wendell Willkie will be held next Friday evening, Oct. 18th, at eight o'clock in the Newton High School auditorium. Provisions are being made for handling an overflow attendance in the adjoining gymnasium by the Willkie Volunteer Committee of Newton which is sponsoring the affair. The usual red fire and other accoutrements of a political rally will be present.

Chief speaker will be Lewis Douglas, former Director of the United States Budget, appointed by President Roosevelt and who resigned about a year ago. Mr. Douglas is a lifelong Democrat. He will be introduced by Mayor Paul M. Goddard. The meeting is open to all.

Will Limit Use Of School Buildings

Because the Community Centre division of the Newton Recreation Department, which has been developed during the past two years is creating more and more diversified activities for which it asks the use of school buildings, the Newton School Committee postponed at its last meeting granting permission for the use of school buildings for three new proposed activities to be conducted under the auspices of the Recreation Department. One of these would be a "conditioning class" for women to be held in the basement and teachers room of the Ward School at Newton Centre on Tuesdays and Fridays throughout the school year. The second was for a badminton class to be held in the Warren School gymnasium at West Newton on evenings throughout the school year. The third request was for the use of a metal craft class in the basement of the Hyde School on Thursday evenings. Such a class was conducted with success in a Newton school last year.

Because the School Committee and Department desire to know how far the new Recreation Department intends to extend the scope of its activities and resultant demands for the use of school buildings, it proposed to hold a conference between the Mayor, School Committee and officials of the Recreation Department. Members of the School Committee are somewhat skeptical as to the value or popular demand in the case of badminton. Certain groups of Newton people who play this game, have for years hired halls at their own expense. During the past year or so, a couple of requests by other groups for the use of school buildings in which to play badminton, were turned down.

Newton Young Men Will Register On Wednesday For Selective Service

Church and Fire Bells to Ring; Employers Asked to Give Employees Time Off

Next Wednesday, October 16, young men of the City of Newton between the ages of 21 and 36 must go to polling places in the Newtons to register in conformity with the National Selective Service Act. The Newton Committee of Public Safety of which General Daniel Needham is chairman, appeals to citizens of Newton for co-operation to their utmost on this day. It is suggested by this committee that those eligible for registration can help considerably if they will register between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., provided they are able to do so. This will relieve the pressure of the early morning and late evening rush. Employers of men between the ages of 21 and 36 are asked to arrange to permit their employees to register between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. Citizens are asked to provide transportation for their neighbors and friends who may need it. It is estimated that there are about 12,000 young men in Newton who will have to register. The polling places will be open for registration from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Fire alarm signal bells in Newton will be rung at 7 a. m. and again at 6 p. m. and all Newton churches are requested to ring their bells for ten minute periods at 7 a. m. and again at 6 p. m. When those who must register hear these bells, they are requested to go to the registration places, if they have not already done so. Persons wishing to volunteer their services in any capacity in connection with the registration, are requested to communicate with Roy Edwards, 25 Orchard ave., Waban.

Arthur A. Hunt, commander of Newton Post American Legion, requests that all places of business and all residents of Newton display the American flag on Wednesday, October 16. This request is made at the request of General Needham, chairman of the Newton Committee on Public Safety.

On Wednesday Governor Saltonstall made public the names of 2000 citizens of Massachusetts who will work without pay on draft boards in this State. These names have received the approval of President Roosevelt. Newton is divided into three districts. Areas 112 comprises Wards 1, 2 and 3. The members of the selective draft board in this area are—Judge Thomas Weston, 56 Valentine st., West Newton; William J. Doherty, 15 Broadway, Newtonville; Leon Rogers, 54 Kirkstall rd., Newtonville; Donald Hill, 16 Madison ave., Newtonville; Edwin O. Childs, 340 California st., Newtonville; Rogers Dow, 15 Varick rd., Waban, is appeal agent, and Dr. Egon Kattwinkel, 65 Sterling st., West Newton, is medical examiner.

Area 113 comprises Wards 4 and 5. The members of this draft board are—Judge Donald Mayberry, 141 Plymouth rd., Newton Highlands; Arthur Hunt, 16 Duffield rd., Auburndale; Dana Sylvester, 19 Mountfort rd., Newton Highlands; Albert Root, Jr., 138 Collins rd., Waban; Henry A. Wentworth, 221 Woodland rd., Auburndale; John C. Madden of 378 Centre st. is appeal agent, and Dr. Herbert G. Dunphy of 1229 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, is medical examiner.

Area 114 comprises Wards 6 and 7. The appeal board includes—Leslie A. Harwood, Jr., 945 Beacon st., Newton Centre; James H. Lowell, Hammond st., Chestnut Hill; Charles A. Rome, 65 Crosby rd., Chestnut Hill; James A. Walsh, Acacia ave., Chestnut Hill; Maurice Dennison, 132 Farlow rd., Newton; James P. Gallagher, 35 Rossmore st., Newtonville, is appeal agent; and Dr. Edward J. Sawyer, 488 Centre st., Newton, is medical examiner.

A meeting was held at City Hall on Thursday afternoon under the direction of City Clerk Grant to arrange for the registration. The Chief Registrar at each precinct will be the principal of the school building in which the registration is being conducted, or if the registration place is located other than at a school building, the principal of the school in that district or some other school department official. He will be assisted by the regular election officers, and many volunteers, largely composed of school teachers.

Order Park Street House Repaired Or Torn Down

Sinclair Williams of 237 Park st., Newton, appeared before the Board of Aldermen on Monday night to urge that a large, old residence and stable at 247 Park st. be ordered razed. He spoke for twelve owners of nearby properties who had signed a petition asking that these buildings either be demolished or repaired. He said the house has been unoccupied for two years, its windows have been broken and boarded up. It is used by children from other parts of the city as a hang-out, and that police have had to be notified to eject tramps who have bunked in the big, unoccupied house and stable. Williams referred to the house as one of those big, architectural monstrosities of the 80s, predicted it could not be sold, and is a fire hazard.

Dr. William Cotting of 243 Park st. concurred with Williams and added that a growth of evergreen trees close to the buildings in question, add greatly to the fire menace there. Dr. Cotting stated that children from Newton Corner use the buildings as miniature skating rinks. Henry Moody of Park ave., also asked that the buildings be razed.

Stanley Ward of 271 Chestnut st., representing the Union Savings Bank, owner of the property, said the buildings would either be repaired in the near future, or razed. Chief Randlett of the Fire Department and Buildings Commissioner Campbell recommended that both buildings either be repaired or razed, and the Aldermen voted to accept their recommendations.

Democratic Rally At Newtonville

A rally under the auspices of the Newton Democratic Ward and City Committee was held in the Newtonville Library on Monday night. Ex-Alderman Dennis Cronin stated that headquarters have been opened at 1357 Washington st., West Newton, and outlined activities in getting voters registered. Plans were discussed for bringing out voters on election day. Among those who addressed the gathering were Thomas H. Eliot, candidate for Congress; Thomas F. Waters and John J. Maguire, candidates for Representative in the Fourth Middlesex District; and William Bennett, candidate for the Governor's Council.

NATIONAL REGISTRATION DAY

Registration Day for National Selective Service has been designated as Wednesday, October 16th. Every male inhabitant between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-five is required to record the necessary facts about himself before the properly designated authorities. In Newton the newly appointed "draft" boards, chosen by the Governor and approved by the President, will be in charge of the three areas into which Newton has been divided. Election officials will handle the necessary clerical work. All steps and details essential to the efficient operation of the draft are in order.

The youth of our land is called upon for the initial step in patriotic defense of the country. The ultimate significance of this defense is yet to be revealed. No one can predict what the future may hold for us all. The National Selective Act, or in common parlance, the "draft", is the first peace-time conscription act in the history of the nation. It is planned to bring the standing army to an efficient size and to maintain this army, trained and ready for emergency. Other persons outside of the draft ages will have opportunity to be of service if that emergency arises. Unfolding events will chart the way.

First of all America must be ready. We have embarked upon a defense program, unlike any other in the history of the country. Let us face the world and say—"America is ready"—for better or for worse—we stand in defense of the land of the free and the brave. We will defend the principles and traditions of our great democracy to the end."

THE FALL FOLIAGE

The other day we made our annual pilgrimage into the woods and templed hills of southern New Hampshire. The fall foliage was in its glory. The Master Artist of them all had taken His brush and with the paints of nature had drawn a picture that no human hand could duplicate. Removed from the realism of the chaotic world of war, political campaigns, national and local problems, one finds a sense of peace amid the splendor of nature that encourages one's faith and brings a deeper meaning to life.

Newtonville Merchants Discuss Promotion Plans

Window displays, lighting effects and a prize for the best window decoration will add to the attractiveness of this shopping section. The traffic situation was discussed with the organization being responsible for the removal of complete parking restrictions in front of the library building to an hour privilege on angle parking. The all-day Washington st. parking situation near the railroad station was discussed and a recommendation in this regard will be forthcoming soon.

Preliminary plans for the holiday season were discussed. The membership committee will inaugurate an active campaign shortly. Officers of the Newtonville Board of Trade are Warren W. Oliver, president; James L. Higgins, vice-president; Herbert Kestle, treasurer; and Mrs. Alice Harrington, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Fagan of 833 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Elizabeth Fagan, to Paul Lincoln Wilson, son of Mrs. Andrew T. Wilson of Brighton. Miss Fagan attended Wellesley College and the Katharine Gibbs School. Mr. Wilson was graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy and Harvard College.

Announcement has been made by Mrs. George H. Bigelow of 100 New Hampshire st., Newton Centre, of her daughter, Miss Margaret Bigelow, to Joseph Allen Bloombergh, son of Dr. and Mrs. Horace D. Bloombergh of Chestnut Hill. Miss Bigelow is a member of the Vincent Club and the Junior League. Mr. Bloombergh was graduated from Harvard in 1937 and from the Harvard Graduate School of Business in 1939. He is a member of the Hasty Pudding Institute of 1770 and the D. U. Clubs.

Mrs. Francis J. Mague of Brighton, formerly of Auburndale, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Mague, to James Mague of Washington, D. C. The marriage will take place at Holy Trinity Church, Georgetown, Washington, D. C. on November 11.

Worthwhile Classes Are Offered By Newton Red Cross

Evening courses in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, and also in First Aid, are being offered by the Newton Chapter Red Cross, to be held at the Newton High School, on successive Thursday evenings, from 7 to 9 p. m. Miss H. Margaret Norcross will be the instructor, and lectures, as well as practical work, will be given in each of these classes. Certificates will be awarded for the satisfactory completion of each of these courses. The courses opened last Thursday evening, October 10th, but those who would like to enter may still do so by applying at Chapter Headquarters, 12 Austin st., Newtonville.

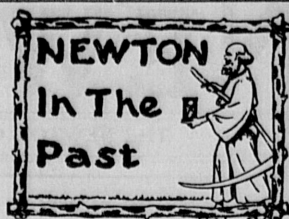

Courses in Care of the Sick instruct in methods of making patients comfortable and in what to do to aid in speedy recovery. The courses in Home Hygiene give information on sanitary measures, as well as on many other measures of assuring against illness and disease. The courses in First Aid are of equally inestimable value, in giving information as to what to do in case of accident or emergency, and what is even more important, perhaps, what not to do, in moments of stress and excitement.

Lower Falls Improvement Assn. Plans October Meeting

President Howard Lewis has scheduled the Opening Meeting of the Newton Lower Falls Improvement Association for Monday evening, October 14th, at 8:30 p. m. at the Hamilton School, Newton Lower Falls. The principal speaker will be Mr. Walker W. Daly, Manager of the Cambridge Field Office of the Federal Security Agency. Mr. Daly will explain the new type of Old Age and Survivors Insurance payments which first went into effect the beginning of this year.

Mr. Thomas P. Joyce of the Newton Firemen's Welfare Association will also be on hand to discuss the merits of the Two-Platoon System.

Mr. Clyde S. Casady, Chairman of the Civic Committee, has petitioned the Boston & Albany Railroad on behalf of the Association that the morning trains on the Newton Lower Falls Branch make a more direct connection at Riverside with express trains to Boston. Specifically, that there be a train from Lower Falls at about 7:45 a. m. to connect with the 7:54 a. m. express to Boston, and that the second train leave Lower Falls at about 8:12 a. m. to connect at Riverside with the 8:22 a. m. express. Such a program would do away with the present inopportune connections at Riverside and provide far better service for the regular commuters, and it is the belief of the Association that it would result in additional passengers as many local residents now either drive part way in and take the subway or drive to Riverside and take express trains. Mr. Casady pointed out in his brief to the railroad that a new development is being planned within the village, and that a reduction in the commuting time would make the development more attractive.

J. P. Cobb's Vocal Club will resume their rehearsals at his music room in Eliot Block, Newton, on Monday evening, October 5, at 8 o'clock. It is desirable that it be understood that this club is not a church affair, neither is it sectarian, but a club to which all good singers are welcome. The only expense is the annual membership fee. Music and all other expenses are borne by Mr. Cobb.

Those who have thought that the increased activity of the highway committee of the Board of Aldermen in having the various jobs on streets finished, is due to the approach of elections, are mistaken. It is the fine, cool, bracing air of Fall.

We hope our citizens of all denominations will not forget that Dwight L. Moody, the evangelist, will hold a two days' meeting at Eliot Church on October 1st and 2nd. All who attend are asked to bring their Gospel Hymns.

The performances advertised to take place at Eliot Hall last Saturday by the Boston Ideal "Uncle Tom Cabin" Company failed to come off, as the company did not put in an appearance. Some 500 or 600 gathered for the afternoon performance, and no doubt a larger number would have gathered for the evening performance. It is rumored that the troupe was crippled by meagre support elsewhere.

Col. Albert Pope went out with his fine span of horses last Saturday taking with him a Philadelphia friend and his daughter. On Washington st., near Park st., Brookline, the horses started to run and in turning a corner the right front wheel broke, throwing Mr. Pope to the sidewalk with such force as to break his collarbone.

The proposed lawn at the junction of Cypress and Parker sts., Newton Centre, has been surveyed and the subscription for the purchase is very encouraging. The area, about 2500 square feet, will be brought to the grade of abutting streets, the stone wall removed, and the small triangle in which stands a young elm tree will be included. A driveway will be built separating the lawn from the estate of E. C. Dudley. The Improvement Society will have charge of the work.

It is the purpose of St. Paul's Parish at Newton Highlands to run a barge from Needham to their church on alternate Sundays, to accommodate people living in Needham, Highlandville and Upper Falls. The barge will leave railroad square, Needham at 10 a. m., starting September 29.

We are convinced that the Highway Committee of the Aldermen has been unjustly criticised for the present condition of the streets of this city. Last year this committee after careful consideration recommended that $22,000 would be needed for reconstruction work this year. The Finance Committee cut this amount to $19,000. The Common Council, not to be outdone in economy, further reduced this figure to $15,000. The Highway Committee ought to have been the best judge of the amount needed, and subsequent results proved that the estimate of the committee was not too high.

Newton Graphic, September 26, 1890

A largely attended meeting of the members of the Newton Club was held in the clubhouse at Newtonville last evening for the purpose of considering the building of a new clubhouse. Samuel L. Powers presided, and the chairman of the executive committee, W. J. Follett, explained three plans which have been suggested. One, to buy the building now occupied; one, to build an addition to the present clubhouse; and the other—to erect a specially designed new building. The last plan was generally favored. It was voted to appoint a committee of five to procure plans.

It would be wise to filter any city water, and filters that will fit any faucet can be purchased at Barber Brothers for 50 cents.

"Commodore" John Cassidy's steamer "Watertown," recently built on the bank of the Charles River on the Watertown shore between Newton and Faneuil, made a trial trip down Boston Harbor on Thursday with a party of guests, and her boilers worked to perfection. Instead of carrying coal from Virginia to Watertown her first trip will be made in carrying fruit from Port Antonio to Boston.

Dr. Woodman of Newtonville hitched his horse in front of the Newton National Bank on Monday morning. During his absence an electric car came along, the horse got frightened at the new type of vehicle, climbed over the stone post, freed itself from the carriage, breaking the harness and the thills.

The Newton Street Railway began running its electric cars from Newton to Waltham last Sunday and the patronage astonished even the most sanguine members of the company. The cars were crowded all day Sunday, and continued on Monday, Tuesday and all through the week. Travel was so heavy that it was found impossible to keep scheduled time. At evenings the beautiful moonlight brought out the crowds, and during afternoons standing room was at a premium. A great deal was pleasure riding, of course, and cannot be depended upon as a steady thing, but the large number getting off at side streets showed that the cars will not lack regular patrons.

Sixteen cases of keeping unlicensed dogs come up in the Newton court tomorrow, and the dog-officer should collect considerable in fees.

Newton Red Cross Asks Donations of Several Articles

Typewriters, portable sewing machines, and Fairbanks scales are greatly needed by the Production department of the Newton Chapter of Red Cross, and gifts of these articles would be appreciated, to facilitate the work of preparing and shipping the garments and knitted wear which are sent overseas to war victims. Mrs. Carl H. Hanson, chairman in charge of this production and shipment, is sending boxes of these articles of clothing as fast as the women of Newton can make and knit them.

Luce Files Bill To Equalize Pay

Congressman Robert Luce announces that he has filed in the House a bill to create Labor Boards at Military Establishments for the purpose of equalizing the rate of pay in manufacturing plants as between Navy Yard and Arsenal. Attention has been invited to the fact that the rate of pay for certain classes of work at the Watertown Arsenal is below that allowed at the Boston Navy Yard—probably due to the less flexible method of arriving at determination by the War Department. This bill has for its purpose giving to Arsenal employees the same procedure at arriving at decision as to the prevailing rate of pay for similar type of work in private industry in the immediate locality.

Women Of Rotary Aid Bazaar, Bridge and Tea

Mrs. John L. Elliott of West Newton is chairman of the gift table and will be assisted by the following Newton women: Mrs. Frank Appleton, Mrs. Thomas Fyles, Mrs. Harold Higgins, Mrs. Eugene Howell, Mrs. Chas. McClure, Mrs. Thomas Murray, Mrs. John Peil, Mrs. Walter Phillips, Mrs. Chas. Sanborn, Mrs. Robert Sellers, Mrs. Robert Tibolt, Mrs. Clarence Thyng, Mrs. Alton Welton.

Women's Democratic Club Hears Candidates

Local candidates addressed the Women's Democratic Club of Newton at 1075 Beacon st., Newton Centre, on Wednesday evening, October 9, 1940. Thomas H. Elliot, Democratic candidate for Congress from 9th Congressional District stressed the work he accomplished while he was Regional Director of the Wage and Hour Division of New England, how he enabled underpaid workers to collect over $200,000, also his duties as counsel on the Social Security Board which brought about favorable legislation on the Social Security Act.

Also addressing the group was Thomas F. Waters, Democratic candidate for Representative from the 4th Middlesex District.

Quincy Triumphs Over Newton 7-0

Newton Outplays Granite City Team But Fumble Proves Costly

On its first away from home trip of the 1940 football season last Saturday the Newton High eleven returned from the new municipal stadium at Quincy on the short end of a 7 to 0. The solitary touchdown once again showed how one slip can bring defeat in a game in which the winning side is considerably outplayed. Newton chalked up ten first downs to three for the Granite City team. The orange and black piled up a total ground yardage of 134 yards to add to another 45 through the air while the home team's total was approximately half. Newton was set back but 20 yards in penalties while the rough-riding Quincy forwards cost their team 55 yards. In the first period after Newton advanced the kickoff past midfield the ball was never on the Newton side of the 50-yard stripe until after the teams had switched playing fields to open the second session. Added to this Newton had three real scoring opportunities, all of which went glimmering when the attack was stalled.

Despite these advantages one costly misplay gave Quincy the verdict. A fumble on the Newton 28 yard line early in the second period gave the Granite City lads an opening. They capitalized with a tricky lateral which swept them down the field to the three yard line in one play. Newton staved off the thrust for two plays but on the third try Co-Captain Lanny Ombardi crashed through his left tackle for the score. His educated toe added the point by placement.

Newton battled valiantly to tie the score throughout the remainder of the game but each sally was averted before it became too threatening.

First Period

Newton put the ball in play on its 35 where the opening kickoff had gone out of the field of play. Joe Beatty and John Fahey ground their way to the Quincy 40 but here the air attack failed to click and Beatty was forced to punt with Beatty's boot going to the Quincy 12. Quincy quickly kicked to its own 35. Newton marched again, reaching the Quincy 13, but lost the ball at that point on downs. Quincy kicked to the 44 and Newton began again. A Joe Beatty to Teschner pass clicked for 17 yards, an offense for Quincy brought 5 more, and a Beatty to Fahey toss put the ball on the Quincy 7. Co-Captain Hal Boston averted danger by intercepting Beatty's next heave as the period ended.

Second Period

Quincy gained a first down with Lombardi and Capacelli alternating. Lombardi punted to the Newton 39 to put the ball beyond midfield for the first time since the kickoff. Booth fumbled but a backfield teammate recovered. On the next play Al Savignano fumbled and no one was on hand. Di Rado, coming from nowhere, covered the ball for Quincy on the Newton 28. A Lombardi to Capacelli lateral caught Newton unaware and the latter raced down to the three yard line before being halted. Lombardi hit the line twice, was stopped, but on the third try went over and converted the point after. For the remainder of the period Newton had possession of the ball in Quincy territory most of the time. As the half ended Buckley of Quincy punted from his 8 yard line.

Third Period

Fahey ran the kickoff back from the Newton 10 to the 37. Joe Beatty gained 7 yards in two rushes and punted to the Quincy 20. Two plays failed to gain and Quincy kicked. On the second exchange of kicks Quincy was penalized for roughing the kicker and it was Newton's ball on their own 45. Plugging the line brought the ball up to the Quincy 26 but a 15 yard penalty set it back to the 41. Two incomplete air heaves and Joe Beatty punted to the Quincy 10 to end the period.

Fourth Period

Buckley got away for 20 yards to open the final session. On the next play Betz got through to nail Capacelli for a 12 yard loss. A 15 yard penalty put the Granite City boys back to their 3 yard line. Bill Kalousdian crashed through to partially block Buckley's punt and Newton covered the ball on the Quincy 11. Di Bona and Boston stopped the Newton attack cold. Joe Beatty tossed a pass to Avantaggio which glanced off the latter's finger tips in the end zone. Then Quincy took the ball on downs. Kicking from the shadow of the goalposts Buckley got the ball out to his 44. Newton took to the air again with a Beatty brothers pass good for 6 yards. On the third pass Boston intercepted and carried to midfield. Quincy drew 15 yards more penalty and failing to gain in two plays kicked to the Newton 10 with Joe Beatty running it back to his 26. Capacelli intercepted Beatty's pass and was downed on the Newton 16. Buckley was nailed for a 12 yard loss by Captain Bob Beatty. A nine yard loss came on a fumble recovered by the Quincy backfield and another loss of a yard had carried the ball back to the Quincy 38. Buckley's kick went to the Newton 14. With their attack failing to function Beatty kicked a 50-yard beauty to the Quincy 33. Two ground plays and a punt to Beatty brought the game to a close.

POSTAL BOWLING LEAGUE STARTS SECOND SEASON

Last Monday night at the Community Alleys, Newton, the postoffice employees bowling league, comprised of postal workers in the various branches in Newton, Waltham, Watertown, Needham and Wellesley, commenced their second season with close matches which resulted in the Newton P. O. team resting in top place. Charles McCarthy of the Wellesley Hills team won the prize donated by the alleys management for the high three string total. The league officers are Joe O'Gorman, president, Mike Whelan, vice president, Joe Smith, Secretary, and Pat Hanson, treasurer. The season will wind up in April with a banquet at Hotel Westminster, Boston.

Newton To Face Strong Everett Team Tomorrow

A slowly improving yet injury handicapped Newton High football team journeys to Everett tomorrow for its third game of the season. With a win and a loss in the two games played the locals stack up against a heavily favored rival which has supposedly begun to find itself and which goes into tomorrow's fray confident of running up a score on the orange and black. Yet pride goeth before a fall and there never yet has been a Newton-Everett game where one team has been a heavy favorite but what the opposing eleven has played inspired football to make the outcome uncertain until the final whistle has blown.

At mid-week Coach Owen MacDowell of Newton gazed wearily at the injury-riddled squad which numbered the Beatty brothers, Captain Bob and halfback Joe, John Fahey, Bill Kalousdian, Phil Teschner and Bob Kleier among the missing. As late as yesterday it was almost certain that Fahey would not be on hand. Bob Beatty was listed as a doubtful starter, while the others were believed to be available provided they could shake colds, slightly sprained ankles, and other minor ailments which had sidelined them.

Every dark cloud has a silver lining, however, and Coach MacDowell stated that his team "can win if they play the football they are capable of playing. We are going up against a good football team, made up largely of veterans who are smart. Newton will play a good hard game although injuries have slowed us up when we ought to be hitting our stride in this third game."

The Newton starting backfield will probably have Hooper at quarter, Gus Avantaggio and Joe Beatty at the halves and Phil Fessenden at fullback if John Fahey is not ready to play. A bad leg has kept him out of school this week with a boil in back of the knee. Al Savignano, reserve wingback, has been shifted to the second string blocking back position and will relieve Hooper. The shift makes room for George MacEvo whose ability as a pass receiver strengthens the attack of the second backfield. George Norcross, another reserve back, has been showing considerable in practice this week and will undoubtedly get an early chance. More good news is the return of Charlie French to active duty. Following a dislocated shoulder three weeks ago one of Coach MacDowell's most promising backs was sidelined. He has taken part in light scrimmage work this week and although not ready for lengthy service he will be used sparingly when the occasion warrants his presence.

Dick Lowry will be back in his starting berth at center with Bill Rangnow being ready to step in at a moment's notice. With Lowry out last week Rangnow made the most of his chance and played a good steady game with but little relief. Undoubtedly Rangnow will get an early opportunity if the going is rough.

Doherty and Kleier will be the starting guards although the latter was bothered with a cold earlier in the week. Art Healey will start at one tackle with Bill Kalousdian a doubtful starter as the other tackle. Kalousdian has been nursing a slightly sprained ankle and if the injured member is not strong McCarthy will get the call.

Phil Teschner, bothered somewhat by a boil behind his ear, will be starting at one end with Captain Bob Beatty champing at the bit if he is held out. The Newton captain has an ankle sprain which at first was feared a break but x-rays revealed no fracture. If he is not ready Larry Tempesta or Phil Walsh will take the field.

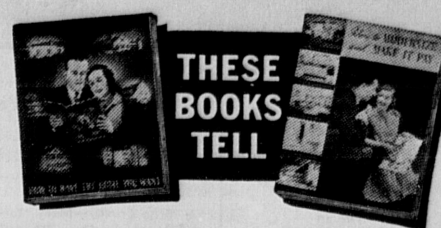

In opposing Everett the locals will meet a type of defensive play which they have not faced this year. Coach Glida uses a 5-man line. The Red horde is largely a veteran eleven with strength, ability and smartness. It is one of the early season State champion contenders.

The starting backfield is comprised of four powerful, hard-hitting lads with Rudy Romoli at fullback, Capt. Bill DeRosa and Vic Finos at the halves, and Lou Leo at quarter. Held to a 7 to 7 tie with Leominster in the first game the Glida outfit plowed its way over Salem to the tune of 13 to 0. Vic Finos was the star with a 56-yard runback of one punt for a score and the passing star of the march which led to the second tally. Against Leominster he also tossed the pass that set up the tying counter. The Salem weakness was largely in the failure of the ends to get down under punts allowing Finos to get away to a good start behind good blocking.

Friday night Lynn Classical topped Revere 13 to 0—the prediction "looks like Lynn by one touchdown." Arlington's 19 to 0 win over Fitchburg was on the "nose" with the forecast "Arlington should turn back the invaders by a close margin of two or more scores." The third, "hit" was the Woburn win over Winthrop with this prophecy—"A stubborn Woburn crew may click against Winthrop—although the margin may be only one touchdown." Woburn clicked to the tune of 26 to 6.

Last week we had to take an assist on the Waltham-Providence Central 7-7 tie and here we are again with another Waltham-Somerville tie by the same score 7-7. The prediction had been Waltham by two touchdowns.

The biggest upsets which were not looked for were the Watertown 10 to 0 win over Brookline although the score does not show the closeness of the game (it was 3 to 0 until the last minute of play) and the Medford 13 to 0 win over State champion Brockton. This latter upset spoiled a 22 straight undefeated string for the Shoe City boys while for Medford it was a decided Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde act after two defeats from Worcester Trade and Melrose. In the Everett-Salem setto we saw a probable scoreless tie but the red wave got rolling for a 13 to 0 count. Our fourth error was on Newton's journey to Quincy where we had picked a one touchdown win for the orange and black.

Tomorrow's Forecasts

Newton at Everett—a pregame favorite Everett has more power but may be underrating Newton. We will not sell the orange and black short but will pick Newton to play inspired football, upset the dope, and come back with a 7 to 0 victory.

Haverhill at Lynn Classical—the Lynn team should turn back the invaders by at least a one-touchdown margin.

Medford at Somerville—on the upsurge of an unpredictable win over Brockton last Saturday, we look for Medford to battle Somerville even. A scoreless tie or a one-touchdown score for each.

Rindge at Waltham—Rindge has been gunning for Waltham. Their usual first game date was set back to the fourth game date this year. The Watch City has been held to a tie by both Providence Central and Somerville. It should be Waltham's first win by a narrow margin.

Wakefield at Woburn—when these two rivals get together almost anything can happen. We'll pick Wakefield by two touchdowns.

Brockton-New Bedford—The Shoe City will get back on the victory path at the expense of the Whalers although two regulars are out of action. A two touchdown margin for Brockton.

Boston Latin-Brookline—The Wealthy Towners also should get back on the winning road. Weight and power will tell against a Boston Latin team that is none too strong. If Brookline gets rolling look for a large score.

Tennis

In a return match played October 6th, the tennis team of United Shoe Machinery Corporation defeated North Gate Tennis Club of West Newton at the latter's courts on Waltham st. by a score of 6 matches to 4, with one unfinished tie.

In the singles J. Camarda, United Shoe, defeated Jack Carder 7-5, 6-4; W. Cobb, North Gate, defeated R. Davis 6-1, 7-5; R. Duncan, United Shoe, defeated R. Posner 6-4, 7-5; R. Forte, Jr., North Gate, defeated V. Kraeger, 6-3, 6-4; and Doris Forte, North Gate, defeated Esther Bunk, 6-2, 6-4.

In the doubles Carder and Cobb, North Gate, defeated Davis and Duncan 6-1, 6-3; Kraeger and Camarda, United Shoe, defeated Posner and Forte, Jr. 6-4, 11-13, 6-1; Healy and O'Hare, United Shoe, defeated Chapin and Goldberg 7-5, 6-2; Miller and Smith, United Shoe, defeated Forte, Sr. and Ridder 6-1, 6-0; Esther Bunk and J. Camarda, United Shoe, defeated Doris Forte and H. Chapin 6-4, 6-4; and Grace Sisson and R. Posner, North Gate, drew with Janet Murphy and L. Miller 6-3, 2-6, 5-5 (unfinished). SPORT NOTES

Don Forte, former Newton football centre, scored the first 1940 touchdown for Harvard last Saturday in the 14 to 0 victory over Amherst. Forte is first reserve right end and caught a pretty pass from Don McNicol on the 5-yard line to go over for the tally.

Bob O'Brien, son of Dr. Eddie O'Brien, is the starting tackle on the Dartmouth team. He was unable to make the first string his freshman year, did not report as a sophomore, but returned as a junior last year to earn a first string berth and be voted the most improved player on the squad by his mates. Bob Liming, another former centre at Newton High a few years ago, is on the Dartmouth squad as a quarterback.

"I Asked for It"

"It seems kind of funny, after years, but the other day I actually went in and asked to buy some life insurance. In fact, the only way I could get it was to ask for it, because it was Savings Bank Life Insurance."

"I certainly like the Savings Bank Life Insurance idea of keeping all operating costs low and passing along the benefits by means of dividends as well as low premium rates. I'm 35, and at my age the premium is only $1.96 a month per $1000 of straight life insurance."

perley inquired if there is any opposition to the proposed billboard on the roof of the building at 1223 Chestnut st. and Mr. Mitchell replied that he knew of none. Mr. Temperley stated that he understands there is some opposition. Alderman Hoffman asked Mitchell regarding the State laws relative to billboards, and the latter outlined the billboard law passed in 1924 and the resultant litigation which resulted in the Supreme Court upholding the State in 1935.

Kenneth W. Rogers, representing the Newton Bankers Association stated that this body objected to the proposed billboards or any other similar billboards in Newton. Ex-Alderman Albert Lyon said he has been a resident of Newton for 34 years, and as a citizen is opposed to any billboards in this city. He said that Newton is not concerned with advertising products made elsewhere, so that such advertisements may be read by persons passing through the city. Mr. Lyon said that for many years large billboards were kept across from city hall near the junction of Commonwealth ave. and Walnut st. against the protests of Newton citizens, and that the company took this fight to the highest court. He said that the billboard interests are starting behind scratch in court public good-will, after the way in which they fought the State over a long period in the effort to nullify the

Speeders Fined In Newton Court

Raymond Landry of 82 Oxford rd., Newton Centre, was found guilty in the Newton court last Friday of speeding. As it was his second conviction within a year for such an offence, in accordance with the State law he had to be fined $25. But, he did not pay the fine, as Judge Donald Mayberry suspended it. Speeding charges against Kathryn Kelley of Milton and Forrest Patnode of Allston were also placed on file, and so was a charge against Albert Snyder of New Rochelle, N. Y., who disregarded a traffic signal and drove by it with the red light against him. Edgar Babineau of Waltham and Mary Baker of Brookline each was fined $5 for speeding.

In the Newton court on Oct. 3, Frank Cutter of Somerville was fined $20 by Judge Mayberry for driving a car so as to endanger the safety of the public. On Sept. 6, a car driven by Cutter hit a car driven by Guy Emro of Maynard at the intersection of Watertown and Walnut sts., tipping Emro's car over.

In the Newton court last Friday fines of $5 were imposed by Judge Mayberry on William Grow, 767 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre; Frank Wesson, 18 Maple st., Newton; John Misker, Gloucester; Herbert Stover, Jr., Brockton. Among those charged with speeding, but whose cases were placed on file because it was their first conviction, were Antonio Saroca, Webster st., West Newton; Richard Cody, 6 Aberdeen st., Newton Highlands; Walter Gladwin, Wamesit rd., Waban; William Picardi, Charlestown. Edward Schwartz of Kenilworth st., Newton, was charged with not stopping his car before entering a through way. His case was filed.

dominating an entire industry in the United States, but during the depression, this method did not prove to be sound. The businesses which have survived the depression to the best advantage appear to be those which are within, or are more nearly within, the capacity of an individual man, or of a small group of men, to understand and maneuver. The businesses which have weathered the storm most successfully are those of relatively moderate size which have been able to shorten sail readily and to set their sails promptly to catch temporarily favorable breezes.

"Yet, in the face of this experience in private business, we are continuing to pile additional duties upon our federal government colossus which already has grown far, far beyond the size which any business colossus ever developed. We seem unable to learn the lesson which our experience in private business should have taught us, the lesson that tremendous size of itself increases the difficulty of administration to such an extent that it completely outruns any human capacity of intelligent and successful direction.

"Let any of you feel that my remarks are intended purely as criticism of the federal government, let me say that of course the same thing happens, though to a lesser degree, through centralization of administration in state capitals.

"Central government should work, so far as possible, through local authorities. This will result in the decentralization of a large portion of the control which is now exercised in Washington. It will also result in preventing a large measure of further centralization."

More than 120 men attended the annual two-day Scouters' Roundup of Norumbecia Council, Boy Scouts of America, at Nobscot Reservation Saturday and Sunday, October 5th and 6th.

The program opened with a cooking demonstration under the direction of Bob Austin, which was followed by a supper prepared by Stanley Walden. A tour of the reservation was conducted by Henry T. Dunker, Commissioner.

Scout Executive Leigh M. Nisbet led the discussion of plans for the coming year at the evening campfire. The newly elected president of the Council, Benjamin W. Guernsey, gave the opening address.

Six discussion groups on problems of Scouting were conducted after church on Sunday morning as follows: "Scout Advancement," Ralph B. Emery; "Senior Scouting," Maxwell E. Gaddis; "Cubbing," Philip C. Shute; "Camping at Nobscot," Samuel P. Allison; "Troop Committee," Bob Austin; and "Scoutmastering," Robert X. Perry. New England Regional Deputy Scout Commissioner.

More than 50 men took part in the bridge building demonstration under the direction of Richard B. Peirce at 10:00 a. m. on Sunday. The Roundup closed with dinner in the troop cabins.

Making arrangements for the event were Henry T. Dunker, Commissioner; Ernest G. Angvine, Field Commissioner; Harry G. Anderson, Jr., Massachusetts Commissioner; Robert Austin, Sachem Commissioner; Everett L. Oids, Squanto Commissioner; Philip C. Shute, Deputy Commissioner of Cubbing; John W. Young, Viking Commissioner; and Edmunds Lingham, Quinobegun Commissioner.

Adult Groups Discuss Problems of Economics

In connection with the Adult Discussion Group meetings each Tuesday evening at the Newtonville Library such questions as the following are considered: Is there a practical way to prevent wars? Are we bound to have chronic unemployment of millions of people? Are industrial depressions necessary? Should the government conscript land? Do Labor and Capital have any fundamental reason to fight with each other?

The answer to the last question is that their interests lie in common so they have no reason to be at each other's throats. Any person who does not agree with that conclusion should attend these Tuesday evening meetings and present their views. The meetings are informal and anyone may express his own ideas. The discussion is under the leadership of E. D. Van Tassel, Jr.

Many startling disclosures are made and the group is led to think through to a definite conclusion and to acquire a thorough grounding in the fundamentals of economics. "Until there is correct thought, there cannot be right action; and when there is correct thought, right action will follow."

The course is conducted by the Boston Extension of the Henry George School of Social Science which is chartered by the University of the State of New York. There is no charge for tuition. No enrollments will be permitted after next Tuesday evening.

Bus Detour

ing of the buses at the intersection of Washington and Walnut sts. causes a traffic hazard. Alderman Colby asked Mr. Hanson if the buses cannot be operated along Walnut st. to Watertown st. and turned around at the triangle there. Mr. Hanson replied that if this were done, the schedule of the line could not be maintained. He commented that there had been only two slight accidents in ten years in connection with the turning of the buses at Newtonville sq.

Alderman Gaddis, chairman of the Street Traffic Committee for the Aldermen, asked Mr. Hanson if he did not believe that Foster st. is too narrow to be used by the buses, and Hanson replied in the affirmative. Alderman Gaddis then stated that he had talked with Chief Hughes that day, and the chief had been to the conclusion that Foster st. is too narrow to be used by the buses, and that further study should be given this matter.

George Taylor of 30 Foster st. said that all the property owners on the street are opposed to buses being routed over that street. He said cars owned by members of the Central Congregational Church are parked on the street during services. J. A. Brackett of North st., speaking for the Central Congregational Church, said that space on Foster st. is needed for parking purposes for those attending services at that church. Rev. Randolph Merrill, pastor of the church, said that in addition to parking on Foster st. by the church members, there is also considerable parking there by patients of two doctors, one of whom resides at either end of the street.

Carl Millard, representing the Newton Improvement Association, said that organization is opposed to the use of Foster st. by the buses. City Clerk Grant read letters of protest from Peter Turcotte, owner of the Colonna Apartments, and Rupert Thompson of the Newton Chamber of Commerce. Ex-Alderman Albert Lyon said he has often observed the buses turning around at the square, that caution is used, and no traffic disturbance results. He called attention to the many accidents which have occurred at Washington st. and Lowell ave., where there is a blind bridge approach, and said to route buses around that intersection would only increase the hazard there.

On a rising vote about 15 Newtonville residents expressed opposition to the plan.

Newton Archers Try Novelty Handicap Plan

On Saturday the Newton Archers tried a novelty handicap system as the record book of regular handicaps was missing. Adrian Matthews conducted the field of twenty-two archers.

The archers winning the handicap prizes were Carl Pohlman, Vera G. Andrews and Adrian Matthews.

The men holding high American scores were Adrian Matthews 89-611 and Walter Kimber 86-572. For the women Anita Howarth 81-425 and Dorothy Matthews 56-304 placed first and second, while Ernest Bradley with 82-391 placed first and Leo Dorfman was second with 74-318 for the juniors.

Columbus Day the Newton Archers expect many archers from the various clubs in the state. The Massachusetts State Archery Association has been invited to share the championship tournament. The tournament is scheduled to begin promptly at nine thirty for the first round to be shot by the men is a long one.

The rounds usually shot in the men's championships are the York and the American. For the York, the men shoot 72 arrows at 100 yds., 48 at 80 yds. and 24 at 60 yds. The American Round is 30 arrows at each distance of 60, 50 and 40 yds.

The women's rounds are the National and the Columbia. They are shorter than the rounds the men are shooting. The National has 48 arrows at 100 yds. and 24 at 50 yds. The Columbia round begins with the 50 yd. distance, followed by forty and thirty yds. For that round, twenty four arrows are shot at each distance.

Art Exhibition Features Block Prints, Etchings

The Art Gallery of the Newton Centre Woman's Club will open on October 16 with its first exhibition of this season when Mr. Tod Lindemuth and his wife Elizabeth B. Warren, noted artists from Provincetown, and of the winter colony in St. Augustine, Florida, will exhibit their paintings, etchings, dry points and block prints.

Elizabeth B. Warren etchings have been exhibited in all the leading Print Shows of America. Her most recent prize was the first award for "Black and White" in Florida Federation of Art.

Tod Lindemuth's work in Block Printing is unique, and he is known throughout this country as one of the finest exponents of this art. All the principal galleries have examples of his work. Three of Mr. Lindemuth's prints were selected for "Fifty Best Prints of the Year."

The two types of work make an interesting display since block prints are of necessity broad, rich interpretation of a given subject while Miss Warren's art is a fine detailed interpretation. It is seldom that two artists and particularly a man and his wife can form a show so varied and interesting.

Mrs. John M. Colony has charge of this exhibit. A tea for the artists and guests is arranged on the opening day. Mrs. Walter D. Knight is hostess and Mrs. J. Wesley Shaw Jr., has charge of the flower arrangement for the tea table and gallery. The pourers are Mrs. Elmer Davis, Mrs. Mae Smith Dean, Mrs. Edward A. Estaver, Mrs. William C. Loring, Mrs. Jacob H. Randolph, Mrs. A. Gordon Wein and Mrs. Howard O. Winslow.

A Dancing Class with Mr. Russell D. Curry as instructor, has been formed and Club members and friends are invited to join. Membership is limited. Call Mrs. Burt for registration.

The bowling season opens October 17th at 10 o'clock at the Newton Corner Bowling Alleys, under the guidance of Mrs. John P. Kobrock and any number may be accommodated.

The Art Committee has an ambitious program for the year and will offer exhibitions at many of the Club meetings. A Class in sketching may be formed should members of the Club be interested. Visits to art exhibitions of importance and trips to historical houses and gardens, at various times during the year, will be sponsored by the Art Committee. Mrs. Edward J. Norris, chairman.

Spanish Classes and book reviews come under the direction of Mrs. Walter S. Marder, chairman of the Educational Committee, and further information concerning same may be obtained from Mrs. Marder.

The Ways and Means Committee, Mrs. Robert Lindquist, chairman, is hard at work for their very necessary funds. This year "The Pot of Gold Bazaar" is the main feature of the money-raising campaign and has been arranged so that all people of the community as well as Club Members may be interested.

A most attractive program, with many and varied topics, has been arranged by Mrs. Raymond Green, Program Chairman, for the regular Club days, and members may well look forward to an interesting year, under the leadership of Mrs. Frank E. Morris, president.

Powers' Paragraphs

Next Wednesday will be a fateful day for the young men of this country—and for their parents, other members of their families—and their sweethearts. Memories of 23 years are brought back to middle-aged and old folks as they recall the draft of 1917. They realize the emotions which are now surging through the minds—and the hearts of the young men of today, and those near and dear to them.

The men who have been appointed to serve on the three draft boards in Newton deserve the thanks of their fellow citizens. The task they have assumed will, without financial compensation, not be a pleasant one. They will be subjected to pleas and pressure from acquaintances and friends. We hope that they will have sufficient moral courage to be impartial and just. From our personal knowledge of some of those who will serve on the Newton draft boards, we know that these particular men will serve conscientiously.

One criticism has been made to us relative to the personnel of the Newton draft boards. It is—that not one of the fifteen citizens comprising the personnel of the three boards is a member of the wage-earning class. We believe this criticism is warranted. We don't know who submitted to (or suggested to) Governor Saltonstall the names of those whom he appointed to serve on these Newton boards. But, obviously, whoever did the submitting, and the Governor as well, did not take cognizance of the fact that his is a democracy, and that the membership of such important bodies as draft boards should be truly representative; that all classes should have received recognition. There are men in the proletariat class just as intelligent as those in professional and business life, and their knowledge of those in their stratum of society is better.

The increasing severity of the bombing of London, the success of the Nazi airmen in penetrating into the heart of that city in daylight raids, is causing apprehension to many in this country who have been hoping that Britain could stand-off the armed might of Germany and Italy. Britons in London, and elsewhere on that island, have displayed wonderful fortitude. But, the campaign of attrition constantly being waged by the Nazi air force, and the terrible privations which the coming of winter will bring to the millions of London's common people huddled day after day and night after night in cold, dank subways and other shelters, will require more than human fortitude to bear.

How many in this country realize the terrific odds which Britain is facing? Providing the huge Nazi war machine with weapons of destruction are three of the largest armament works in the world. Krupp's in Germany, Skoda in conquered Czechoslovakia, and Schneider-Creusot in France, in addition to many others. Even with all the war materials (and weapons) which the U. S. A. may send to England, Germany with its own, and the resources of the nations it has overcome, in addition to those of Italy, will for sometime to come have a tremendous advantage in the production of arms and munitions.

Frankly we are quite sceptical regarding the accuracy of the Gallup polls, as we stated in this column a couple of weeks ago. Since then we have read of similar opinions by various wide commentators, and in various newspapers. Has your vote been sought by the Gallup organization on any question? Have the votes of any of your neighbors been sought by Gallup?

The campaign for President is getting hot. President Roosevelt has the pole, but Willkie is making a hard drive on the home stretch.

This country is on the brink of an abyss. Despite alleged polls, the great majority of the people of the U. S. A. are opposed to the U. S. A. becoming involved in the war. They certainly don't agree with Major George Fielding Elliot that this country send its navy away over to Singapore and the East Indies to prevent Japan from seizing Indo-China, Hong Kong and Dutch East Indies, and probably the Philippines. While there is any possibility of the defeat of Great Britain, and the loss or surrender of much of the navy of that nation, it would be suicidal for this country to send its naval strength across the Pacific in an effort to keep the Asiatic possessions of Britain and what was the Netherlands from falling into the power of Japan. As we have been stating in this column for three years, what the U. S. A. should have done, and what it still has not done, is—to stop sending any and all war materials to Japan. We are still shipping pig iron, steel and other products which are vitally necessary to Japan to carry on its conquest of Asia, and which she cannot obtain, from the totalitarian countries.

The United States' naval strength is needed and will be more needed, not to protect Singapore, Hong Kong and other Far East possessions of European empires, but to protect the United States of America which are located between Canada and Mexico, between the Atlantic and the Pacific Oceans. This country is not prepared for war, needs at least two years to become even properly prepared for defending its home territories, and can better serve Britain by not becoming directly involved in war at present.

Pins Handmade

At one time pins were handmade and were so expensive that the money received or set aside by a woman for her personal expenses came to be known as "pin money."

Suspend Sentence Of Brighton Youth Who Stole Auto

Cornelius Crowley, 18, of 11 Hobson st., Brighton, was arraigned in the Newton court last Saturday on two charges of breaking and entering, and two charges of larceny. According to police testimony, on the night of May 29 Crowley entered the garage of Morton Ginsberg at 18 Priscilla rd., Chestnut Hill, pushed the car out onto the street, placed in it a bag containing eight golf clubs he had stolen from another car nearby, and drove the Ginsberg car away. The stolen clubs were pawned in Boston and the car abandoned. On June 13 Crowley entered the garage of Edward St. Couer at 61 Marlboro st., Newton and stole clothing and golf clubs valued at $165, hiding them along the B. & A. railroad tracks near Faneuil, where they were later recovered by Newton police. On the night of June 13 Crowley stole a car owned by Marie McDonald of 50 Washington st., Newton, which was parked in front of that address. He turned this car over to another Brighton youth, who drove the automobile into a tree at Brighton, badly damaging it. Newton police estimated that the value of the loot stolen by Crowley which had not been recovered was $100.

Despite all these charges on which Crowley was found guilty, his attorney asked that the defendant be placed on probation. Judge Mayberry stated that over a year ago he had asserted that he would break up the gang from Brighton which has been coming into Newton for years, stealing automobiles and burglarizing Newton homes, and he therefore would not grant the request. He therefore imposed a suspended sentence of 3 months in Billerica prison on each count against Crowley, and ordered that he make restitution for the stolen articles which had not been recovered.

Another 'Auto Teacher' Fined

For the second time within the past couple of weeks a man who had been teaching a girl how to drive an automobile was fined in the Newton court. On Thursday Judge Mayberry fined Carl Helgeson, 35, of 8 Plympton st., Waltham, $25 for driving to endanger, and $25 for leaving the scene of an accident without making himself known. Helgeson appealed. On the night of August 8 a car driven by a young woman under the license of Helgeson, who was with her, hit a car driven by Joseph Muike of Bacon st., Waltham, at the intersection of Chestnut and Fuller sts., West Newton. Muike's car was overturned and he was injured.

In court on Thursday Arthur Walker of 20 Hale st., Upper Falls, was fined $25 for refusing to turn over to Patrolman McKenna the registration plates of his car when the policeman demanded them. McKenna had been ordered to get the plates because Walker had not paid the excise tax on the car.

No, it wasn't SPEED we were after

THE mighty straight-eight that propels the 1941 Buick Century, ROADMASTER and LIMITED, is, we believe, America's most powerful standard-production automobile engine.

That suggests immediately that here is the instrument of great speed—but the fact is it wasn't speed we were after when we built it.

We were shooting for more efficient use of the fuel you burn—more economy, more power, more pick-up—yes, even easier car handling through less frequent need for shifting.

Above all, we were out to cut through a lot of the complications that feature current automobile design, and give you a simpler, sturdier, less involved mechanism.

Consider, for example, just one quality of this great power plant—the tremendous reserve of power it puts at your command.

At 20 miles an hour this Buick uses only 7.4% of its available power—at 30 only 9.7%—at 50, less than one-sixth, and so on.

The balance is available for acceleration, for pull on the hills, for overcoming sand, mud, gravel or other tough going.

You can see for yourself how this tremendous reserve, instantly available, eliminates much of your need for shifting to lower gears, hence makes unnecessary any involved device for this purpose.

It does even more—for with all this power, we can use a more economical gear ratio in our standard top speed.

And that means that all the time you travel in high—from 15 miles an hour on up—you are getting the equivalent of overdrive or fourth-speed economy without mechanical complication.

In consequence: miles per gallon go up as much as 10% to 15%.

This husky 165-horsepower giant actually gives more gasoline economy than our 107-horsepower engine of a year ago.

At 50 it consumes no more fuel than the same-sized engine of conventional design drinks up at 30.

The whys and wherefores of such performance are best understood when you have an engine to look at and someone to answer your questions about it.

Here we can say that two things account for all this good — FIREBALL® design that gets more power out of every gallon of gasoline and Compound Carburetion that gives your engine two distinct ranges of power.

Each of these is important enough to call for personal investigation.

But get off on the right start early—see your Buick dealer now about the year's most important engineering advance.

Eliot Says Luce Does Not Support Measures Favoring His District

Bowker Maintained Congressman's Record Unassailable In Regard to Matters of National Defense and Rearmament

A small audience gathered at the Hyde School, Newton Highlands on Tuesday night to listen to the debate between Thomas H. Eliot, Democratic candidate for Congress from this district, and Philip G. Bowker of Brookline, representing Congressman Robert Luce. The stormy weather of that night undoubtedly was a factor in keeping the attendance down. Rev. Ben Roberts served as chairman of the meeting.

Mr. Eliot said in part:

"In these times when both parties have endorsed our great program of social legislation, it is essential we elect Congressmen who will support and strengthen these social gains.

"Fortunately for the country, the two presidential candidates are pretty much in agreement that the social gains that we have made through legislation like social security, unemployment compensation, adequate relief, and minimum wages and maximum hours must be maintained and strengthened. Both parties have wholeheartedly endorsed these laws.

"This District is represented by a Congressman who has gone on record against these very laws. He has voted against the Wage and Hour Law which was designed to protect New England industry, a fair share of which is concentrated in the 9th District. He has in the past deplored the Social Security Act and only last year voted against all and any appropriations for relief, and offered in its place no alternative. In short, he opposes the very measures under which we have made our greatest progress and which both parties seek to retain.

"Is this the kind of representation that we want, or do we want a Congressman who is in step with the beliefs of the day and who will uphold and strengthen the laws that have become an integral part of our American way of life?"

Mr. Bowker stated that Congressman Luce's record on national defense since the outbreak of hostilities in Europe has been entirely in favor of all measures recommended by authorities responsible for this important matter and that so far as legislation is concerned, there was no political issue between the parties on adequate national defense. In reply to Mr. Eliot's arguments relating to Social Security, Mr. Bowker pointed out that the objection raised by Congressman Luce and other well-informed legislators was to the practice of the Administration in using money collected from employers and employees for current running expenses and the failure to establish an adequate reserve.

He also called attention to the glaring defects in the Administration of the National Labor Relations Act and the refusal of the New Deal Administration to permit wise amendment. Mr. Eliot also referred to his vote on the subject of airplanes for Great Britain. Mr. Bowker called attention to the fact that at no time have the Administration leaders ever permitted to come onto the floor of either

Mayor Thanks All For Registration Aid

In behalf of the City of Newton, I want to thank all of our citizens who helped in the Registration for Selective Service. The efficient manner in which the work was done is a tribute to our public-minded men and women. The officials and instructors in the schools gave freely and unselfishly of their time in every precinct of the City.

May we think of the work done on this day as a slight expression of appreciation to the men who came forward to register at their country's call.

PAUL M. GODDARD, Mayor.

Fifth Auto Death In Newton, 72-Yr.-Old Man Victim

The fifth automobile fatality in Newton so far this year occurred at 5:05 on Thursday afternoon, October 10, when Antonio Garito, 72, of 7 Bacon st., Newton, was hit while crossing the Worcester turnpike opposite 1015 Boylston st. by a car driven by Miss Grace Sullivan, 25, of 32 Charlotte st., Dorchester. The victim died at the Newton Hospital at 11:15 that night of a fractured skull.

Miss Sullivan in her report to the Newton police stated that she was proceeding easterly at a speed of about 30 miles when Mr. Garito ran in front of her car. She swerved sharply to the left in an effort to avoid him, but he ran into the right front fender. The aged man at first did not appear to be seriously injured and asked to be taken home, but he soon started to lapse into unconsciousness and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Patrolman James McHugh who was on traffic duty about 300 feet east of the scene of the accident, reported that he saw Garito hit, and Miss Sullivan was not at fault. Albert Carruthers of Christie ave., Waltham, who was driving a car behind that of the Sullivan woman's, also stated that the latter was not to blame.

Antonio Garito was born in Isola Lippi near Sicily and had lived in Newton 41 years. An industrious, friendly, little man, he had been employed by gardeners, and had been working on the day of his death for Paul Curcio of Waverley ave., who was doing some landscape work at the new real estate development near the turnpike. He was unmarried and is survived by two brothers, Salvatore and Giuseppe Garito, both of Watertown. His funeral service was held on Monday at St. Patrick's Church, Watertown, and burial was in St. Patrick's Cemetery in that town.

Newton Court Business Jumps

The drive for highway safety in Newton the past year and the increase in automobile cases from 821 the preceding year to 1919 for the year between October 1, 1939 to September 30, 1940, was mostly responsible for an increase of about 50 per cent in the number of criminal cases tried in the Newton district court over the preceding year. The total was 3031 as compared with 1990 for the 1939-1940 period. The number of civil writs entered in the Newton court was 1702. For the preceding year it was 1927.

During the year ending September 30, 1940 the number of juvenile cases tried in the Newton court totaled 105. The preceding year the total was 58. During the year 698 persons appeared in the Newton court to answer charges of drunkenness. The preceding year the total of persons accused of getting "soused" was 715. There was also a falling off in the number charged with drunken driving; 39 as compared with 55 for the preceding year. Of the many cases tried in the Newton court the past year, appeals were taken on only 52. The preceding year there were 94 cases appealed.

6176 Register In Newton For Selective Service

Instead of 10,000 young men between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive registering in Newton on Wednesday, as had been estimated, the total was 6,176. The 10,000 estimate was based on a country-wide average which supposed that 15 per cent of the population is of men between 21 and 35 years of age. Assuming that practically all of the young men residing in Newton who should have registered, did so, only about 9 per cent of this city's population is in that age range. It may be that a considerable number of Newton youths in colleges may have registered in the places where the colleges are located. Another explanation is that Newton has more inhabitants of middle age and older than has the average city.

In District 112, comprising Wards 1, 2 and 3, the total registration was 2814. In District 113 comprising Wards 4 and 5 the total was 1746. In District 114 comprising Wards 6 and 7 the total was 1616. The registration according to Wards and Precincts was as follows:

Ward	Precinct	Pre	Reg
1	2	1	400
2	1	1	189
2	2	1	201
2	3	1	442
2	4	1	128
2	5	1	155
3	1	1	308
3	2	1	233
3	3	1	443
4	1	1	372
4	2	1	73
4	3	1	102
5	1	1	336
5	2	1	209
5	3	1	178
5	4	1	176
5	5	1	96
6	1	1	264
6	2	1	286
6	3	1	252
6	4	1	171
6	5	1	194
7	2	1	254

Because of the fact that the number who registered was about 4000 less than expected, no delays were experienced at the many polling places in Newton where the registration was conducted, and more than enough workers were on hand to conduct the listing. In fact, all the workers who reported, were not needed. The chief registrar at each precinct was usually the principal of the school located in that precinct, or some other school official. Because nearly all the teachers of Newton public schools serve as assistant registrars, the schools were closed on that day.

The three Newton draft boards organized at meetings on Tuesday night. The boards will all work in the City Hall cafeteria rooms. District Board 112 elected Judge Thomas Weston, chairman and Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs, secretary; District Board 113, Judge Donald E. Mayberry, chairman, Dana S. Sylvester, secretary; District Board 114, Leslie Harwood, chairman, Charles Rome, secretary.

Newton Second In New Residences

Statistics published by the Massachusetts Department of Labor and Industries show that for the month of September Newton ranked second among cities in this State in the value of new residential construction. It was exceeded only by Boston. The total residential construction in Boston for the month was $253,300, including a $50,000 apartment building. Newton's total was $171,700; Worcester, $170,500; Wellesley, $154,600; Quincy, $147,900; Pittsfield, $83,550; Springfield, $81,350. In all types of building for September, Boston was first with $754,567; Worcester, $364,378; Quincy, $354,680; Newton, $222,165; Springfield, $200,426; Lynn, $198,425; Wellesley, $183,950.

Douglas and Chapple Speak For Willkie At Tonight's Rally

Lewis Douglas, former Director of the United States budget as an appointee of President Roosevelt, and Joe Mitchell Chapple, well-known lecturer and author, will be the speakers at the Willkie rally in the high school auditorium this evening. The rally, which is being held under the joint auspices of the Willkie Volunteer Committee and the Republican City Committee of Newton, will be preceded by a half-hour band concert by the Newton Post American Legion Band. Doors will open at 7:15, there will be no admission. The concert will begin at 7:30 and the speaking at eight.

Mayor Paul M. Goddard of Newton will preside and will introduce the speakers. Lewis Douglas is a lifelong Democrat, now endorsing the Republican presidential candidate. He resigned his position in the Federal Administration about a year ago. Joe Mitchell Chapple is a well-known speaker and is the author of a recent biography of Mr. Willkie.

Taxpayers' Head Criticizes Delay

The delay in the completion of the survey of all city departments authorized by the Board of Aldermen a few months ago was criticized by Charles B. Jones, president of the Newton Taxpayers' Association in his annual report to the organization at the annual meeting on Tuesday night. The meeting was held at the headquarters at 1357 Washington st., West Newton.

Mr. Jones credited Mayor Goddard for his co-operative attitude and consideration of suggestions, and economy measures in which the association interested itself. He pointed out the savings made in the street department including ash and trash collection as well as the sale of city owned horses.

Referring to the lack of progress made on the contemplated survey of other departments following aldermanic action in May Mr. Jones stated, "Since that time your president and secretary and a special committee of directors have interviewed the mayor on this subject but no further progress has been made. This association should consider seriously at this time what action they wish to pursue in connection with this important matter so that savings indicated as possible through such a survey can be passed along to the taxpayers as soon as possible. There has already been a delay which we believe has been extremely expensive to the taxpayers of this city."

Mr. Jones also referred to the matter of a central purchasing department, called attention to the benefits gained by elimination of "after-the-budget" appropriations, the setting up of a contingency fund, standardized preparation of budget figures, the study of the necessity of replacement of boilers and engines at the high school plant, the use of water revenue funds instead of the issuance of bonds, a study into the welfare and relief problems with resultant attention being given to the training of skilled workers, raised a question as to the procedure followed in the awarding of the garbage contract, the matter of the two-platoon fire alarm system, and other important matters of interest.

Would Utilize Large Area At Oak Hill, Some of the Land Comprising the Much Discussed Gravel Pit Area

At the meeting of the Oak Hill Improvement Association next Monday night, October 21 in the Oak Hill School, it is expected that Crocker Snow, director of the Massachusetts Aeronautics Commission will be present and talk on the proposed large airport at Oak Hill. Mr. Snow's talk is being awaited with great interest by residents of Oak Hill and vicinity. Few of the people residing in that section knew anything regarding this proposed big airport until Boston newspapers a couple of weeks ago published information released by the Civil Aeronautics Authority in Washington relative to 36 airports planned for New England, and for which over $10,000,000 had been tentatively allocated. One of these airports was planned to be located in Newton and the sum of $268,000 had been allocated for it.

Upon reading this news item, The GRAPHIC telephoned the Department of Public Works at the State House in an effort to obtain some information as to the location of the proposed airport in this city, and we were referred to the C. A. A. at East Boston. From that source it was learned that Lawrence Early of Park st., Oak Hill, had been working in behalf of the establishment of the airport, and that the matter had been taken up with the Mayor's office in Newton. We also received information from a Newton citizen who has unusual knowledge of most that goes on in this city, that the proposed airport would be located on that large area of Oak Hill between Dedham st. and the West Roxbury line which for the past 12 years has been gradually denuded of top soil and gravel, and that part of the Robert G. Shaw estate, formerly known as "Boulder Farm," would also be taken.

From the Mayor, The GRAPHIC learned that on June 11 he had appointed a committee to consider the advisability of planning a municipal airport for Newton at some future time. The Mayor gave us a copy of the letter he wrote on June 11 to Alderman Joseph B. Jamieson, chairman of the Public Works Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen, which is as follows:

Alderman Joseph B. Jamieson,
43 Homer Street,
Newton Centre, Massachusetts.

Dear Alderman Jamieson:
It has been brought to my attention that the City of Newton might very well inquire into the advisability ity of planning a municipal airport for some time in the future. In view of the rapid progress in the aviation industry and the present discussions relative to municipal airports, it would seem desirable to at least consider the question at the present time. The following committee has been appointed and has consented to serve, and I shall appreciate a report on this question.

Alderman Joseph B. Jamieson,
Chairman
Alderman Robert A. Whidden
Rupert C. Thompson
Henri D. A. Ganteaume
Lawrence Early
H. P. Law
Commissioner John D. Haughey

It would seem the function of this committee to advise as to whether or not the City of Newton should take any official action at the present time, and if not, whether it is desirable to make any tentative plans relative to possible future developments.

The Committee may very well decide on the question with reference to the technical and engineering problem involved as well as take into consideration the matter of public policy.

Very sincerely yours,
s/ PAUL M. GODDARD, Mayor.

Mayor Goddard stated he appointed Aldermen Jamieson and Whidden on the committee because both are members of the Public Works Committee, which would have to deal with the matter of an airport if and when one will be established in this city. Rupert C. Thompson, chairman of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, and John Haughey, Street Commissioner, were also appointed as representatives of the city. Also on the committee are Mr. Early, who has been working for the establishment of the airport, Henri D. Ganteaume, an industrial engineer, a member of the firm of Ganteaume & MacMullen of Boston, and resides on Beacon ave., Newtonville. H. F. Law was formerly a resident of Auburndale and still retains his legal residence there. He moved to New York about two years ago in connection with his work as Chief Engineer of the Civic Aeronautics Authority for the Eastern States. The committee has held a couple of meetings, but has made no report as yet.

Although the Mayor's letter in appointing the committee mentioned a municipal airport, according to the information printed in the Boston newspapers, the plan has been changed so that a large U. S. A. airport is now proposed for Newton in connection with the National Defense Program. (Continued on Page 5)

An examination will be held on Nov. 9 by the Civil Service Commission to fill the position of Sanitary Inspector in the Newton Health Department. The limit is 45 years and the job will carry a starting salary of $1680. It was authorized by the Board of Aldermen when this year's budget was passed last Spring and the position has been filled temporarily since July 1, 1940, by Norman Whitney of 457 Washington st., Newton. In the examination, training and experience will have weights of 2, and practical questions, 3. A mark of 70 must be obtained on each subject. Applications for the examination will be received up to Oct. 28. The duties of the position are similar to those which have been performed by Inspector Irving House for many years.

In detail the duties are specified as follows:

"To spend approximately half of his time in milk inspection work, about one-quarter in food inspection work, and the remainder in sanitary inspections and the investigation of nuisances. In the field of milk inspection, to make routine farm inspections and recommend correction of conditions on farms which might lead to an unsanitary condition of milk. To take specimens of milk at country receiving stations and be prepared to do microscopic examinations of these specimens. To identify the bacteria commonly seen in this examination and know their probable source. To do routine inspections of dairy farms, and to approve or disapprove these farms for the Milk Regulation Board certificate of registration. During the laboratory technician's vacation and when the specimen load in the laboratory is heavy, to personally carry on a standard plate count prescribed by the Standard Methods of the American Public Health Association. To do plate counts on water specimens and inoculate, incubate, read and interpret fermentation tubes, and to do the bacteriological work essential on swabs collected from eating utensils. To inspect restaurants, bakeries, meat markets, fish markets, and other food establishments which are under the supervision and subject to the inspection of the local health department. To investigate complaints and make recommendations for abatement and if necessary to take action in the local court against individuals who fail to comply with the regulations."

Newton Fireman Breaks Hip In Fall

Richard J. Cody, 64, of 30 Frederick st., Newtonville, a member of the Newton Fire Department for 31 years, broke his right hip on Monday afternoon when he fell from the roof of his garage, which was painting on his day off. He landed on a concrete wall, after slipping from the ladder on which he was standing. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. Cody, who has been a member of Engine 1 the past twenty-one years is due to be retired next May. He is one of the most courageous members in the department. Before becoming a Newton fireman he served with the United States Marines in the Philippines.

Electric Car Hits Aged Woman

Miss Hannah Ahern, 81, of 10 Chestnut ave., Jamaica Plain, was hit about 5:45 Sunday evening while crossing Tremont st., Newton, near Pembroke st., by a Boston Elevated car. She received a fractured right arm and a back injury. James McPadden of Florence rd., Waltham, motorman of the car, picked the aged woman from the street and carried her to the office of Dr. John Conroy at 183 Tremont st., where first aid was given. She was then taken to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and her name placed on the danger list.

Motorman McPadden reported that he first saw the woman as she walked in front of the car when it was at almost upon her. He applied the brakes and thought the aged woman had escaped being hit until he felt a slight bump on the side of the car.

Missionary Tells Tekawitha Club Of Heroic Nuns

Right Rev. William McGrath, priest apostolic at Lishui, Chekiang, China, who has spent 10 years in missionary work in that war ravaged region, was the speaker at a meeting of the Tekawitha Club at Sacred Heart School hall, Newton Centre, last Sunday afternoon. Monsignor McGrath was introduced by Bishop Richard Cushing. He said that the siege of Shanghai by the Japanese was a horrible massacre, and that in two and a half months 180,000 soldiers were killed.

Monsignor McGrath told of the heroism of 26 Catholic missionary sisters who refused to leave their convent after having been warned by the Japanese that their section of Shanghai was to be bombed. The sisters told the Japanese officers who warned them to leave—"There are 2500 helpless people there, and we cannot leave them." After the neighborhood had been bombed for 12 days and nights, the convent remained undamaged, although buildings on all sides of it were destroyed. Monsignor McGrath referred to the sisters as the unsung heroines of the siege of Shanghai.

Rotary Club

The regular meeting was held on Monday at Brae Burn Golf Club with President John Cahill presiding. Karl Switzer led the singing with Louis Hafermehl at the piano.

Governor Harry A. Starr of Waltham was present in an official capacity and was introduced by President John. The Governor stated that Rotary is "a way of life, an adjustment of character, a wheel that turns the best side of a man to the light, an experience in friendship."

Friendship, like electricity is hard to define, but it is the presence of either. Friendship, in nobility of spirit is compared to a precious stone; rare, genuine, beautiful, priceless, enviable.

Rotary is not a philosophy to preach, but a principle to practice.

Rotary International is a worldwide association of men of good-will, without distinction as to religion, politics or nationality who are impressed with a desire to serve society and the world; to develop better understanding among men with consideration for others; higher ideals in his business or profession; to help make the community a better place to live in and to assist in the achievement of peace and good-will.

The program of Rotary is expressed in its four objects: First Object, The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service. Second Object, The development of high ethical standards in his business or profession, the first phase being his own business or profession. Third Object, The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian in his personal business and community life. Fourth Object, The advancement of international understanding, good-will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

Prior to the World War II international relations were more in evidence than at present. Yes, Rotary has suffered. Many of the international contacts, which so splendidly exemplified the Fourth Object have been lost. "But, has Rotary ceased to exist in the hearts and minds of those, who through no fault of their own, find themselves under totalitarianism? No, we have not lost the friendship of these fellow Rotarians; we have merely lost touch with them temporarily and we hope we will be able to renew those friendships in the near future."

Powers' Paragraphs

That stretch of Route 128 in the towns of Needham, Dedham and Westwood has been the scene of many serious automobile accidents. The latest occurred last Sunday night and 7 persons were injured. There is very heavy traffic on week-ends and on every day in summer on this State highway, and cars are operated at speeds of 50 and 60 miles an hour. We have yet to see a State policeman patrolling this section of Route 128. There should be a concerted demand from Newton, Needham, Dedham, Brookline, Wellesley and the other cities and towns in this area for a reasonable degree of patrolling by State policemen on this very dangerous stretch of State highway.

The "love feast" of the Democrats at Symphony Hall Sunday night was slightly disturbed by a reference made by Hon. James M. Curley, allegedly knocking Mayor Maurice Tobin because the latter appointed Henry Parkman, Jr., a Republican, as corporation counsel of Boston. It would not seem consistent for Mr. Curley to make such a criticism, because he appointed two Republicans, E. Mark Sullivan and Samuel Silverman, to the same office.

What was until recent years Newton's most peaceful region, may in the future be something else. Until a dozen years ago that part of our city in the Southeast portion, known as Oak Hill, retained the rural, agricultural aspect which had characterized it since the first white men settled on it about three centuries ago. The Charles River flowed placidly along its South border with broad meadows intervened by a rolling terrain. Lack of transportation in the form of railroads or street railways had retarded the development of Oak Hill as a residential community. But, with the popularization of the automobile, and the enterprise of Arnold Hartman, Oak Hill rapidly developed into a high-grade suburban community.

Adjoining the Charles River meadows Southeast of Dedham st., and toward the West Roxbury line, a huge glacial moraine was located at the other side of Oak Hill village. About 13 years ago the Highland Sand & Gravel Company, of which George S. Wilbur of West Roxbury was the head, started to excavate sand and gravel on part of this area. Mr. Wilbur having acquired about 60 acres of land there. This area was in a residential zone, and the permit to start the operation of the sand and gravel business there, and the erection of a sand hopper and other machinery was granted by the then Public Buildings Commissioner, Cecil Chadwick. The authority to grant a temporary permit for such non-conforming use in a residence zone was then vested in the Public Buildings Commissioner. A couple of years later this authority was revoked.

Increasing opposition to the operation of the big gravel pit at Oak Hill, largely because of the noise of heavy trucks rumbling over Dedham and Brookline sts., caused the Board of Aldermen in 1936 to refuse to renew the permit, for the Highland Sand & Gravel Company to continue operation of its plant at Oak Hill. Wilbur obtained injunctions by which he has to date been able to continue operations at Oak Hill despite the action of Newton's Board of Aldermen and reports of masters appointed to render their findings on litigation between the city and Wilbur.

Last year the Board of Aldermen received a petition from Joseph Carroll of Belmont, who sought to obtain a permit so that much of the land which had been excavated of loam and gravel at that part of Oak Hill near the West Roxbury line, might be used for cemetery purposes as an adjunct to St. Joseph's Cemetery, which is located nearby in West Roxbury. Oak Hill residents protested. The Newton Board of Health made a report that the land had been so excavated that it might be a source of pollution to Newton's water supply if used for cemetery purposes, unless the area were first filled in and properly graded. The Board of Aldermen then refused to grant the petition entered by Mr. Carroll. Two weeks ago the denuded, barren area near Oak Hill again came into the limelight when a news release from the Civil Aeronautics Authority revealed that for some months plans have been discussed for the establishment of a huge airport at this location, and that $285,000 had tentatively been allocated for such an airport in connection with the National Defense program.

Naturally Oak Hill residents became perturbed over the probability of a huge airport adjoining their erstwhile quiet community. They had visions of young men being trained there in the huge preparations which lie ahead to provide the U. S. A. with thousands of pilots for its army. Certainly, they thought that an airport containing such a large area of land, and planned to cost such a large sum of money, might be used not only for military purposes in connection with the defense program, but also for commercial purposes. The prospect of airplanes large and small, and noisy, taking off from, landing on, and maneuvering over Oak Hill, did not appeal to persons residing within a mile or two of the locus in question. Some of the more timid Oak Hillites even thought of what might occur should the United States become involved in war in the future. Enemy airplanes seek out airports as bombing objectives, and bombs frequently fall wide of the objective. Some Oak Hill residents are already talking of selling their homes should the airport become a reality.

It is interesting to contemplate why the Civil Aeronautics Authority should consider as an airport a large area which has been so excavated as has that at Oak Hill and which would cost so much to properly grade for airport purposes, when there are so many sites equally near or equidistant from Boston which offer natural levelness for airports? It is also interesting to know that several years ago a prominent realtor who resided in Newton tried to interest army officials in the purchase of a certain large area of land in Needham, near the Charles River for an airport. The officials informed him that the site was not suitable because its proximity to the Charles River and the resultant fog conditions, caused the site to be undesirable for airport purposes.

We don't know, whether, or not, Crocker Show favors the establishment of the proposed, large airport at the Oak Hill site. If he does, he will have to present some very convincing arguments at the meeting of the Oak Hill Improvement Association on Monday night to convert the residents of that section to the desirability of having such an airport there.

The tragic death of Anthony Garito on October 10, when he was fatally injured by being hit by an automobile while crossing the Worcester turnpike at Upper Falls, again calls attention to the hazard modern traffic presents to aged persons. They constitute a large percentage of pedestrians fatally injured by automobiles. Sometimes it is the fault of the operator of the automobile. Other times it is the fault of the pedestrian. Old persons' faculties become dimmed with age. They do not think as fast or move as fast as in their younger years. Antonio (little Anthony) Garito had lived and worked in Newton and vicinity for over 40 years. A native of Lipari, one of the famed, little Aeolian Islands, east of Sicily, he was a quiet, industrious, little man, and despite his 72 years, capable of still performing rugged labor.

PICKS AND SHOVELS AT ST. MARY'S

St. Mary's Church, Lower Falls, is calling out its manpower for a day of hard labor on Saturday of this week. The cost of the new Parish House was so great that expenses had to be cut wherever possible. The Committee figured that the grading around the building could be done by volunteers, so it saved a lot of money by dropping that item out of the contract. Now the time has come to do the work and save the money. Word is being spread among all male parishioners and friends to appear on Saturday, Oct. 19, with shovel, pick or rake if they have one, for as many hours as they can spare, or as long as the old muscles will last. "The Boss" will be on hand to welcome and direct "hands" at any time after 8 a. m. A bull-dozer will be there to do the heaviest work. Work will go on into the afternoon, so that all who plan to knock off for lunch at the whistle should bring a lunch; the belles of St. Mary's will provide hot coffee. The committee has promised that any who are too stiff for golf or gardening on Sunday morning will find seats reserved for them at the 10:45 service.

HARVEST SUPPER

A harvest supper will be held on Saturday evening, Oct. 26, at 6:30 o'clock by St. Philip's Guild, Waban. It is gratifying to note the rapidly approaching completion of Farlow Park. It bid fair to extend its usefulness into the indefinite future, but the vigor with which the improvement has been pushed during the summer brought comfort to the discouraged and assessed abutters.

The Newton Board of Health on last Monday visited Wellesley and Needham for the purpose of examining the source of the water supply on the Charles River. We understand they discovered nothing of a very serious nature; still they found some things that need rectifying and have taken steps to have these matters remedied.

The last open air service and praise meeting of this season by the Newton Band of Hope was held at the residence of Mr. Breck on North st., Newtonville last Sunday. Over 1000 people attended. Addresses were made by Deacon Earle, Mrs. Carter, Mr. Breck and others.

Wednesday evening a well attended meeting was held in Auburn Hall, Auburndale, to see what action can be taken to bring about the reopening of the foot passageway across the Boston & Albany tracks near Hancock st. E. L. Pickard was chairman. It was finally voted, with but one voice in the negative, that a tunnel should be built and resolutions were adopted and copies sent to the Mayor and to the president of the B. & A.

There could not have been a lovelier day than last Saturday for the dedication of the Bigelow Memorial Chapel at Newton Cemetery. There was a large gathering of representative citizens, including Mayor Kimball, Ex-Mayors Hyde, Pulsifer and Spear, and the venerable Seth Davis, members of the city government, leading clergymen and others. Mr. Farlow, the donor, said it was no ordinary pleasure to dedicate the chapel to the memory of one so highly esteemed. Dr. Bigelow was the friend of all, the high and low, the rich and the poor.

"How sweet at morn to hear the swell
Of the blest engine's three-ply yell."

This couplet was composed by a sufferer in the days of the obnoxious whistling of locomotives on New York and New England trains in this city several years ago, but all through this summer the peace of nights has been disturbed by the freight trains of the B. & A. road being maneuvered through Newton Centre at midnight hours. A large petition of protest has been signed.

SOULE—HUTTON

In the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York City, on Saturday afternoon, October 12, Miss Barbara Noble Hutton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hutton of Park Drive, New York, became the bride of Arthur Turner Soule, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Soule of 20 Horwood rd., Waban. Rev. Dr. Philip C. Jones performed the ceremony at four o'clock. A reception followed at the Carlyle.

Last Sunday was a very trying day for the Newton Street Railway Company. Some important changes were made at the power-station and work was begun at 12 Saturday night and was expected to be finished at 7 Sunday morning. But it was 1:30 p. m. before the engine was ready. Then the cars started, each motor car having a tow car attached, and even then the crowds could hardly be accommodated. Seventeen thousand passengers were carried last week and the total for this week will probably be greater as two extra cars have been put on every afternoon and the seats have all been taken before the cars started.

Two Young Men's clubs are being organized for the purpose of fostering closer social relationships among the young men who are its members through educational, physical and social activities. One group is composed of young men, 18 to 21, while the other group is for those twenty-one years and older.

An effort is being made to form a Y. M. C. A. quartette. This activity will enable those who are interested in singing to get together and exercise their talents. It is hoped that the group will be available for singing at the various Y. M. C. A. functions.

If enough interest is shown, a camera club will be started as a part of the "Y" program, under capable leadership. Those interested are asked to leave their names at the Y desk. Mr. Kenneth S. Dale, general secretary, spoke this past week-end at the first Young Men's Congress of the Maine Y. M. C. A. The meetings were held at the state Y. M. C. A. camp at Winthrop and Mr. Dale gave the opening and closing addresses.

Boys'

Forty-seven boys between the ages of 8 and 10 make up the present enrollment of the Cadet Division of the Y. M. C. A. They meet on Saturday morning from 9 to 12 with a program of gymnasium, swim and club work.

In the Club period, the group is divided into 6 Indian tribes, each under the supervision of an older boy leader. In addition each tribe elects its own chief from its membership. Following are the tribes and their chiefs for the year: Creeks, Frederick Roseme; Algonquins, Jerry Reed; Delaware, John Oakie; Eries, John deBruynkops; Tacomas, Max Parks; Sagamores, Alan Winterhalter.

Leaders assisting Mr. Andrew, acting boys' secretary, are Robert McKenna, Donald Weeks, Carl Eschbach, Jack Callahan and Carl Needy.

Physical

Certificates from the New England Association of the Amateur Athletic Union will be presented this week to the following boys for placing third in the Junior 300 Meter Medley Relay Championships: Morton Harrington, Robert Martin, and Brian Nolan. This relay was part of the Meet held in August at Salem Willows, Salem, Mass.

The bowling league got under way on Monday evening with four of the eight teams in action. Results showed teams No. 1 and No. 4 even with two points each at the end of the first session. Bowling for team No. 1 were: Kitchin, Tyler, Cobb, Lodge and Coombs. Team No. 2 was represented by H. Higgins, Billings, Bosworth, J. Higgins and Frye. Team No. 5 out-pointed team No. 5 three to one, the winners being: Powell, Stokes, Watt, Munroe and Burnham. Hunter, Boomermeister, Stewart, Nickerson and Jacobs bowled for the losers. Chevrolet

Meet the new Chevrolet for '41 at the Silver Lake Chevrolet Co., 444 Watertown st., Newton, and you'll meet a motor car of such thoroughly first-rate design and quality that we are confident you'll say, "It's first because it's finest—Again Chevrolet's the leader!"

For this car is the result and the reward of almost ten solid years of Chevrolet leadership in motor car sales—leadership that has brought with it unequalled manufacturing economies and unequalled value-giving powers—leadership that now makes it possible for Chevrolet to offer you a motor car which surpasses all previous levels of luxury in the lowest price field.

This new Chevrolet for '41 is a much bigger car in all ways—with a longer wheelbase and greater overall length—with longer, larger, wider Fisher Bodies—with exceptionally comfortable interiors giving "3-couple roominess," or ample space for six passengers, in the sedan models.

And it's the best-looking motor car you've ever laid your eyes on—with dashing new "Aristostyle" design—with the smartest, smoothest front and fender treatment in the entire field for '41—and with concealed safety-steps (instead of running boards)

Nash

Nash Motors, one of the old-line fine car makers, has thrown its hat into the low-priced automobile market ring when it announced its new low-priced, high economy car to compete with Ford, Chevrolet and Plymouth.

Two other series of cars, both equipped with aerodynamic twin-ignition, valve-in-head power plants, also were announced. They are the 1941 Nash Ambassador Eight and Sixes, and will be marketed in the medium-price fields.

Salient features of the low-priced car, which is to be known as the "Nash Ambassador 600," are reported as:

1. Advertised economy of from "25 to 30 miles to a gallon of fuel."
2. A new type steel body of bridge-truss construction and integral chassis frame, all welded into one rigid, twistproof unit.
3. Much more size and room than the public expects in a low-priced car. The car is 194 inches overall, and seats are nearly five feet wide.
4. Coil spring suspension on all four wheels.
5. Body styling of the torpedo type which enhances the car's bigness and gives it a low, racy appearance.
6. A newly-developed six-cylinder engine, which is designed for great economy, and to exert its greatest efficiency in the driving ranges most frequently used by U. S. motorists.

7. New type of two-way, ball-bearing steering by which the car can be turned in a 33-foot circle.

The new low-priced Nash was planned more than three years ago, not long after the merger of Nash Motors with Kelvinator Corporation to form Nash-Kelvinator Corporation, according to George W. Mason, president. He said that engineers have been working on the car for over three years, and that features and construction principles were subjected to long-term road tests.

Nash will offer its low-priced car in a large assortment of colors. They can be had in solid colors, or in the attractive two-color combinations. Matching interiors, with upholstery done in two tones, also will be available.

The now famous Nash "Weather Eye" conditioned air system for winter driving has been greatly improved for 1941, and will be available as optional equipment on the new low-priced car, the announcement states.

"The new show room of the Newton Corner Nash Co., at 321 Washington st., Newton, is indicative of the improving conditions in the automotive trade," stated Mr. Stevens, owner of the concern.

"The spacious show room has dignity and a stateliness which forms a fitting background for the beauty of the 1941 line of Nash cars," continued Mr. Stevens.

A well appointed service station and used car show room is located on Peabody st. in the rear.

Nash

The story of Nash is a story of famous automotive engineering firsts.

The first Nash car, in 1916, introduced important developments. Each succeeding new model has added to the achievements.

Today, the list of Nash contributions to American motoring is a vivid outline of a great industry's progress over a period of 25 years.

Here are some of the most important Nash developments:

Rubber engine mountings. Flexible clutch plate. Streamlined rear body panels. Complete body insulation. Twin-ignition, valve-in-head engines. Sealed check valve in radiator. Synchronized springing. Downdraft carburetor on valve-in-head engine. Enclosed mechanism on valve-in-head engine. Chilled cast-iron valve tappets. Roller-type steering gear. Manifold-sealed engines. Clutch pedal starting. Sound insulation with Sound-Mortex. Conditioned air for winter driving. All-steel body with seamless steel top.

Nash cars have been sold and serviced in Newton since 1925 by August Osterlund, Inc., 724 Beacon st., Newton Centre.

August Osterlund began his automobile experience as a repair man. He grew up in the trade, and in 1919 found himself in the general repair business. How well everyone who owns a motor car knows what it means to have the services of a truly good, trustworthy mechanic!

Those he served soon found themselves asking his opinion as to different makes of cars, and he extended his business as the Crowell Nash Company so as to include the sale of the Nash line of motor cars.

Thanks to the interest and patronage of those he has served so faithfully and well, the business soon outgrew the old quarters and the old name.

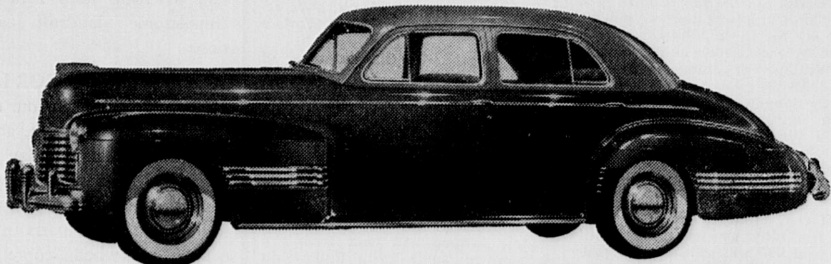

In keeping with his quiet, avowed purpose of extending improved facilities constantly to his patrons, 1929 found him established in even more spacious and attractive quarters as August Osterlund, Inc., at 724 Beacon st. These he hopes you will inspect at your convenience, and be even further convinced of the strong personal wish which he has to afford you, location, interest and service for your automobile that will commend themselves to you as absolutely second to none.

Pontiac

Spurred on by the remarkable success of its new and original Torpedo models in 1940 and with its factory and dealer organization geared up to surpass its most successful year, Pontiac Motor Division is announcing an entire Torpedo Fleet for 1941.

There will be three complete lines of cars styled in the Torpedo manner . . . longer in wheelbase . . . more graceful . . . roomier . . . more powerful . . . a low-priced De Luxe Torpedo of 119 inch wheelbase; a dashing new Streamliner Torpedo of 122 inch wheelbase and an ultra-smart Custom Torpedo of the same wheelbase. They will replace the shorter wheelbased Special Six, De Luxe Six, De Luxe Eight and Torpedo Eight of 1940.

Unusual skill and finesse has been shown by Pontiac engineers in providing all 1941 models with either a six cylinder or an eight cylinder engine.

Most daring departure in the way of streamline advancement is found in the Streamliner models whose unbroken line completely streamlines the luggage compartment and rear contour.

Powerful, Improved Engines

Pontiac continues its basic engine design of many years' standing, adding several improvements that are said to contribute more power and better performance. Plus there is a combination of expert chassis and body engineering that makes it possible to supply either the six or the eight cylinder engine with any body or chassis. Outstanding feature of that provision is the fixing of the rear anchorage of both six and eight engines at the same point so that the same transmission, propeller shaft and running gear can be used. The entire difference in engine placement is at the forward end.

In addition to their saloon where the new Pontiacs are on display, Frank Battles, Inc., 208-214 Washington st., Newton Corner, has recently remodeled a spacious heated show room where used cars of the better grade may be seen. The used car department of this firm is in charge of a group of expert mechanics, who overlook no point in reconditioning automobiles. You are cordially invited to visit the establishment.

German Consul Parking Violation Case Dismissed

Herbert Scholz, German consul in Boston, who resides at 330 Reservoir rd., Chestnut Hill, was supposed to appear in the Newton court last Friday to answer a charge of improper parking of his automobile at Newton Centre on Sept. 14. Patrolman Edward Foley was the complainant against Scholz and when the latter ignored a notice to appear before the Clerk of Court within 10 days, in accordance with the State law, a complaint was issued against him.

Relative to the notice he had received, Consul Scholz wrote the following letter to Clerk of Court Gallagher:

"The enclosed summons, addressed to me, was handed to my butler by a police officer on Oct. 4, 1940, at my residence, 330 Reservoir rd., Chestnut Hill.

"Under the stipulations of the treaty of friendship, Commerce and Consular rights, existing between Germany and the United States of America, it is stated in Article XVIII that a consular officer may be required to act as a witness in a trial pending before the respective court, subject to the provision, however, that when the officer is a national of the state which appoints him and is engaged in no private occupation for gain, his testimony shall be taken orally or in writing at his residence or office and with due regard for his convenience.

"The officer should, however, voluntarily give his testimony at the trial whenever it is possible to do so without seriously interfering with his official duties. There is no provision whatever in that article that the consular officer himself may be tried before the court.

"I should thank you, therefore, for advising me of the procedure which the court proposes to follow in the matter brought to my attention by the enclosed summons."

Scholz did not appear in court last Friday. Instead, he was represented by counsel, Edward Farmer, who asked for a continuance so that he might file a motion to have the case quashed at each door to assure easy, comfortable entrance and exit.

Moreover, when you drive this bigger, more beautiful, better-balanced car, you'll find that it fully maintains Chevrolet's reputation for dynamic performance and comfortable drive-and-ride leadership among all cars in its price range.

Because it now boasts a 90-h.p. Valve-in-Head "Victory" Engine—because it gives you extraordinary acceleration and hill-climbing ability together with even greater power and even greater economy—because it alone combines Chevrolet's original Vacuum-Power Shift, De Luxe Knee-Action with balanced springing front and rear and Improved Shock-proof Steering—because it is designed, engineered and built to be first again in over-all performance with over-all economy.

The Silver Lake Chevrolet Co. cordially invites you and your family to visit their showroom where Chevrolet for '41 is now on display—invites you to make a thorough-going test of the finest motor car Chevrolet has ever built—invites you to eye it, try it, buy it—again!

on Scholz's contention that diplomatic immunity applies to him. Judge Mayberry continued the case to Oct. 17. The Registry of Motor Vehicles was notified and Scholz's driving license suspended until a decision will have been made. Incidentally, it was not Consul Scholz who was driving the car when it was improperly parked. It was a member of his family.

Consul Scholz came to the Newton district court yesterday, accompanied by his attorney, Edward Farmer. The latter asked Judge Mayberry to quash the charge against the consul and produced a pamphlet containing the terms of the 1923 Treaty of Friendship, Commerce and Consular Rights which was signed by the U. S. A. and Germany. One of the specifications of that treaty exempts consular officials from arrests for misdemeanors. Judge Mayberry stated in reply to Attorney Farmer's argument, that he had looked into the law, and he agreed that Farmer was correct. He then allowed the request of Farmer's that the case be quashed.

Upon learning of the court decision, Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin lifted the suspension of Consul Scholz's driving license.

BEST BUICK YET!

"When Better Automobiles Are Built Buick Will Build Them"

NEWTON BUICK COMPANY

371 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON

Buick

Lift the graceful bonnet of the 1941 Buick and you'll find something sensationally new in power plants—the Buick Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight.

Designed to make the best possible use of modern gasoline, the Buick Fireball engine extracts a higher percentage of usable power from every unit of fuel, gets greater power from less gasoline.

In addition to this greater power there is the new flexibility, the new economy, the tremendous reserve power made possible by Compound Carburetion, Buick's new fuel supply system.

And with these two big developments—the Buick Fireball engine and Compound Carburetion—the new Buick is available in three power ranges, 115, 125 and 165 horsepower. Each is more powerful, more economical than last year's engines.

Along with the new engine comes Buick's dynamic Mass-Stream styling, developed at great cost to sound a new design note expressive of massive size in swift and stirring motion.

Its sweeping lines and low, broad contours provide more room for driver and passengers alike. Running boards are hidden away under the doors, assuring a clean, dry step in all kinds of weather. Doors are bigger. The luggage compartment is larger. The whole car is longer, broader, lower.

And for those who prefer the ever-popular torpedo type, several graceful models with this body style are available.

Thus you have your choice of twenty-two models in five series—the SPECIAL, SUPER, CENTURY, ROAD-MASTER and LIMITED—your choice of three power ranges—your choice of two body styles.

And whichever model you choose you may rest assured that everything about it makes it literally a car without an equal—the best Buick yet!

The new Buicks are on display at the Newton Buick Co., 371 Washington st. To see them, is to buy one.

Oldsmobile

Oldsmobile launches its 1941 season with a display of six new series—three sixes and three eights—that present the widest variety ever offered in the 43-year history of the company. There is now both a six and an eight-cylinder Oldsmobile in each of the three price fields which the company covered in recent seasons.

Oldsmobile's exclusive Hydra-Matic Drive, that eliminates clutch, clutch pedal and shifts gears automatically, is again optional, at extra cost, on all models, and, due to enlarged production facilities, promises to be a decisively greater sales factor in 1941. Increased room and comfort, greater engine power, striking new body designs, and scores of detailed improvements all bear witness to the genius for progress that carried Oldsmobile in 1940 to the highest sales marks the company ever reached.

Examination of Oldsmobile's six lines of cars reveals that in the low-priced field, this year, the Special Series replaces the "60" models of former years. Wheelbase of this series has been extended to 119 inches, and horsepower of the six-cylinder model has been upped to an even 100 from the 95 of last year. Wholly new and bound to attract keen interest in this highly competitive market is the new eight-cylinder Special Series, with 110 horsepower to give it flashing performance.

In the popular-price field, the "70" series of last year has for successor the Dynamic Cruiser Series. The bodies of this line are brand new, and are a radical departure from any previous Oldsmobile design. The name Dynamic was chosen to suggest the feeling of fleet motion conveyed by these new cars.

Common to all the 1941 Oldsmobiles is a front end design that bears a general resemblance to that of 1940, but which is rendered decidedly more effective by much heavier chrome bars and grille work.

Many details in the 1941 models reveal the ceaseless search for minor as well as major improvements that the Oldsmobile engineering staff carries on. The 1941 Oldsmobiles are on display in the newly remodeled show rooms of Frost Motors Inc., 399 Washington st., Newton.

Cadillac

For thirty-nine years, Cadillac's manufacturing policy has remained one of the few certain things in an uncertain world.

This organization, at its inception decided to give its name only to the finest motor cars it was possible to produce. That ideal has never changed. Today, as always, the sole preoccupation of Cadillac engineers and craftsmen is with perfection.

And Cadillac and Cadillac owners have thereby gained a rich reward. Owners enjoy the happy privilege of driving motor cars which the world esteems above all others, and as experience confirms—rightly so. For there is no attribute of a motor car in which Cadillacs and Cadillac Fleetwoods do not brilliantly excel.

A striking example is the new Cadillac Sixty-One—added this year to the Cadillac line. This beautiful motor car ranks with the greatest Cadillacs ever built. With true fine-car luxury, comfort, safety, and performance, it combines economy superior to that of any but the smaller cars. Yet it is priced so low that any one who pays above a thousand dollars for a car should plan on owning a Cadillac.

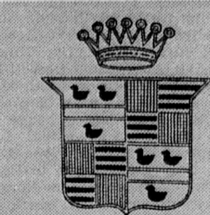

The Cadillac Sixty-One is one of the finest and most powerful Cadillacs ever built—yet it is priced in the medium-price range, and challenges small cars for economy. Models (available with or without De Luxe equipment) include: a Five-Passenger Touring Sedan... a Five-Passenger Coupe.

The Cadillac Sixty-Two is the Cadillac version of popular "Torpedo" styling. Its cost is moderate and economy is remarkable. Models include: a Five-Passenger Touring Sedan... a Four-Passenger Coupe (both available with or without De Luxe equipment)... a Convertible Coupe.

The Cadillac Sixty-Three—available only as a Five-Passenger Touring Sedan—is a completely new and exclusive body design. With matchless beauty it combines unusual economy. It is the "Sixty Special" of its field.

The Cadillac Sixty-Seven is built specifically for motorists who want exceptional size and luxury without excessive cost. Models include: a Five-Passenger Touring Sedan, with or without Formal Division for chauffeur driving... a Seven-Passenger Touring Sedan, with or without Imperial Division.

Bright New Interiors—Rich new color harmonies make interiors bright and inviting. Beautifully tailored upholstery. Striking new instrument panel in gray plastic and wood-grain finish.

New Ride—Smooth "boulevard" ride—result of new wheel-base, weight distribution, and combination of new chassis features. New slower-acting, soft-riding springs. Close balance between front and rear spring action. Newly designed ride stabilizer with swinging shackles. Big hydraulic shock absorbers, double-acting, adjustable, lever-arm type.

V-8 Engine—Only low-price car to offer an 8-cylinder engine. Refinements year after year have raised gas and oil mileage to a remarkable degree.

Star of 1941 Studebaker Line

Here is the new 1941 Studebaker Commander in the startling Land Cruiser model that caused so much conversation among automobile editors and automotive technicians during the pre-view season. The new Commander is larger, roomier and more powerful than its predecessor and its sleek, slip-stream lines by Raymond Loewy give it genuine distinction.

MURRAY-STEWART MOTOR CO., Inc. 126 GALEN STREET NEAR NEWTON CORNER

Studebaker

For style and size, the big surprise in the lowest price field is the new 1941 Studebaker Champion.

It's a bigger, longer Studebaker Champion that's lower, wider and roomier, too. This beautifully contoured new Studebaker Champion for 1941 is a substantially longer car than the Studebaker Champions of 1939 and 1940. And its low-slung, dynamic design gives it the appearance of spanning even more area from bumper to bumper than it actually does. It crouches close to the ground and its flowing effect of length and movement is accentuated by the belt line with its double bars of stainless steel that stretch back in diminishing perspective from the distinctive emblem on the hood to the sweeping rear deck.

Doors shake tight instead of loose in the Studebaker Champion because of the unique rotary door latches that are standard equipment on all models. You don't have to slam doors to shut them securely.

Front-door ventilating vanes deflect rain and snow while the rear half of the front window is securely closed. You can quickly clear the car of smoke or stale air by partly opening these nondraft vanes.

Front seat ash receiver is conveniently situated in the instrument board within easy reach of the driver in all 1941 Studebaker Champion models. An automatic lighter is available at small added cost.

The rear decks are beautifully wind-streamed—and smartly embellished with torpedo-shaped Studebaker medallion. A built-in gravel deflector stretches clear across the car under the broad rear deck.

The Custom Deluxe interiors are available in contrasting blue and gray, dark green and soft green, gold-brown and beige. Canda cloth or bedford cord. Two horns, two windshield wipers, two sun visors and two front door arm rests are standard on Champion Custom Deluxe models.

The 1941 Studebaker President and Commanders have air flight lines of Boeing Stratoliners. They lead all other cars in solid safety. You travel in them protected by an armor of steel.

Studebaker's new foam rubber cushions are restful and cool—This thick layer of resilient, body-conforming rubber combines with finest type coil springs and beautifully tailored upholstery fabrics to make every ride delightfully comfortable. The seats are lower than in former President and Commander models. The rear seat is foamed well ahead of the rear axle. Foam rubber cushioning costs slightly extra in Commander models.

The Studebaker dealer is Murray Stewart Motor Co., Inc., 126 Galen St., Watertown, just over the city line from Newton Corner. Previous to becoming established in this vicinity, this firm was located in Cambridge for 15 years, and continues to serve many of its original customers, a tribute to their reliability.

—Airport

The GRAPHIC endeavored to ascertain on what basis the $268,000 for a Newton airport had been estimated, as stated in the figures released by the Civic Aeronautics Authority, so we telephoned the office of Congressman Luce at Waltham in an effort to obtain this information. Mr. Luce's secretary, Robert Kempton, on Oct. 7th sent a telegram to the Civic Aeronautics Authority at Washington, asking for information about the proposed Newton airport. To date no reply has been received.

According to unofficial information, the area at Oak Hill which would be taken for the proposed airport includes a number of large parcels of land totaling about 300 acres. Included in the area is land owned by George S. Wilbur, Frederick Esty et al, Joseph Tomasello, William E. Wiswall, George W. Wiswall and the Robert Shaw estate.

Much of the land in the properties which might be taken for the proposed airport has been excavated in recent years by the Highland Sand & Gravel Company, and more of it, formerly owned by Joseph Tomasello, was stripped of its top coating of loam. The Tomasello property contains 1,341,648 square feet of land, assessed for $20,000, and a small building owned by Frederick Esty et al, contains 2,565,075 square feet of land, assessed for $23,500, and buildings assessed for $3200. The William E. Wiswall property contains 989,100 square feet of land assessed at $12,000 and buildings assessed at $2500. The George W. Wiswall property contains 60,160 square feet of land assessed at $1800, and buildings assessed at $5500. The George S. Wilbur properties contains 3,117,519 square feet of land assessed at $25,500, and structures assessed at $7300. These include some which Wilbur was supposed to have removed, and concerning which he has been engaged in long litigation with the city. The total assessed valuations of these properties is $102,000. This does not include the Shaw property. This property contains 183 acres and about 35 of these is meadow land abutting the Wiswall property, which may be that being considered for the airport. The assessed value on this land is probably around $10,000. The City of Newton owns 35 acres of meadow land nearby, part of its water reservation, and valued at $10,000.

Lewis Carter, 19, of 44 Woodbine st., Auburndale, was fined $50 in the Newton court on Monday for driving a car after his license had been suspended, and $25 for driving so as to endanger the safety of the public. He appealed. Early on the morning of Oct. 12, according to the testimony, Carter was chased by Natick police from that town to Newton Lower Falls, where he eluded his pursuers by driving into the gravel pit on Grove st. On a similar charge, he found William Tomlinson, Jr., of Lake st., Waltham, not guilty. The two young men were drivers of cars that collided on Sept. 25 at Webster and Elm sts., West Newton.

In court on Monday Francis Panning of Lothian st., Brighton, was fined $5 for driving to the left of the center of a street. Patrolman Mague was the complainant in the two latter cases.

EVERETT WINS FROM GALLANT NEWTON TEAM

Newton Defense Staves Off Defeat For Nearly Three Periods

A gallant Newton eleven staved off Everett's power for nearly three periods last Saturday at Everett before succumbing to the superior power of the Gildea eleven in a 14 to 0 game. Throughout the entire first half Newton's defense was keyed up to high pitch and repulsed the thrusts of Romboli, Finos, and Captain DeRosa, once holding for three downs inside the five yard line and taking possession of the ball on a fourth down incomplete pass into the end zone.

Late in the third period Everett marched deep into Newton territory for a first down on the 15 yard line. A completed pass from Finos to Leo planted the ball on the two yard line and DeRosa plunged over for the score. A pass Finos to DeRosa tallied the point after.

Midway of the fourth period Everett marched down the field by virtue of several end runs for gains of 15 to 20 yards and a Finos to DeRosa pass to the 15 yard line. Following a first down on Newton's two yard line three line plunges were stopped cold. The Newton line, backed up by the secondary, was a stonewall as 200-lb. Romboli smacked against it without avail on three consecutive rushes. Taking the ball on his fourth attempt Romboli changed his course and headed for the end, just barely outracing the Newton secondary to fall across the goal line when tackled. Another Finos to DeRosa pass tallied the point.

Joe Beatty's excellent punting was a highlight in aiding Newton in turning back repeated Everett thrusts. Vic Finos, Everett safety, also noted for his ability running back punts, was kept out of the picture as Beatty's well-placed efforts repeatedly landed within a yard from the side line to set the home team back. During the game the Newton tackling and defensive play showed vast improvement with every player getting in on the Everett ball-carrier at one time or another.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

Columbus Day weather was all that could be desired. Ninety-five archers from all over the state, from Maine and New York state gathered on the football field of the Newton Centre playground for the combined championship tournaments of the Newton Archers and the Mass. State Archery Association.

Mrs. David E. Goldich was the Lady Paramount and Henry S. C. Cummings was the Field Captain. Mrs. Carl S. Spofford was the Junior supervisor. The championship rounds for the men are the York and the American while for the women the National and the Columbia Rounds are the rule. The juniors shot a double American Round.

Thelma I. Phillips of the Newton and Waltham clubs shot a perfect end at 30 yards in the afternoon. To get a perfect end an archer must shoot the six arrows, shot in an end, into the "gold" a nine inch circle. The National Archery Association will award her a six golds pin.

The Mass. State championship cups awarded were:

Men — Championship York and American Rounds, Henry Schreiber, Waltham; York Round Cup, James Waterman, Waltham; American Round Cup, Maxwell Ellis, Springfield; Clout trophy, Philip Richmond, Newton; 60 yd. range cup, Lew Morse, Springfield; Silver Arrow for most golds shot during the day, Henry Schreiber, Waltham, 58 golds; improvement trophy awarded for the greatest improvement over last year's score was given to Ralph Power of Attleboro who had 273 improvement over last year's total score.

The women's cup awards were the Championship Cup, the National and the Columbia Rounds cups won by Thelma I. Phillips.

The Clout cup was awarded to Flora Bryant and the 50 yard range cup was awarded to Nettie Worcester Trevallion since only the champion is not eligible.

The junior championship was won by Douglas Trevallion of Springfield and the Clout was won by Dunsmore Welch.

The range prizes are given to those not placing among the first five for seniors and the first three among the juniors.

Men—John Eagan, 100 yds.; Chester Shedd, 80 yds.; Adrian Matthews, 60 yds.; Manuel Souza, 50 yds.; Charles Peeling, 40 yds.

Women—Hazel Wilson, 60 yds.; Betty Robbins, 50 yds.; Louise White, 40 yds.; Ann Howarth, 30 yds.; Junior—Ernest Bradley, 50 yds.; Letitia Doten, 40 yds.; Leo Dorfman, 30 yds.

For the Newton Championship Awards the women's open championship cup, for visitors or members, Thelma I. Phillips.

The men's open championship cup, Henry Schreiber.

All other of the Newton Archers awards will be made later.

The Newton championship medals are those designed by Cyrus E. Dalin, a charter member, and instead of being awarded as usual on the date of the championship tournament will be awarded at the annual meeting to be held about the middle of November. Since all the plans are not complete, notice of the annual meeting will be sent to all the members and friends at a later date.

Newton H. S.
VS.
Brockton H. S.

Saturday, Oct. 26
LYNN CLASS. at NEWTON

Tomorrow's Forecasts

Brockton at Newton—Newton is strong enough defensively to stop a subnormal Brockton offense. Will the Newton offense be consistent enough to score against Brockton? Our choice is Newton by a narrow margin.

Leominster at Lynn Classical—under the lights tonight this game will be nip and tuck. On the basis of records to date Leominster gets the nod by a touchdown.

Lynn English at Medford—can English stop the galloping Mustangs which dropped two at the start and then came back to topple Brockton and Somerville decisively. We will have to pick Lynn English although Medford may avert defeat and pull out a tie.

Fitchburg at Gardner—hard luck Fitchburg will take it on the chin again for its fourth straight defeat.

Haverhill at Waltham—once again we go out on a limb with Waltham. The Watch City should get on the victory road again tomorrow.

Weymouth at Brookline—the 1939 class B champions have too much power for the visitors. Another Brookline victory.

Woburn at Saugus—Woburn is beginning to move along smoothly but may have a little difficulty upsetting Little Saugus. Woburn by two touchdowns.

Norwood at Quincy—another good battle between two class B schools with Quincy having a slight edge.

Everett at Manchester—the Granite City eleven may be the first to knock off Everett this year. The Gildea outfit will not run away with their rivals unless the Manchester team is weaker defensively than pregame reports anticipate. We will pick Manchester to win—with our fingers crossed.

NEWTON HOPES HIGH FOR BROCKTON GAME

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the Dickinson Stadium the Newton High football team will endeavor to turn back the invading Brockton high eleven. Class A champions in 1939 the Shoe City eleven this year is below normal offensively although with a number of excellent ball carriers among its backs there is always the likelihood that Coach Roberts' lads will click consistently. Newton's defensive play against Everett last week was greatly improved and with Brockton rated less strong than the Gildea outfit Newton has a chance to win if the offense can get going. In its four games to date the Shoe City outfit has been scored upon to the tune of 25 points which is something unusual in recent years, but which indicates the possibility that Newton may also find the going a little easier than in the past few weeks.

Coach MacDowell has had difficulty in moulding a regular backfield for the Newton eleven because of numerous minor injuries that have necessitated constant shifts. The latest injury is a pulled tendon in Al Savignano's leg. Listed as a probable starter against Brockton early in the week the injury has necessitated another backfield shift. Bill Hooper is also a doubtful starter because of a shoulder injury in the Everett game. George Salmon, a lad who saw a few minutes of service against Everett has been coming along fast and will probably be the newcomer in the Newton backfield. Joe Beatty, John Fahey and Charley French will complete the quartet with French's status conditional upon a week's ankle which was considerably swollen on Thursday.

Fahey's return to action may give the Newton offense the needed blocking to shake the ball-carriers loose. Gus Avantaggio and Phil Fessenden will also see considerable action in the backfield.

Captain Bob Beatty will probably return to his end position although on Thursday he was regarded as a doubtful starter. If unable to start, Charley Coyer will get the call. Larry Tempesta with a bad shoulder, and Phil Walsh with a charley horse, have reduced Coach MacDowell's end strength to a minimum with Bob Beatty, Phil Teschner and Coyer carrying the load. The tackle situation is the best of the season with Kaloudian and Art Healey starting. McCarthy and Brock, reserve tackles, have been steadily improving and will relieve the regulars when necessary. Doherty and Bleiler will start as guards with Hugo getting an early call if Brockton seeps through. Although small Hugo is being showing a fire and zip that has caught the Newton coaches' eye. Undoubtedly he would be a starter tomorrow were it not for the fact that Brockton has a number of big boys among its forwards. Dick Lowry will start at centre with Bill Rangan in reserve.

Recent Events

West Newton Women's Educational Club

Mrs. Patrick J. Duncan opened the first meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club on Friday, October 11, at 2 o'clock. It was announced that Miss Marjorie Ogilvie would be the recipient of the scholarship this year. Pearl Young kept her audience in good humor with her splendid impersonations and her electric Theremin. She explained about this instrument and had several of the members try to play it with her assistance.

A delicious tea was served by the Hospitality Committee with Mrs. Raymond O. Littlefield and Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald as pourers.

The Newton Highlands Women's Club

Dorothy Canfield Fisher, noted writer-lecturer and philanthropist, spoke to the Newton Highlands Women's Club Tuesday afternoon at the opening meeting of the current season.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Vincent H. Mariotti, chairman of the program committee. Mrs. Fisher, a resident of Arlington, Vermont, is the instigator and leader of the Children's Crusade and led the great movement to place hundreds of refugee children in Vermont homes for summer vacations.

Mrs. Fisher's topic was "Refugees" and she emphasized the point that the refugee problem was not new. The speaker showed from the time of the taking of Constantinople by the Turks, the fleeing of the Jews from Spain to Holland, the coming of the Pilgrims to America, the Huguenots to England and the German Liberals of 1848 to the United States—to the present day—that each period in history had its refugee problems.

Mrs. Fisher pointed out that in each case through the centuries they had brought to their adopted land a higher type of civilization and that in many cases these nations became very powerful because of their influence. Mrs. Fisher also noted that the native lands of these refugees lost a great deal of their power—some never rising to their past glory. These peoples in a strange land, Mrs. Fisher said, did not want charity but a chance to work. They did not come with hate in their hearts, but with hope.

Newton Community Club

Dr. James Gordon Gilkey of Springfield, spoke to a large audience at the first meeting of the Newton Community Club in the Underwood School Hall on Thursday afternoon, October 10. His subject was "Keeping Serene in a Distracted World."

Elizabeth Garay DuVal, noted Hungarian concert violinist, was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Clara Lane. Madam DuVal wore a peasant costume from her native country. The dress was of white satin heavily embroidered in gay colors.

There was an exhibit of painted trays and boxes in charge of Mrs. William Loveland. Refreshments were served by Mrs. William W. Burnett assisted by Mrs. Everett Crawford, Miss Adelaide B. Ball, Mrs. Allen N. Kee and Mrs. Samuel A. Nash. The table decorations were arranged by Mrs. E. P. Leonard, Jr., and Mrs. Norman R. Milard. The next meeting of Newton Community Club will be held on Thursday, October 24, at 2 p. m. The junior members will be the guests of honor, Madeline Delight Brooks and her Seeling Eye Dog, Verona, will entertain. Miss Brooks will sing, accompanied by Miss Marjorie Johnston. Refreshments will be served.

The Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Herbert E. B. Case of Ware rd. was hostess for the Auburndale Review Club when they met on Tuesday morning, October 15th. The president, Mrs. James G. Patterson, conducted the business meeting during which Mrs. Walter Amesbury served as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Paul Tardivel.

Notices were given of the Fine Arts Conference to be held in Ashland on the twenty-second of this month and the Twelfth District Conference on the twenty-ninth at Framingham and the Fall meeting of the Newton Federation on the twenty-eighth at the Elliot Church, Newton.

Mrs. William Tenney, who has taken over the Legislative department of the club, outlined some of the bills which will come before the Legislature for action this winter.

Mrs. E. Sherman Chase was chairman for the morning and opened the program with her own paper on "The Incas of Peru." Not a pleasant picture was the story of treachery regarding the promise to these natives of gold in great quantities, and then the failure to keep these promises, and the seizure of their country.

Mrs. Susan Tuttle followed with a talk on the transportation in South America, using Stroe's "South by Thunderbird" for reference. The three main means of transportation, by air, water and land were described. The audience was told that South America has more air lines than any other country. While the schedule in the cities are reliable, the haphazard way in which trains depart in the rural communities is somewhat annoying to the traveler who is used to systems run on time.

Mrs. Charles Valentine closed the program with a paper on the "Conquistadors" a romantic and amazing story of the adventures of Cortez.

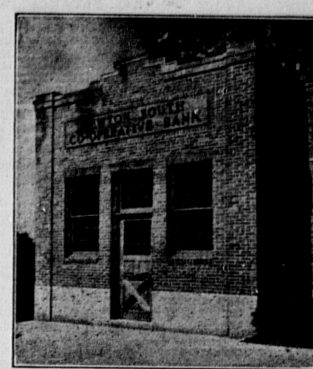

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club held its Annual Reception to new members, on Tuesday, October 15th, from 3 to 5 p. m., at the Clubhouse on Washington Park. Mrs. Frank E. Morris, president, and officers of the club were in line to welcome the new members and greet the old.

A trio from the All-Newton Music School, Doris Doehler, cello, Evelyn Hicks, piano and Martha Cleary, violin, entertained with many lovely selections.

A feature of the afternoon was the exhibition of paintings and oils, arranged by the Art Committee and loaned by the Grace Horne Galleries of Boston. They were shown on easels loaned by the Mt. Ida Junior College. The water colors included two by John Whorf, one by George Yeater, one by John Pike and a flower picture by Mary Laura Fairbanks. Among the oils were works by Richard Barnett, new director of the Worcester Art Museum, Allan Rohan Crite, Boston Negro Painter, Grace Russell and Sam Charles.

Refreshments were served by the Hospitality Committee and Mrs. Edwin P. Cawte and Mrs. George H. Tracy, past presidents, poured.

Mr. Robert A. Shepard, Executive Director of the Worcester Chapter of Red Cross, will be the speaker. Mr. Shepard was formerly Roll Call chairman of the Eastern District, and also a former Publicity Director of the National Red Cross. Members of the Newton Chapter are cordially invited to attend.

Meeting Of Lower Falls Imp. Assn.

The Lower Falls Improvement Association held a meeting on Monday night in the Hamilton School. Committee members were appointed to ask Chief of Police Hughes to assign more patrolmen to the Lower Falls section, and to ask the Middlesex Street Railway Company to improve the bus service for Lower Falls children who attend Newton High School.

The civic committee reported that Boston & Albany officials had turned down a request for a car from Lower Falls to meet the 7:54 and 8:22 a. m. expresses from Riverside to Boston, but the committee will make a further attempt to obtain this service.

It was voted to appropriate money to provide wrought-iron markers at the limits of Lower Falls village. A representative of the Newton firemen explained the reasons for the

"Take it away, mister — it's the best yet!"

OUT in the vast Buick plants you'll find men who were building motorcars when many of us were still looking forward to our first long pants.

So when these veterans talk to you about 1941 models, you're listening to Old Man Experience, seasoned by years-long, backstage in-the-know.

And straight from the shoulder, without any ifs, ands, butts or maybes, these old-timers will tell you that the Buicks now coming off the assembly lines top anything produced here since the first "one-lunger" chugged its way down the street.

It isn't only that they're handsomer carriages. Or that they're bigger, roomier, steadier with road-hugging weight and poise.

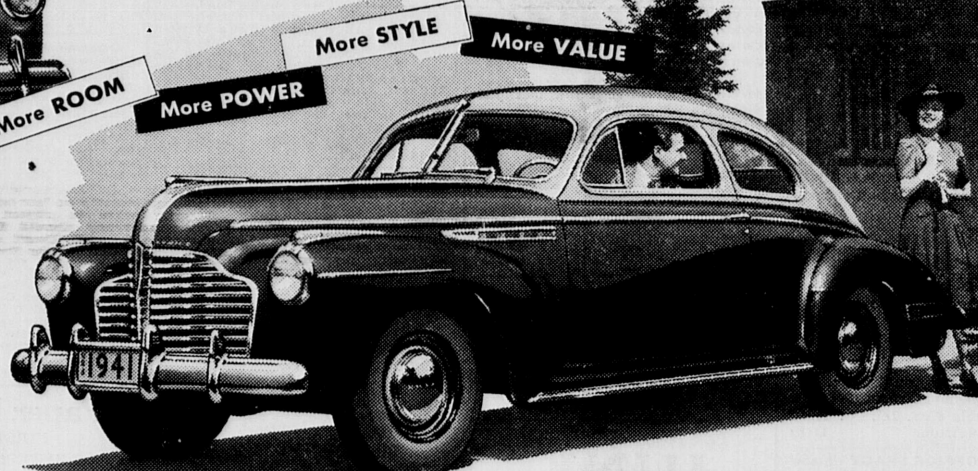

It isn't just that the new FIREBALL* engines, micropoise-balanced to vibrationless ease, carry Buick's exclusive Dynaflex principle to new heights of agile brilliance while actually getting 10% to 15% more miles per gallon.

It isn't simply that these great eager cars ride easier, handle more nimbly, surround you with travel-luxury that even surpasses the oft-praised comforts of home.

It's even more in the brawn and inbuilt-character and fine-drawn precision—in all the things you don't see about a Buick no less than in the things you can lay eye on.

For while designers were snaring inspiration on paper, while engineers were calculating new marvels, while test-crews were

Now this modelwise fellow sums it all up.

He says simply, "the best yet" is waiting for you.

He means we have never before built automobiles so good as these we offer you now.

Never before so well and durably combined so many materials, so successfully contrived to give you maximum contentment with your automobile.

Oak Hill Residents Vote Almost Unanimously To Oppose Airport There

Citizens Ask Why Plans For Airport Were Kept Secret—Are Told Protests of Residents Would Not Determine Decision

The semi-annual meeting of the Oak Hill Improvement Association last Monday night was attended by over 100 residents of that section. The principal feature of the meeting was a discussion regarding the proposed airport which would be located mostly on a large area in Oak Hill which has been excavated in recent years in connection with the operations of a sand and gravel company. Norman Hall, president of the improvement association, was in charge of the meeting and Crocker Snow, head of the State Aeronautics Commission, was present and addressed the gathering on the subject of the airport.

Mr. Snow stated that the War Department is not interested in establishing a National Defense Airport at the Oak Hill location because the site is not large enough for a commercial airport, but he favors the establishment of an airport there to serve the growing number of private flyers in this part of the State. He also stated that by taking part of the adjoining Shaw estate, the Oak Hill locus would be large enough for an army airport. According to Mr. Snow, an airport West of Boston is needed to enable the East Boston airport to be free from use by privately owned airplanes. He contended that many airports in this country are located in residential districts, and have enhanced property values. Ben Stephenson of Crofton rd., Oak Hill, asked Snow who had brought the matter of establishing an airport at Oak Hill to the attention of the Army and Interior Departments. Mr. Snow did not answer this question specifically, but stated that studies are being made of possible airport sites all over the U. S. A.

Carl Gantner of Country Club rd. asked why there had been so much secrecy regarding the airport project at Oak Hill, and why residents of that district had not been informed regarding this matter. Representative Douglas Francis, who resides on Meadowbrook rd., Oak Hill, stated that regardless of contrary statements, the matter of establishing an airport at Oak Hill had been considered by the Federal Government. Mr. Francis read a copy of a letter sent to Congressman Luce by C. I. Stanton, Director of the Bureau of Federal Airways. This letter states that the press dispatch in Boston newspapers which revealed the fact that $268,000 had been requested for an airport at Oak Hill by Federal officials, as a result of efforts which had been quietly made by a group of men, was based on data presented to the House and Senate Appropriations Committee, substantiating the request of the Civil Aeronautics Administration for funds which would be used for surveys of China and Japan in 1926 and include first-hand inquiries into conditions in Mexico, Nicaragua and the Philippines. He comes direct from his listening post at Washington primed with fresh facts and significant sidelights on the most important events and personalities in the news. He has known every President from Theodore Roosevelt to Franklin D. Roosevelt. He is non-partisan, non-sectional and non-sectarian. A large audience is expected to listen to Mr. Williams.

Six Referenda on Ballot November 5

Each registered voter in Newton is supposed to receive within the next few days from the City Clerk a circular giving information relative to referenda which will be on the ballots at the November 5th election. One is on the question of granting a two-platoon system to Newton firemen. Three deal with the matters of granting licenses for the sale of alcoholic beverages in this city. One of these is—for the sale of all alcoholic beverages to be consumed on the premises; a second which restricts such sales to wine and malt liquors; and the third permits the sale of all alcoholic beverages in packages.

The other two referenda are—
"Shall the Senator from this district be instructed to vote for legislation providing for ten dollar weekly payments to each recipient of old age assistance?"

"Shall the Senator from this district be instructed to vote for the establishment of a lottery to be conducted by the Commonwealth, the proceeds of which shall provide additional revenue for the Old Age Assistance Fund?"

Community Forum Opens Nov. 3 At High School

At the opening meeting of the Newton Community Forum on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 3rd, the speaker will be James T. Williams, Jr., former editor-in-chief of the Boston Transcript, an authority on national affairs and foreign relations. He is now contributing editor of the Army & Navy Journal. His subject will be—"Are the Real Issues in American National Defence and Foreign Policies?"

Never before have national and international affairs bulked so large in our lives as today. Never has it been so difficult to obtain reliable, first-hand information on the meaning of political and economic events. Mr. Williams has had extraordinary experience with embassies, statesmen, and international policies for over 30 years. His personal investigations range from surveys of China and Japan in 1926 and include first-hand inquiries into conditions in Mexico, Nicaragua and the Philippines. He comes direct from his listening post at Washington primed with fresh facts and significant sidelights on the most important events and personalities in the news. He has known every President from Theodore Roosevelt to Franklin D. Roosevelt. He is non-partisan, non-sectional and non-sectarian. A large audience is expected to listen to Mr. Williams.

Wants Commission To Study Charles River Conditions

G. Frederick Robinson, 80-year-old former Selectman of Watertown, descendant of early settlers of that community, and President of the Watertown Historical Society, has announced that he will introduce a bill at the incoming session of the Legislature to have a commission appointed to study conditions affecting the Charles River. Mr. Robinson states that 50 or 60 years ago there was a steady flow of water at all seasons of the year in the Charles River and above the dam at Watertown, which was then the limit of the tidal flow. He says that for many years past there has been less and less water flowing over the Waltham dam and toward Watertown, and during the summer months the river in that town is just an open sewer, with a very small amount of water flowing into it. Mr. Robinson asserts that the reason for this is—the gradual increase in the aking of water by towns and cities along the Charles River valley for local water supplies.

Mr. Robinson states that even at the source of the river, near Milford, that town has driven wells to obtain water for its supply. Medway, Millis, Dedham, Needham, Wellesley, Newton, Waltham, all obtain their water supplies from wells alongside or near the Charles River, and Cambridge from the watershed of Stony Brook at (Continued on page 4)

Recreation Dept. Granted More Use of Schools

A conference was held on Tuesday evening between the School Committee and members of the Recreation Commission relative to the use of school buildings for activities sponsored by the Recreation Department. At the last meeting of the School Committee several applications for use of school buildings for new activities were held up pending further information from the Recreation Department as to how far it intends to extend the scope of its activities.

At the conference the questions of compensation for janitor service and other expenses caused by the use of school buildings nights, were discussed. The Recreation Department agreed to make no further applications for use of school buildings this year, and to assume the expense involved in such use next year.

The School Committee then granted the applications which it had held up at its last meeting. These include a conditioning class for women at the Ward School, which is located between Newton Center and Chestnut Hill on Dolphin rd.; a metal craft class at the Hyde School, Newton Highlands; a badminton class at the Warren School gymnasium at West Newton; and the use of the Bigelow School gymnasium at Newton for basketball games.

Douglas Speaks at Willkie Rally

About 800 persons attended a Republican rally at Newton High School auditorium last Friday night. The principal speaker was Lewis W. Douglas, a Democrat and former director of the United States budget under President Roosevelt. He praised the principles for which the Democratic party stands but urged the election of Wendell Willkie for President. Mr. Douglas said:

"Because I am a Democrat I have the right to discuss the first organized effort to break a fundamental principle of American politics as deeply imbedded in our political structure, as firmly sanctioned by custom and logic, as is the constitution itself and the Bill of Rights."

"I am referring to the attempt, encouraged and supported by the most powerful political machine in all American history, to continue the same personnel in responsible positions of public power even in the White House itself, beyond the allotted two-term period. . . . The third term tradition shall not be broken."

Joe Mitchell Chapple the author also spoke. He recently wrote a biography of Willkie. Mayor Paul Goddard presided.

Two Platoon System

Special Committee of Aldermen Present Report Favorable To Adoption of Two Platoon System In Newton Fire Department

The special committee of the Board of Aldermen appointed to study the question of establishing the two-platoon system in the Newton Fire Department made a "factual report" to the Board at its meeting last Monday night. The report was delivered by Alderman Clifford Walker, who also presided over the first part of the regular meeting of the Board, as Vice-President, in the absence of President Charles Floyd.

Alderman Walker quoted at length from the report of the 1936 special committee which was appointed to study the same question. That committee was composed of Aldermen Walker, Atkins and Melcher. He commented that he did this for the benefit of the new members of the Board, so as to acquaint them with the conclusions reached by the 1936 committee. That report was favorable to the establishment of the two-platoon, provided that the cost was not too great in connection with other city needs. His references to that report, he said, were not to be construed as expressing the opinion of the present committee, which includes himself, Aldermen Inches and Schipper.

The 1936 committee reported that the two-platoon system should be adopted as soon as the finances of the city could stand this additional expense without sacrifice of more pressing needs, or unreasonable increase in tax rate. The report said—"From our investigation of the question, with regard to the protection of the citizens against fire, the welfare and morale of the men, the situation of other municipalities, and the management of other departments of our own city, we are unanimously of the opinion that a two-platoon system is greatly preferable to the present system. We believe that it will give better protection against fire, that it will give them a more normal family life——and avoid occasional dangerous shortages of crews, that it will relieve the monotony of long continued stretches of service, with existing bad effects upon morale, character and temperament,—and that it would conform to the systems in force in some what comparable departments and services in our own city, and to those in practically all other cities in Massachusetts."

The report told of the fact that Newton firemen are on duty for 48 continuous hours, except for meal periods, these totalling 3 hours each day. During meal hours the smaller companies are cut down at times to only 2 men, and larger companies with 7 or 9 men are cut to 5 and 5 men. "This impairs efficiency in fighting fires. Men at home on meal hours respond as soon as possible if they learn of fires, and Newton firemen have also been very loyal in responding to multiple alarm fires on their days off, which are one in three. Under the present system, Alderman Walker quoted from the 1936 report, the family life of Newton firemen is abnormal, with their absence from their homes for two full days and nights of every three."

Alderman Walker said that the question with which this year's special committee is concerned is the cost of installing the two-platoon system. At the beginning Chief Randlett estimated that this cost would be $80,000 the first year. The committee of the Firemen's Association seeking the two-platoon system estimated that the cost would be only $28,000, but the committee felt that under this estimate the city would receive less protection than we now have. Subsequently, Chief Randlett revised his estimate to $62,000, and the firemen's committee revised their estimate to $40,000. The Chief's estimate provides for 30 additional men and officers; the firemen's committee for 20.

Alderman Walker said that after careful study the committee of Aldermen concluded that the two-platoon system can be established in Newton at a cost of $50,000. This will provide 24 additional men and officers, including another deputy chief. It will give slightly less men than are on duty on the apparatus at the peak periods under the present system, but considerably more men than are on duty during meal hours, and during most of the day will provide better protection against fire.

In answer to an inquiry, Alderman Schipper of the committee stated that step-wise increases in newly appointed firemen's salaries, would raise the cost of the two-platoon system $6000 over a period of four years. Alderman Colby asked if employees of the Wire Division of the Fire Department will come under the two-platoon plan, as he understands that the hours these men work are even more drastic. He was informed that the State statute pertaining to two-platoons for firemen applies only to uniformed men, and does not include the men in the wire division.

Alderman Rawson asked if the New England Fire Exchange had been consulted and he was told that two members of the special committee had consulted the exchange. Alderman Schipper said that while the norm of the Fire Exchange is greatly in excess of the number of men on Newton fire apparatus, he is certain Newton's Class A insurance rating would not be changed under the two-platoon system, as this city would still meet requirements to continue its present rating. Alderman Cronin praised the special committee for its work. He called attention to the undermanning of the fire department during meal hours. These take 46 per cent of each day, and 61 per cent of fires in Newton occur during these hours. Alderman Walker said that the report of the committee is merely informative, and will not be included in the pamphlet sent out to voters.

Alderman Hughes, asked how much the $50,000 cost will add to the tax rate. Alderman McKay informed him it will add 30 cents. Alderman Temperley said the aldermanic chamber is no place for campaign speeches in connection with the two-platoon but between now and November 5 the people should get information regarding the cost. Alderman Hughes replied to Temperley and said that the discussion on the matter at the meeting was very informative, and gave information which will help in intelligent voting on this question. Alderman McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee, reminded Alderman Temperley that at the preceding meeting of the Board, the special committee had been asked to make an unbiased, factual report, and this was what Alderman Walker had done.

Opportunities In N. Y. A.

Announcement is made by John L. Donovan, Jr., State Administrator, of the increased work experience opportunity now being made available to eligible youth seeking employment by the National Youth Administration for Massachusetts.

An additional allotment of money for the National Youth Administration program in Massachusetts and a drop in the age requirement to youth who are 17 years of age and who have been out of school for 4 months or more, makes available to interested youth, work experience within the mechanical and metal trades and allied fields for which private industry has a growing demand, resulting from the productive needs of the present defense program.

Youth registration for this work experience employment may be made by applying to the local National Youth Administration Office at the Adams School, Newton, or the District Office at 25 Spear st., Quincy.

Watertown Street Truck Ban Enforced

Eight truck drivers were in the Newton court last Friday charged with violating the ordinance which prohibits trucks of over 2½ tons capacity being operated on that street between the hours of 8 p. m. and 7 a. m. Two of the eight were fined $5 each. They were Alfred Goglin of Holyoke and Bernard Lucia of North Grafton. The latter stated he was taking the place of a regular driver who was ill, and he was not aware of the prohibition. Three other drivers stated they were unaware of the ordinance and their cases were filed. The cases of three were continued until October 31.

Newton Taxpayers Association Against Two Platoon System In Fire Department According To Statement Issued by Its Secretary

The Newton Taxpayers Association, Inc., is definitely opposed to the establishment of a two-platoon system in the Newton Fire Department, states a communication received by the GRAPHIC on Wednesday from Charles E. Bailey, executive secretary of the Association. The communication is printed herewith:

The Newton Taxpayers' Association, Inc., is definitely opposed to the adoption at this time of a two-platoon system for our fire department. The question is not one of added protection for the citizens of Newton but is entirely a labor problem. At a time when national defense expenses are mounting with a corresponding increase in federal taxation, it is the patriotic duty of our city departments to economize wherever possible so that the taxpayers will be better able to meet the increased demands being made upon them for the protection of our country. The citizens of Newton once before had the opportunity of voting on the question of a two-platoon system and the vote was "No." In considering this question, which will appear on the ballot, November 5, we should ask ourselves, "Does our present fire department give us adequate protection?" For the answer, let us look at the record.

Of the group of 217 cities in this country ranging from 20,000 to 100,000 in population, there are only six graded in what is termed "Class Two" by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. There are none in class one. Out of this group of six, four are in Massachusetts and Newton is one of the four. The others are Brookline, Holyoke and Salem. All the other cities in the Commonwealth are graded lower and their citizens are penalized by higher insurance rates on their properties. Yet all of these other cities are under the two-platoon system, indicating that such a system in itself does not necessarily give better protection.

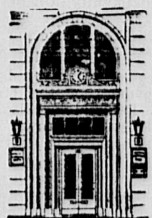

This grading for fire insurance classification is determined by the number of points of deficiency assessed because conditions are below the standards prescribed by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The total number of deficiency points is 5000 distributed over nine major items: water supply, fire department, fire alarm, police, building laws, hazards, structural conditions, climatic conditions, and divergence in grading of water supply and fire department. A city is then placed in one of ten classes according to the number of deficiency points. For example: if the total number of deficiency points falls between 0 and 500, the city is in Class One. As stated, there are none in this class. Between 500 and 1000 points places a city in Class Two, which is the case with Newton. The relative value of the actual fire department itself is 1500 points or only 30 per cent. We are not in an area where there is much expectation of tornadoes or earthquakes or danger from forest fires. We have few congested districts and very few apartment houses. All of these items are considered in grading us in Class Two.

These figures are mentioned to show that the fire department is only 30 per cent responsible for our safety in the matter of fire. The rest is due to the fact that we live in Newton where our building laws are strict and where nature provides fewer hazards. In comparing our fire losses with the other three Massachusetts municipalities graded in Class Two, we find that during the last five years—from 1935 to 1939 inclusive—Newton had the lowest per capita loss. Holyoke averaged $2.35 per capita; Salem $1.97; Brookline $1.46 and Newton $1.13. These figures are based on the population figures given in the 1930 census.

After examining these facts, you will agree that we are getting about the best fire protection of any city in the country with our present department under the able direction of Chief Randlett. The matter of a two-platoon system for Newton, therefore, is not a question of protection for the figures show that to be adequate. The whole matter boils down to a labor problem, wherein the hours will be more convenient for the men and there will be more men to do the work of the present force. It is being said that our apparatus is undermined at times—that firemen are needed to raise the biggest ladders. By all means, let us install automatic hoists on our ladder trucks so that fewer men will be needed for this operation. Also let us keep in mind that on every fire alarm in this city a minimum of three or four pieces of apparatus responds and the combined crews should be sufficient for any ordinary blaze. If the fire is at all menacing, additional alarms are sounded to call extra equipment.

It is being said that the men are working 100-130 hours a week as compared with men in industry who are working only six or eight hours a day for five or six days in the week. Let's straighten out this point. The men do not work 100-130 hours a week. They are on duty that many hours. They must be in readiness to be called to work during those hours but except for a few routine duties about the stations their time is their own, during which they can sleep, read, follow some hobby, or, if interested, they might take up something which could bring some financial profit to themselves. Not for one minute is it suggested that our men are not hard working and courageous when they are called upon to work. We have reason to be proud of the accomplishments of our firemen. They have served us well. On the other hand, we pay them well—so well, in fact, there is a long waiting (Continued on page 4)

THE TWO-PLATOON SYSTEM

In another column we print articles pertaining to the adoption of the two-platoon system in the Newton fire department. The Newton Taxpayers' Association regards the adoption of this system as a labor problem. Their stand on the matter is well worth the study of every citizen who is making up his mind how to vote on the referendum on this question on November 5th. A special committee of the Board of Aldermen, making its report at the meeting on Monday night, favors the adoption of the system. This committee has taken proposals of the firemen's association and of the chief of the fire department and prepared a compromise proposal. This plan entails the service of some twenty-four additional men and an annual cost in the vicinity of $50,000, representing approximately 30 cents per thousand dollars on the tax rate. Unquestionably Newton, the only city in the state which has not adopted the two-platoon system, owes its Class A fire insurance rating to the efficiency of the fire department. Unquestionably Newton under its present system has withheld from members of the department benefits which are enjoyed by similar municipal employees in other cities. Fundamentally the question the voters will decide is whether the time has come when Newton should extend to its fire department employees these additional benefits which have become generally adopted or whether they will again decide that the additional expense is one which they are not yet ready to assume.

ANOTHER FORUM SEASON

With events moving swiftly in an ever-changing world and with many issues beclouded and overshadowed by overlapping issues the Newton Community Forum opens another season with a topic that is of real interest to all thinking citizens. James T. Williams, Jr., well-known writer and correspondent is the initial speaker of the eighth season of the Forum. He will speak on the question "Are the Real Issues in America National Defense and Foreign Policy?" There are many live and vital issues in addition to these two important phases of the present day. How better can one grasp the fundamental situation than through such a discussion as is offered by the Forum. Not only do the citizens of Newton need the opportunities offered by the Forum but the Forum needs the support of Newton citizens in order that it may continue to offer the excellent programs of the past. Be a member of the Community Forum.

Rotary Club

The regular meeting of the Rotary Club was held Monday at 12:15 at Brae Burn Golf Club. President John Cahill presided. Singing was led by Charles Spaulding with Louis Haffner at the piano.

The speaker, Mr. Harlan Cate, export manager of the Draper, Miller, Hopedale, was introduced by Orrville Clapper. Mr. Cate has recently returned from a trip to South America and gave some first-hand observations on his trip. He stated that Colombia was settled about 400 years ago and that their ways of doing business are primitive even to this day.

He said that the people years ago had no use for Theodore Roosevelt but at the present time, through efforts of Secretary Hull and President Roosevelt, they think well of the United States. He stated that he found the business concerns were anxious to do business with the United States and that our machines were superior to similar machines coming from Japan or Germany. The machines from England were more on a par with ours.

In order to do business with outsiders, the government requires an Import License with exchange rates in the hands of the government.

Population in Argentina is roughly 12,000,000, composed of the very wealthy, the middle class and the poor. The middle class is made up mostly of foreigners who conduct the stores and factories.

Goods sold to England are sold for credit, only to be exchanged for merchandise. Argentina would like to sell some of their beef to the United States in order to create a credit.

He said that in the textile plants

he visited the help was very inefficient and the pay averaged between $2 and $3 per week.

At Colombia there was an airline started in 1919 by Germans with 100 per cent German pilots but within the past few years the pilots have all been replaced and the air lines taken over of German control.

He stated that since the war the traffic through the Panama Canal was practically at a standstill and that instead of the usual two-way traffic it was limited to one-way, while rebuilding the locks. It is being carefully protected with soldiers everywhere.

Education is gaining but the caste system is still a factor and it makes no difference how smart a person in the lower caste is in the higher schools, they could not rise above their social standing.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Mrs. Frank P. Scofield will open her home at 11 Washington st., Newton, for the monthly meeting of the Newton League of Women Voters on Monday, Oct. 28, at 2:30 p. m. Mr. Nathaniel J. Bowditch, Mr. Archibald R. Giroux, and Mr. Frederick L. Putnam, candidates for County offices in Middlesex County, will discuss "County Government." There will also be a presentation of the referendum, the Two-Platoon System and the Liquor Question, which will appear on the ballot on Nov. 5.

Pouring at the tea table following the program will be Mrs. Walter Hartstone and Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, past presidents of the Newton League.

Powers' Paragraphs

Among the new activities conducted by the Newton Recreation Department is a "conditioning class" to be conducted for women at the Ward School on Dolphin rd., Newton Centre. This class is for women residing in that district. Comments were made to us about the City of Newton through its recreation department starting an activity to "condition" women who reside in a wealthy, or comparatively wealthy section of the city. With heavy burdens on taxpayers of Newton, in common with most communities, of providing relief for thousands in indigent circumstances, a criticism could rightly be made as to why any money raised by taxes should be spent to "condition" women in prosperous circumstances. A large percentage of women in Newton keep in condition by doing housework or engaging in some other occupation. Other women play golf, tennis or badminton at their own expense to keep from becoming too obese.

We inquired of the Recreation Department regarding the "conditioning class" at the Ward School. We were informed that there had been requests for such an activity there by women of that neighborhood, some of whom had moved into this city from Brooklyn, where there is a municipal gymnasium, and that the playground has been provided for that section of the city, the Department felt that the people there are entitled to something. We were also informed that while the Recreation Department supplies the teacher for the conditioning class, the women who belong to the class pay this teacher's salary, and this activity will cost the Department and Newton taxpayers nothing. So that's that.

A few times in past years we have commented in this column on the evil caused by the sale of wine and malt to women in places having licenses to sell such beverages. We referred especially to younger women, mothers of little children who take not only little children, but even babies into drinking places. It has been repeatedly asserted by persons engaged in well-fare and social work that the widespread patronage of drinking places by mothers of young children has been the cause of a considerable increase in poverty and crime in recent years.

We have contended that one practical remedy for this evil is to change the law regarding taverns. In Massachusetts a tavern can sell all alcoholic beverages to men only, and can't keep open on Sundays. Its principal business is the sale of alcoholic beverage. It has been amended so that there will be second-class taverns (as in Quebec) where only malt and wine liquors can be sold, and to men only, much of the evil of habitual drinking by mothers of young children would be abolished. In Newton and elsewhere a large percentage of places selling beer and wine can do so only because they are granted common victualler licenses in addition to liquor licenses. These places should not be granted common victualler licenses because such licenses are (by law) only to be given to places where the principal business is the serving of food and the ordinary beer dispensary sells little food. Owners of bona fide restaurants have long been protesting against the masquerading by those whose principal business is not the serving of food as "common victuallers."

We have been told that our plan for second-class taverns would not stop the sale of liquor to women; that they could still go to restaurants and obtain the liquor. We grant that this is so. There is still another way to diminish the evil of women drinking liquor in licensed places while accompanied by young children. Amend the liquor law so that the serving of liquor to women (or men) accompanied by children, shall be prohibited. The writer is not a total abstainer, but he believes that children should get a squeal from alcohol.

The Presidential campaign, which was to have been so polite, has become quite bitter, with both leading candidates hurling charges at each other. Until the past couple of weeks, President Roosevelt did not pay serious attention to the criticisms cast at him by Mr. Wilkie, although some of the President's cabinet and others regarded as spokesmen, have been quite caustic at Mr. Wilkie's expense. The latter's attack on the President's foreign policies, his alleged acts of provocation, and their likelihood to involve this country in war in the near future, undoubtedly are changing many votes. That the President and his advisers are realizing this fact is evidenced by Mr. Roosevelt's decision to make several campaign speeches, the first of which, among other things, denied Mr. Wilkie's accusations along this line.

A few weeks ago as we listened one evening to the CBS 6:45 p. m. broadcast from its representatives in London, Berlin and Bucharest we heard Edward Morrow, who talks from London state that the British were to launch a greatly intensified propaganda campaign in the U. S. A. Obviously, there was no secrecy about this. Since then there have been many dispatches in newspapers in this country, many editorials and much advocating by commentators urging the entry by the U. S. A. into the world strife by allying itself with Great Britain to prevent Japan or its axis allies to obtain control of the Dutch East Indies, and to assist Britain in holding possession of its possessions in the Far East. Should the U. S. A. do this it would be definitely and completely in the war not only in the Far East, but in Europe, Africa, Asia and wherever the destruction of life and property will go on. The vast majority of people in this country don't want to enter the war, but if they permit a small minority to scheme and act without determined and open opposition, the future of this country is precarious, and the future of democracy is doomed.

A big majority of our citizens want to have Britain successfully resist the efforts of the Nazis, the Fascists and their allies to conquer that country. But, the participation of the U. S. A. in a world war to maintain possession of holdings in the Far East for Great Britain and the Dutch, is something quite different. The East Indies, the Malay, India, Indo-China, were not obtained by Great Britain, France and the Netherlands by democratic methods. Shall the last great stronghold of democracy be sacrificed to totalitarianism in a suicidal effort to preserve spoils of Empires?

The U. S. A., little prepared for war, and faced with the increasing menace from those countries which possess tremendous war equipment and millions of trained men, will, unless it permits persons bereft of proper vision to lead it into destruction, concentrate in defending this hemisphere from invasion. It will require all the resources it now possesses, and whatever it can produce in the next few years to protect this continent and South America. It had better not send its fleet or its soldiers to hold Singapore and Hong Kong for the British Empire, or the Dutch West Indies for their present owners. And it had better enforce a complete embargo against war materials to Japan without further delay.

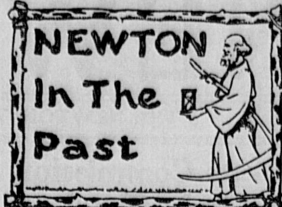

The GRAPHIC this week publishes a communication from Charles E. Bailey as "Executive Secretary" of "The Newton Taxpayers, Incorporated," opposing the adoption of a two-platoon system for Newton firemen. According to Mr. Bailey, who has been taking a professional interest in city affairs in Newton the past year, the two-platoon question is "entirely a labor problem." According to the firemen and members of the Newton Board of Aldermen, the question is more than a labor problem. Personally, I pay more attention to the opinions of the special committee of the Aldermen who have been studying this question, than I do to that of Mr. Bailey, because I know from my knowledge that they have been studying this question longer than has Mr. Bailey.

Also, unlike Mr. Bailey, they are disposed to consider both sides of the question without bias. Mr. Bailey, in his recently created position as a salaried agent of the Newton Taxpayers Association, Inc., has at times displayed a tendency to be one-sided. We mention Mr. Bailey because the publicity has gone out largely under his name. Possibly we may be doing him an injustice. He may have been only a spokesman for the officers or directors of the Taxpayers Association. We know that at times, he has not represented the views of even all the directors of the association, and certainly not that of a majority of the members, because the sentiment of the members was not obtained on some questions. We refer, for instance, to an objection made, in the name of the Newton Taxpayers Association, to a lot of land at Nahant, to protect the Stearns School from the encroachment of a large, cement block warehouse. We refer to the self-pats on the back taken by the Taxpayers Association in publicity released large savings made in the collection of rubbish as a result of efforts of representatives of the Taxpayers Association. Recently we were responsible for the correction of a nuisance caused by the allegedly more economical and efficient collection of rubbish, when our protests stopped repeated failures of the Street Department to collect rubbish in our neighborhood until barrels and other containers had been out on sidewalks one and even two days after they were supposed to have been collected.

Even admitting that the two-platoon system is entirely a labor problem (which is debatable) the fact that every city in Massachusetts has adopted the two-platoon system, leaves Newton with the doubtful distinction of being the only city in this State which has refused to keep in step with the times. The labor problem long ago ceased being just a matter of how long a man can be worked, and how little he can be paid. Humane considerations have for many years been probably the most vital factor in the labor problem. Employees in most departments of the City of Newton have been accorded improved working conditions to meet those granted in cities in general. Why should Newton firemen be the exceptions?

The 7th Annual Bridge of the Women's Division of the Democratic State Committee will be held on Saturday, Oct. 26, at two o'clock, in the Sheraton Room of the Copley-Plaza Hotel, Boston. The Stone-Coffin wedding was the opening of the social season. It is rumored that this is but the beginning of a series of brilliant weddings which young people are going to give us the coming winter. A Stone-Coffin is not so bad, after all.

We understand the numerous friends of Thomas Weston, Esq. of this city are urging him as a candidate to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Justice Gardner of the Superior Court. Mr. Weston is well and favorably known throughout the Commonwealth. He is a good lawyer and a man of unquestioned integrity and ability. His dignity of manner, uniform courtesy and freedom from snobishness would make him most acceptable to the bar and the public. No man should be appointed to a judicial position for any one qualification. With character and ability should be coupled the qualities that belong to a true gentleman. Mr. Weston is not wanting in any of these qualifications.

It's an old and hackneyed custom to accuse a police force of inefficiency and inattention to duty. This custom is still in vogue in Newton. Whenever a fire occurs or a burglary is committed, someone asks—"Where were the police?" Our police force may have its defects and need looking after, but this is no reason for an attack on the department itself. Our night force consists of 9 men and they have to cover 150 miles of streets. Effective and sufficient service can't be given considering the size of our force. If our taxpayers are willing to increase the force fourfold, and contribute accordingly, then we may expect greater protection from rogues and accidents.

The recent meetings held in Elliot Church and presided over by Evangelist Dwight Moody were both large and enthusiastic. Mr. Moody has not lost his grip on public assemblies. His popularity is due to his plain and common-sense utterances. His sentences are short, pithy and direct. If some of our clergymen would cultivate the style of using short sentences and terse language, and come down to conversational style of talk, they would surprise themselves and their audience with the increase in the power of preaching.

About 7 o'clock on Tuesday morning Rev. Father Michael Green of Our Lady's Church was found dead in his chamber at his residence, corner of Adams and Washington sts. He had been afflicted with rheumatic and heart troubles for several years. His father Green was born at Berehaven, County Cork, Ireland 50 years ago, came to this country when quite young and studied at Holy Cross College, and St. Joseph's Seminary, Troy. He took charge 10 years ago of the newly created parish of Our Lady's Help of Christians.

If we have an agent of the Society for Cruelty to Animals within our borders, he might do good to that dumb animal, the horse, by preventing the furious driving by boys employed by the various grocery and provision stores in this city. The poll being conducted by the GRAPHIC on the question of the choice of a Superintendent of Streets has been getting pretty lively and letters are coming in by every mail. The vote is as follows: George E. Stuart, 115; James F. Edmunds, 123; Arthur Muldoon, 29; William A. Prescott, 17; W. F. Harbach, 11.

To help meet special need for children's clothing—with winter coming on, The Thrift Center of Newton has asked all public schools during this week to bring gifts of clothing, shoes, and so forth.

With winter coming on, the Thrift Center of Newton needs warm clothing of all sorts to help meet the need in Newton, in line with the policy of protecting our home front. Mr. Harold P. Carver, Chairman, appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Chairman, Mrs. Abner Cohan and Mr. Kenneth W. Rogers, to organize giving of needed material by school children. Mr. Julius B. Warren, Superintendent of Schools, was most co-operative in developing plans, which have full support of principals and teachers. It is believed that, with the real need in Newton called to their attention, children and their parents will readily respond to this call to help their neighbors in this way.

All this clothing will be collected by the Thrift Center truck, which was donated by the Newton Community Chest, Inc., taken to the warehouse, sorted, later cleaned and laundered and then made available for distribution upon call of Newton's welfare and relief agencies and departments.

Shortly after this, parochial and private schools in the city will also be asked to co-operate and their civic-minded attitude assures an equally successful outcome. The public school schedule for collection and those helping are:

It is high time that something be done about installing a sewerage system in Newton. The committee appointed by the trustees of Newton Cottage Hospital have interviewed the Sewerage Commissioners, and find that the main Metropolitan sewer now being built is so far constructed that Newton can enter it by January 1, 1931. We ought to be ready to avail ourselves of the privilege just as soon as we can, and the few months that now remain should not be busy ones. There has been considerable illness the past several months from causes connected with lack of sewerage and drainage. The epidemic of malaria that started on the coast of Connecticut and gradually spread all over that state, has been creeping into Massachusetts and some cases have been reported in Newton. There have been more than the usual number of typhoid fever cases this fall. Every one will concede that prompt action should be taken in regard to sewerage before any serious epidemic visits Newton, and the soil becomes more polluted with disease germs.

PRELUDE CLUB

The first meeting of the "Prelude" Club, the only Federated Music Club in Newton, was held Sunday, Oct. 20th, at 3:00 at the home of Mrs. Osborne E. Brown, Chestnut st., Waban. The officers were installed by Mrs. Brown, who is Counselor for the club. A rhythm band was started by Mrs. John Scammon, and a short program

The Thrift Center of Newton is managed by the Newton Community Council, with the co-operation of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs and the Newton Hospital Aid Association. Its Executive Committee comprises: Harold P. Carver, Chairman; John Cahill, Mrs. Abner Cohan, Mrs. Dana M. Dutch, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, Mrs. Wm. T. O'Halloran, Mr. Kenneth Rogers, Treasurer.

The Thrift Center was organized late in 1939 in order to meet the demands for clothing, shoes, furniture and the like from Newton's private and public welfare and relief agencies needs which were not being adequately met. Since January 23, 1940, when distributions actually started, over 3,000 articles have been given out. Service of the Thrift Center is limited only by the extent of giving materials by Newton people. The Thrift Center also purchases cod liver oil in quantity and resells to private and public agencies at cost, which is much lower than they would be able to obtain it in smaller lots. This means more widespread service to babies and mothers who need this oil for better health.

NEWTON COMMUNITY COUNCIL

In order to meet the increasing interest among Newton's civic-minded men and women in volunteer service to social and health agencies, the Newton Community Council has formed a Volunteer Service Committee, which will receive applications for such service and place such applicants in work which they wish to do, as rapidly as possible. The various agencies in Newton have numerous opportunities of all sorts for such service to make their work among Newton's men and women, boys and girls, more effective and to bring their programs and results closer to the community.

The Committee held its first meeting on Tuesday morning, October 23d, to discuss preliminary plans and procedures. Mr. Harold P. Carver, chairman of the Council, appointed Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, chairman of this new committee.

As her general assistants, she has selected Mrs. John W. Gahan and Mrs. Irving Usen. Her Village Chairmen are: Mrs. Robert P. Bolster, Newton Lower Falls; Mrs. Douglas B. Francis, Oak Hill; Mrs. Herbert H. Hale, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Walter H. Heath, Waban; Mrs. Richard L. Kenney, Auburndale; Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin, Upper Falls; Mrs. Howard C. Thomas, Newtonville; Mrs. Quincy W. Wales, West Newton; Mrs. Worthington L. West, Newton Centre; Mrs. Steven B. Wilson, Newton; Mrs. Thomas S. Woods, Jr., Chestnut Hill, and Mrs. Francesco Lombardi, Nonantum.

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs is represented by Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, president, and Mrs. Frank Aurelio, chairman of the Civic Committee. Miss Cora Riley represents the schools and Miss Dorothy L. Simpson, the Newton Circle, Inc.

The Committee is now enlisting volunteers for service. Those who wish to give such service are asked to call the Committee at the office of the Community Council, Centre Newton 5121, to make appointments to talk with Mrs. Thresher.

Local Tree Company Clearing Electric Lines

When you look at the beautifully colored foliage of our Newton trees, you may get a glimpse of something golden-yellow flashing against the scarlet leaves. This will be part of the yellow and black uniform worn by the specially trained tree men engaged in clearing the lines for the Boston Edison Company.

These men are removing dead wood and clearing other limbs which might be hazardous not only to the electric service, but also to people and property. They swing safely from branch to branch in their rope saddles, and drop swiftly to the ground after completing their work. They are indeed living examples of the book entitled "Men of the Trees."

These men are employed by the Heath Tree Service, Inc., a locally owned company whose President, Milton W. Heath, is a Newton resident. Newton men and trucks go to make up the crews. This important work is handled at no cost to the taxpayers or other residents.

If you have a question to ask concerning your trees, you will receive very courteous treatment as well as a prompt answer because this organization handles all types of tree work in its several departments.

will be made by a Board consisting of representatives of the War, Navy and Commerce Departments, and allocations surveys will not be made until accurate surveys have been made of definite sites.

Mr. Francis refuted the contention of Crocker Snow that airports increased the value of properties in residential districts. He said he had made inquiries in New York regarding airports in that section, and in order that real estate values would not be depreciated, the big airports near New York had been built on waste marshland at the end of nowhere. He argued that the airport would depreciate property values at Oak Hill and vicinity, would constitute a common nuisance, and no one knows what it would cost the city.

Mr. Francis argued that the many private flyers using the airport would hover over and about the airport, with resultant noise. He said that the parties who have denuded the land at Oak Hill want to be bailed out of a very poor situation. He commented that Newton needs an airport about as much as it needs a Navy Yard.

Alderman Joseph Jamieson, chairman of the committee appointed on June 11 to study the matter of the Oak Hill airport, arrived late in the meeting. He referred to an article in last week's Newton GRAPHIC and said it had not told the whole story.

He referred to an article in the Boston Transcript of October 2 which stated that the report published in the newspapers about the proposed airports had been quite misleading, and although the Civil Aeronautics Administration had been working on this list for several years, and keeping the matter a secret, "it doesn't mean a thing." The Transcript article, however, in the next sentence said the report does mean something, that the C. A. A. submitted the tentative plans to the Congressional appropriations committees to justify the request for the $80,000,000 the Aeronautics Administration has made, but it does not mean that work will be done on half the airports proposed.

Mr. Jamieson insisted that no definite plans have been made for the Oak Hill airport. Another member of the committee of which Mr. Jamieson is chairman, had shown some what definite plans to some citizens of this city. Asked if the protests of Oak Hill residents would influence his committee, Jamieson replied in the negative.

Richard Feakes of Brush Hill rd. insisted that President Hall call for a vote to ascertain the sentiments of those present on the proposed airport. Of those present who are members with paid-up dues, 43 opposed the airport and 2 favored it. Of all present, 96 opposed to the airport, and 4 were in favor. A committee was appointed to keep in touch with the Federal and City Governments regarding the airport, to the end that Oak Hill residents will be kept informed regarding any future action relative to the attempt to establish the airport at Oak Hill. The committee includes Representative Francis, Richard Feakes and Harold Grucy of Walnut st. The latter is manager of the Framingham Airport.

Four Injured By

Drunken Driver

Sunday morning at 1:20 a car driven by Henry Mallard of 77 Hunnewell ave., Brighton, while proceeding easterly on the turnpike, was hit at the intersection of Walnut st. by a car driven by Burton Albee, 23, of Hartford. Albee's car went across the reservation and continued on for a distance of 50 feet according to testimony of Newton police. He was arrested by Sergeant Sullivan, Patromen Hoyt and Hunt on charges of drunkenness, driving a car while under the influence of liquor, driving to endanger and leaving the scene of an accident without making himself known.

Mallard's car overturned three times after Albee's car hit it. Mallard and three young women passengers in his car were injured and were taken to Newton Hospital. In the Newton court on Monday Judge Mayberry fined Albee $50 for driving while under the influence of liquor.
 He placed the drunkenness charge on file. Judge Mayberry refused to issue the complaints for driving to endanger and leaving the scene of an accident, which were asked for by the police.

In the Newton court on Monday
 James Paine of 129 Pond st., Waltham, was charged with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. His case was continued until November 4.

Two Platoon, No

list of applicants for jobs with our fire department.
 Chief Randlett has been in favor of a two-platoon system for several years, but not on any basis as now suggested by the group of men who have been active in an attempt to influence the voters in favor of a change from our present system. In the original plan outlined by Chief Randlett, the annual additional cost to the taxpayers for establishing a two-platoon system amounts to over $80,000. That is a lot of money, even for Newton.

The Taxpayers' Association has suggested that before any change be made in our present system we should have a complete survey of the entire fire department by experts who can study the matter of personnel, equipment, stations and their locations, possible consolidation of existing stations, methods of training, fire prevention as well as fire fighting, etc.
 Without doubt, changes and improvements could be recommended.
 A complete study was made of the entire department, and now that town is faced with the problem of reducing the number of firemen over a period of years as vacancies occur without the opportunity of filling vacancies with younger men, which should be done in order to keep a high standard of physical fitness in the department. Therefore, if any change is to be made in our fire department, let's not make expensive mistakes. Let us do it the right way with a complete study of survey first, and then adopt what recommendations are made. Until such a survey is made, the citizens should vote "No" on the question of a two-platoon system.

Water Com.

Lincoln and Waltham. This brook was formerly one of the principal tributaries of the Charles. He also calls attention to the diversion from the Charles of one-third of its flow into Mother Brook at Dedham, this water going into the Noponset River.

A Boston newspaper quoted Mr. Robinson as stating that the purpose of the bill he will introduce is—to compel cities and towns in the Metropolitan area now taking their water supplies from the Charles River watershed, to get water from the new Quabbin supply. Mr. Robinson asserts, however, that he was misquoted in this matter, and that he only wants the commission appointed to make the study.

Mayor Arthur Hansen of Waltham stated on Monday that officials of that city will oppose any attempt to compel Waltham to get its water from the Metropolitan system. It is more than probable that Dedham, Needham, Wellesley, Newton and Cambridge would also oppose an attempt to compel them to give up their own water supplies and obtain water from the Quabbin supply. Such a change would cause a big increase in the cost of water to most of these communities.

Newton in 1939 used 1,868,147,000 gallons of water. The cost of this water to the city was $45 per million gallons. The present cost to the city for Metropolitan water would be $113.
 50 per million gallons. On the basis of the difference in these two costs, the added expense to Newton for the quantity of water used in 1939 would have been $127,958.

FAVORS TWO PLATOON

18 Warwick rd.,
 West Newton, Mass.,
 October 22, 1940.

To the Editor:
 I wish to endorse the two platoon system for the Newton Fire Department. This system not only gives the firemen the chance to have the normal home life the rest of us enjoy, but also guarantees to the city a more adequate coverage of all posts in the department at all times.

Newton has been fortunate to have avoided a fire of the proportions of a conflagration. However, the past is no indication of future trends, and a serious fire would find us seriously handicapped. Newton is the only city in Massachusetts which has failed to provide for the populace in this way.
 Our neighbors in both Waltham and Brookline are now employing this two platoon system to the advantage of all concerned.

Sincerely,
 DAISY E. HAY,
 Former President,
 Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

 the Mutual Savings Bank near you.

The first Mutual Savings Bank in America was established in Boston in 1816. Conceived on an entirely new principle of mutuality, it has exerted a profound influence on American life. Today 192 of these strong banks serve every section in the state.

Nearly 3,000,000 people have in these banks today. Operated solely for the benefit of depositors, earnings are paid out in dividends on these savings. Hundreds of thousands also save in Christmas, tax, vacation and other clubs.

A Mutual Savings Bank is governed by a Board of Trustees—men outstanding in the community, who give their services to maintain an institution for the common good.

In the past ten years, Mutual Savings Banks have arranged mortgages for over 75,000 Massachusetts citizens for buying, refinancing or

Newton Hair Worries Are Disappearing

Since the new MOR-LOX Mullein Treatment was announced a few weeks ago, Newton residents have been discussing this remarkable natural-plant hair help, just as thousands in every section of the country did when the famous newspaper columnist George Jean Nathan told of his results from using this new relief for excessive hair fall, itchy scalp, and dandruff.

We compound MOR-LOX Mullein Treatment in our own prescription department, and recommend it as a really efficient, non-alcoholic hair and scalp aid.

You can use it twice a day for a full month for less than 3 cents a treatment, and we are confident that it will appeal to you if used consistently over a reasonable length of time, in conjunction with our suggested finger-tip scalp massage and weekly shampoo with a pure vegetable soap.

Ask us to show you Mr. Nathan's feature article on this new way to treat annoying hair disorders. We know it will interest you. See us today, before your present hair ills become worse. The MOR-LOX Mullein Treatment is available in the Newtons only at:

Bruce To Talk on Consolidation of Community Chest

The Newton Community Club and the Newton Social Science Club will be joint hostesses for the fall meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs on Monday, October 28, at the Elliot Church, corner of Centre and Church sts.

The morning session, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, presiding, will start at ten o'clock and the first speaker will be Lyscomb Bruce from the Newton Community Council. His topic will be "Consolidation of Community Chests."

Miss Adelaide B. Ball, chairman of the Health Seals Committee in the federation, will tell what is done with the money raised by these sales.

At ten thirty the various standing committees will gather for their Round Tables. A symposium with four speakers from departments connected with the city of Newton has been arranged by the Legislative Committee, Mrs. Albert S. Schaller, chairman. These include Dr. Harold B. Choate, Public Health; Mr. John B. Haughey, Street Department; Mr. James P. Reynolds, Public Welfare; and Mr. Julius P. Warren, Superintendent of Schools. Each of the speakers will present the phase of work which he supervises, and a question period will follow. Mrs. Albert Farnsworth, state chairman, will be a guest of this group.

The American Home Committee, Mrs. Robert Lindquist, chairman, and the Education Committee, Mrs. Arthur H. Shannon, in charge, will unite for this meeting to hear Dr. Amos Wilder, Dean of Junior School Andover Newton Theological School, speak on "Youth Movement and Education." Mrs. R. L. MacKenzie, state chairman of American Home will be present.

"Sanity in Art" will be the subject offered for discussion to the Art Committee by their chairman, Mrs. William M. Flye. Fearing that the modernistic style now so much in vogue, might eventually usurp the place held by the old masters, an organization with the above name has been founded, and the president, Margaret Fitzhugh Browne, a well known painter, will address this group.

The Civics Committee, Mrs. Frank Aurelio, chairman and the committee for Cooperation with War Veterans, Miss Nellie M. Osborne, chairman, will again unite, and this year the latter committee will furnish the speaker, their state chairman, Mrs. Guy Holbrook.

"What is Wrong With My Scrap Book" will be one of the questions answered at the Press and Publicity table, Mrs. Ernest F. Drew chairman. Mrs. William Worth, a member of the state committee has been invited to answer this query. Other guests at this table will be Mrs. Frances Blanchard of the Boston Herald and Mrs. Mary Mahoney of the Boston Globe. They will explain what their respective papers prefer in the way of club clippings.

At one forty-five the afternoon session will open with necessary items of business and at two-fifteen the program will start. "How your Probation Officer Spends her Day" is the topic chosen by Miss Emily M. Hickey, Probation Officer for women and children at the Newton District Court. To those who have not heard her tell what an incredible number of cases she covers in one day, her talk will convince them that she possesses rare tact and patience.

Stereopticon pictures "Seeing Fingers" by Francis Ierardi will close the day's program.

Newtonville Juniors

Square dances and Virginia Reels will be the highlights of the Corn Huskers Frolic at the Newtonville Junior Woman's Club Saturday evening, November 2, at the Club House. Miss Phyllis Stafford, the Social Chairman, has arranged to have Maurice Keough call off the numbers and lead his orchestra through the old familiar dances. Miss Louise Tardivel, Mrs. Charles Lawrence, Miss Fredrick Littlefield and Miss Katherine Driscoll will assist Miss Stafford in transforming the hall into a barn filled with hay, wheelbarrows, and pumpkins.

Mrs. Norman Woodruff and Miss Dorothy Burke will take charge of refreshments.

The Newton Hospital Aid Association

The Auburndale Review Club

The story of the three days' conference last May at Swampscott when the state federation met for its annual meeting, will be one of the features of the Auburndale Review Club on Tuesday morning, October 29. The hostess will be Mrs. James G. Patterson, president of the club and she will open her home at 338 Central st. for this meeting. Mrs. Patterson represented the club at that time in the pageant which was given depicting pioneer club women, and she will wear the same beautiful gown that she wore that evening. The property of Mrs. Guy M. Winslow, it is a replica of the gowns worn on Guest Nights when the Review Club was founded fifty years ago this winter.

Following out the year's program on South America, the three papers will include "Divisions of Development in the Americas" by Miss Elizabeth Eaton; "Temple to Friendship, the Pan American Union" by Mrs. John Williams, and "Some Latin American Fiction" by Mrs. Philip Chase.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Mrs. Robert Lindquist, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club, is in charge of the "Pot of Gold Bazaar" to be held at the Clubhouse on Washington Park, October 29th. Opening at ten o'clock in the morning, the day offers many interesting features for young and old.

Mrs. George Hinman will serve morning coffee and afternoon and evening refreshments. Luncheon and dinner will be served under direction of Mrs. Erskine Gay. Club members and their friends are asked to make reservations early.

Children's Entertainment with sound movies will be presented by Mrs. Ernest Kuebler at 3 p. m. The tickets will be on sale at the door.

The Pot of Gold will be on display and there is much speculation concerning same. Decorations in Club colors of blue and gold are in charge of Mrs. Charles Abrams Jr. There are many lovely prizes and the many articles for sale at the various tables afford a splendid opportunity for Christmas buying.

Newton Centre Woman's Club

Mrs. Arletta Ahrens will present her moving pictures of South America in technicolor at a program given by the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Tuesday evening, October 29, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Ahrens has had exceptional advantage in the buildup of her South American background. She has served as secretary to Franklin Adams and Dr. Gil Borges of the Pan American Union and to Dr. Enrique Herrera, minister of Colombia, who later became president of that country. She has traveled 17,000 miles through these countries of South America which she will show on the screen. This travelogue takes one from New York through the Panama Canal to Ecuador and its interesting cities, Guayaquil and Quito, to Peru with a trip to Cuzco and the marvelous Inca ruins of Machu Picchu; thence to Lake Titicaca, Bolivia, then to Valparaiso and Santiago, Chile and the beautiful Chilean Lake District, concluding with the spectacular airplane flight across "the bump" of the Andes from Santiago to Buenos Aires. The public is cordially invited.

Recent Events

The Newton Federation

Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, president of the Newton Federation, greeted her new Board when they met in the Newtonville Library on Monday morning, with a plea that each of them would go back to the organization which they represented, with the aim of creating a deeper interest in the federation.

There were reports of two previous Board meetings, read by the recording secretary, Mrs. Alden Spear, and notices of coming events by Mrs. Leslie Phinney, the corresponding secretary.

The president called attention to the death of one of the chairmen, Mrs. Raymond Blaisdell, and the assembly stood in silence in her memory.

Reports were made by most of the chairmen, and Mrs. Gordon Heath, for Conservation, announced that this year they would have the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce for their drive on "tagged" Christmas greens.

An announcement was made for the Round Table of the International Relations Committee, that the chairman, Mrs. Raymond Green would present Mr. Hugh Barker, who would talk on India.

Another notice which was not included in those sent previously was one for the Public Health Committee, Mrs. John MacNeil, chairman. For her speaker, she has secured Mrs. John H. Kimball, a former president of the state federation. Her topic will be "Legislation to Date on Birth Control."

The president announced that two guest speakers not listed on the program, would speak at the afternoon session next Monday. They will be His Honor, Paul M. Goddard, Mayor of Newton, and Mrs. James Dunlop, Twelfth District Director.

Announcement was made for the Sunday afternoon Forums which will start the ninth of November, and for which a list of very worth while speakers has been engaged.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

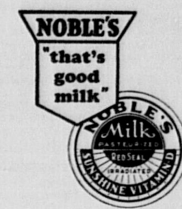

June Hamblin read "The First Lady" at the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club, Monday evening, October 21, at the club room in the Emerson School. Miss Hamblin's ability to portray the several characters of the play so vividly was most enjoyable.

Mrs. James Dunlop, 12th District Director, was the guest of the Club and brought greetings from the State Federation. Reports of the various committees were given and routine business transacted and Mrs. Thomas L. Aiken gave a detailed report of the Executive Board Meeting of the Newton Federation. A telephone bridge party will be held at the homes

Auburndale Woman's Club

Mrs. Helen Abbott Beals was the speaker at the first fall meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club held Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Everett H. Potter, day chairman introduced Mrs. Beals who gave a very interesting talk on "The Family Temperature." Mrs. Beals delighted her audience with several humorous references about our family life, and emphasized how necessary it is to keep a normal temperature in order to avoid family scenes. When talking in a more serious vein Mrs. Beals stressed the importance of the part the American home plays in helping to make better citizens.

Mrs. Wm. W. Edson and Mrs. Wm. M. Flye poured at the attractively decorated table. Dessert and coffee were served to new members in the lounge by members of the hospitality committee.

The painting awarded Mrs. Wm. M. Flye, for a prize winning art book, was displayed.

Mrs. Austin W. Fisher conducted the regular business meeting and took the opportunity of welcoming many new members into the club.

The club stood for one minute of silent prayer in memory of Mrs. W. Kirk Corey, Mrs. Herman Krueger and Mrs. Thomas J. Hurley.

awarded to the three merchants whose windows in the opinion of the judges were most outstanding.

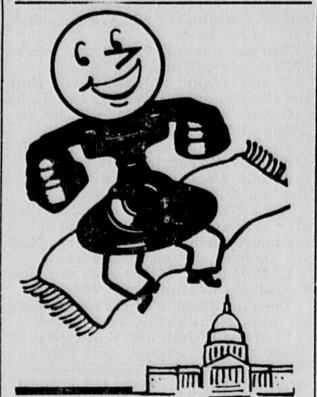

The windows were viewed yesterday by the three judges, representatives from the Newton Graphic, Newton Transcript and Waltham News Tribune, who found it difficult indeed to reach a decision among the many entries.

The co-operation given by the stores and the Newtonville Board of Trade indicated the intense interest by Newtonville merchants and insures the continuation of a program of events that will be of substantial value to Newtonville as a shopping centre.

First prize:
Hilliard's Candy Store—for a Halloween window which was timely, attractive and original. The window was trimmed by Miss Myra Preston.

Second prize:
Brigham's—for a colorful and ingenious window in which merchandise was displayed with a view to eye appeal and merchandising possibilities.

Third prize:

The contest was the first event of the fall season and was in charge of a committee composed of W. R. Willis, Samuel Finch and Bernard H. Dokton. The services of Mr. Torstin Centervall were obtained by the committee for the promotion of the contest.

We'll Put Our Money on POWER!

THERE are two ways you can go about engineering an automobile.

You can think it out or you can tinker it out.

You can get right down to the tough job of building better, livelier, abler performance into the engine—or you can fiddle around with expedients that seem to do the job.

It is plain, of course, that the sole source of car performance is the power plant.

And all engineers know that if you build in enough power and flexibility you can get the thrilling kind of performance car owners want.

Pull, pick-up, hill-climbing, economical gear ratios, less need for changing gears—you can get them all from abundant power.

The one thing that has stood in the way has been the difficulty of getting this power without also increasing the size of the engine.

Now, sweating out more power from the same size engine and the same amount of fuel is a down-to-earth, hard-work job.

NUTSHELL PICTURE

Standard-Production Engine

Basic source of this engine's peak power is the FIREBALL design which compacts the fuel charge into the shape of a flattened ball around the spark. Fired from its heart under higher compression pressure, each charge lets go with heavier wallop that extracts more power from each charge of fuel. Amplifying this is Compound Carburetion, in which the usual large carburetor is replaced by two smaller mixers teamed to work together. Only one of these carburetors functions in normal driving. The other cuts in automatically whenever it is needed to provide extra power, shuts off when the need is past. Result: Actually more power from less gasoline.

They have concentrated their 1941 creative thought on providing greater and more flexible power in the engine itself.

They have done this through FIREBALL design and Compound Carburetion—and what they've accomplished for you boils down to this:

You get more power—eight, eighteen or twenty-four more horsepower from the same size engines as last year—power that gets you off like a bullet and sweeps you up a hill like a fighter plane "going upstairs."

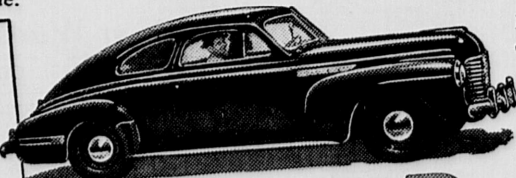

You get more mileage—from all engines and at all speeds—as much as 10% to 15% more miles per gallon and the benefits of overdrive all the time you are in "high."

You get easier car handling—less gear changing from a tremendous power reserve that pulls the hills and negotiates traffic without the necessity of dropping into lower gear ratios.

You get greater safety—from quick pick-up that lifts you surely out of tight spots, and from the full and immediate braking power of your engine without the "lag" while liquid couplings and the like readjust themselves.

Finally you get a chassis that is clean, simple and direct in design—uncluttered by intricate mechanisms that are hard to service and difficult to repair.

In brief you get basic improvement in your car's capacity for performance—and when you're spending several hundred dollars for an automobile, that's important enough to look into.
